U.S. Energy Corp. published a press release dated February 1, 2011 announcing its oil and gas capital expenditure budget for 2011.

Section 9: Financial Statements and Exhibits

Item 9.01. Financial Statements and Exhibits.

Exhibit 99.1. Press Release dated February 1, 2011.

Safe Harbor Statement

This news release includes statements which constitute "forward-looking" statements, because they contain the words "estimate," "expect" and similar words, all related to the oil and gas expenditure budget for 2011. Forward looking statements in this release relate to the number and costs of wells expected to be drilled in 2011; the number of gross and net wells expected to be drilled; the allocation of the budget amount among the identified areas and programs; and the expectation of adding meaningfully to revenues, reserves and cash flow.

These forward-looking statements are made pursuant to the safe harbor provision of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements inherently involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements. Factors that would cause or contribute to such differences include, but are not limited to, future trends in commodity and/or mineral prices, the availability of capital, competitive factors, and other risks described in the Company's filings with the SEC (including, without limitation, the Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2009 and the Form 10-Q filed on November 8, 2010). By making these forward-looking statements, the Company undertakes no obligation to update these statements for revision or changes after the date of this release.

The forward-looking statements referenced above are made only as of the date of the exhibit. We undertake no obligation to update or revise the forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
