Dominion Wines consists of a state of the art viticultural and winery operation situated on approximately 225 acres of a property in Alexander Park, Australia. The property on which Dominion Wines operates and owns is part of a 2200 acre parcel the remainder of which is owned by Dominion Estates. Such property is located 140 kilometres north of Melbourne, in the Strathbogie Ranges. The property had been identified as an ideal location for the production of premium wine grapes. World-renowned viticultural consultant, Dr Richard Smart, conducted a report, which established that the climate was temperate and akin to some of the world's premium wine growing regions, notably Bordeaux and Burgundy.

Alexander Park is a model vineyard, capable of producing premium fruit, achieved by:

- o Using state of the art trellising systems;
- o Exploring the latest techniques in canopy management;
- o Applying the Australian Wine Industries Quality Assurance system;
- o Implementing sustainable soil management principles, and;
- o Selecting the most suitable grapevine varieties and clones for the Strathbogie Region.

Dominion had its first vintage in April 1999, with all expectations of quality far exceeded.

At full capacity the winery is able to process up to 7,500 tons of fruit. Designed by award winning architect Scott Shelton, the winery is not only aesthetically pleasing, but also very practical. The winery has two functions. The first is the production our own brands, and the second function is to provide contract winemaking services for numerous Australian wine companies, presently including Southcorp.

More specific information about Dominion Wines is available at its website www.dominionwines.com.

We expect to pay off the National Australia Bank by September 16, 2004 and complete the remaining required mechanics within approximately one week thereafter.
