YOUR VOTE IS IMPORTANT
FAILURE TO VOTE = A VOTE AGAINST
THE $31.00 PER SHARE
PROPOSED AXA FINANCIAL MERGER

February 11, 2004

Did you know that your failure to vote FOR MONY's proposed merger agreement with AXA Financial is equal to a vote against the merger? It's true. And our records show that you have not yet voted.

Your vote may decide the future of your investment in The MONY Group. If you want to receive $31.00 in cash for each of your MONY shares, please sign, date and mail your enclosed WHITE MONY proxy card voting FOR the merger agreement with AXA Financial.

Time is short, so please act today.

CONSIDER THE FACTS

On February 24, MONY stockholders will meet to vote on a merger agreement with AXA Financial which, if approved, will pay you $31.00 in cash for each of your MONY shares. Your Board of Directors carefully considered many factors before unanimously concluding that the merger agreement was in the best interests of MONY stockholders. We want to make sure that you understand the reasons for, and benefits of, the merger as you reach your own decision:

Edgar Filing: MONY GROUP INC - Form DEFA14A

Cash premium for your MONY shares. $31.00 per share represents a 25.3% premium to MONY's average closing stock price over the one year period ending on the date of the merger's announcement and a return of approximately 32% over the price per share at MONY's 1998 IPO.

Full and fair value for your MONY shares. Professional Wall Street analysts who follow the insurance industry agree that the $31.00 per share cash offer represents full and fair value for your MONY shares.

No other offer or realistic alternative has emerged. Almost five months since the merger was announced, no bidder willing to pay more for MONY has emerged and no one has proposed an alternative concrete plan to produce additional value for stockholders.

If the merger is not approved, we believe the market price of your MONY stock is likely to decline. A number of professional Wall Street analysts have warned that MONY's stock price is likely to decline if the merger is not approved, based on potential rating agency downgrades and other factors. Rating downgrades could have serious negative consequences for MONY, its stockholders and policyholders.

For these reasons, among others, we believe AXA Financial's $31.00 per share cash offer is the best alternative for MONY stockholders. Now, it's your decision. Please take the time to vote your shares today.

CRITICISM BUT NO BETTER ALTERNATIVE

A handful of investors, including a Wall Street hedge fund manager, continue to criticize the proposed AXA Financial transaction. You may have received letters or telephone calls from these dissident investors, or their paid agents, urging you to vote against the merger. We believe the dissidents' interests are different than yours. Most importantly, unlike your Board, they have no legal obligation to look out for your interests.

Indeed, one of these investors has admitted publicly that it has no concrete plan to create value for MONY stockholders and that, if the merger is not approved, the market price of MONY's shares could drop. In this regard, we have reproduced a copy of our recent communication, which appeared in The Wall Street Journal, on the following page. We think you will find it of interest and ask that you consider it carefully. We believe the dissidents are asking you to pass up MONY's best alternative for creating value and we suggest that you disregard any future communication you may receive from them or their agents.

YOUR VOTE IS IMPORTANT

We urge you to carefully consider the facts and decide what's best for you and the future of your investment in MONY. Please sign, date and mail your WHITE proxy card voting FOR the merger agreement.

Should you prefer, telephone and Internet voting is available—please refer to your voting form for instructions. Remember, if you fail to vote, you vote against MONY's proposed merger with AXA Financial.

ATTENTION MONY STOCKHOLDERS

RECEIVE $31.00 PER SHARE IN CASH OR TAKE A LEAP OF FAITH

A handful of MONY's stockholders, including Southeastern Asset Management and Highfields Capital, have argued that, one day, MONY might be worth more than AXA Financial's $31.00 per share cash merger proposal. However, when asked to publicly explain specifically how this could happen, the response was as follows:

I wish I could answer that in more detail but we are just not far enough down that road.... Maybe that seems like a leap of faith to not get a specific plan....

(G. Staley Cates, Southeastern Asset Management, February 4, 2004)

The fact is that Southeastern and Highfields have not presented any concrete plan to create additional value for MONY's stockholders or any credible alternative to AXA's $31.00 per share cash merger proposal. Without the merger, Wall Street analysts who follow MONY have predicted that the value of your shares could decline, based on potential ratings downgrades and other factors. Even Southeastern agrees that, if the merger is not approved, the market price of MONY's shares could drop. (Letter to MONY shareholders from G. Staley Cates and O. Mason Hawkins, February 4, 2004)

Ask Yourself

Would you rather receive $31.00 per share in cash or take a leap of faith with a handful of disgruntled investors, including a Wall Street hedge fund, who, without presenting a concrete plan, are asking you to take a chance that you might receive more than $31.00 at some indeterminate point in the future?

Then Do What s Best for You.

Having carefully considered various strategic options, MONY s Board of Directors has unanimously approved a realistic plan to provide full and fair value to stockholders AXA Financial s $31.00 per share cash merger proposal. Wall Street stock analysts who follow MONY agree $31.00 per share is full value. Even Richard Grubman of Highfields admits, This company...at this juncture, might be worth [$31.00 per share]. (Richard L. Grubman, Highfields Capital, February 6, 2004)

DON T TAKE A LEAP OF FAITH.

Southeastern and Highfields

have presented NO CONCRETE PLAN to create greater value for MONY s stockholders.
