Disclaimer Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This semi-annual report includes forward-looking statements (within the meaning of Section 27A of the U.S. Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934) about Matsushita and its group companies (the Matsushita Group). To the extent that statements in this semi-annual report do not relate to historical or current facts, they constitute forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are based on the current assumptions and beliefs of the Matsushita Group in light of the information currently available to them, and involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors. Such risks, uncertainties and other factors may cause the Matsushita Group's actual results, performance, achievements or financial position to be materially different from any future results, performance, achievements or financial position expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements. Matsushita undertakes no obligation to publicly update any forward-looking statements after the date of this semi-annual report. Investors are advised to consult any further disclosures by Matsushita in its subsequent filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

The risks, uncertainties and other factors referred to above include, but are not limited to, economic conditions, particularly consumer spending and corporate capital expenditures in the United States, Europe, Japan and other Asian countries; volatility in demand for electronic equipment and components from business and industrial customers, as well as consumers in many product and geographical markets; currency rate fluctuations, notably between the yen, the U.S. dollar, the euro, Asian currencies and other currencies in which the Matsushita Group operates businesses, or in which assets and liabilities of the Matsushita Group are denominated; the ability of the Matsushita Group to respond to rapid technological changes and changing consumer preferences with timely and cost-effective introductions of new products in markets that are highly competitive in terms of both price and technology; the ability of the Matsushita Group to achieve its business objectives through joint ventures and other collaborative agreements with other companies; the ability of the Matsushita Group to maintain competitive strength in many product and geographical areas; current and potential, direct and indirect restrictions imposed by other countries over trade, manufacturing, labor and operations; and fluctuations in market prices of securities and other assets in which the Matsushita Group has holdings; as well as future changes or revisions to accounting policies or accounting rules.

Note: Certain information previously filed with the SEC in other reports, including English summaries of non-consolidated (parent company alone) financial information, is not included in this English translation.

II The Business

(1) Operating Results

During the first half of the current fiscal year, ending March 31, 2005 (fiscal 2005), the domestic economy in Japan showed moderate recovery in consumer spending, as well as increases in both exports and capital investment by corporations, although concerns arose regarding inventory adjustments that began in some areas of the electronic components industry and rising materials costs, including crude oil prices. Overseas conditions were also generally favorable, as the U.S. economy showed modest progress, mainly a result of proactive fiscal and low-interest rate policies, while the economy in China continued high growth, despite government policies to curb excessive capital expenditures.

In fiscal 2005, the first year of Matsushita's three-year Leap Ahead 21 plan, the Company implemented initiatives focused on product competitiveness, enhanced profitability and strengthened overseas businesses, striving to achieve global excellence and sustainable growth.

Regarding product competitiveness, Matsushita is focusing management resources into growth areas, while developing a new line of competitive V-products that incorporate proprietary black-box technologies, universal design concepts and environmentally friendly features. To enhance profitability, the Company is accelerating the business restructuring initiatives that will improve productivity, while working on further reduction of inventories and expanding aggressive corporate cost reduction projects. To strengthen overseas businesses, Matsushita is promoting simultaneous global product introductions to meet rising worldwide demand for digital products for consumer use. Furthermore, through collaboration activities with MEW, Matsushita aims to enhance corporate value by providing customers all over the world with solutions for comfortable living based on the concepts of security and brand loyalty, as well as providing products that are easy to use and inspiring.

During the first fiscal half, an unusually hot summer in Japan, rising demand for digital audiovisual (AV) products and consumer demand related to the Athens Olympics contributed to steady sales gains in digital AV products, including the V-products mentioned above, as well as Home Appliances, and Components and Devices. The consolidation of MEW and PanaHome is also a factor for the increase in consolidated sales. Accordingly, consolidated sales increased 19% from the previous year's first half, to 4,318.5 billion yen.

Regarding consolidated earnings, negative factors such as a strong yen mainly against U.S. dollar, rising raw materials costs and intensified global price competition were more than offset by sales increases resulting from the successful introduction of V-products, as well as overall cost reductions and other positive factors. As a result, operating profit* for the first fiscal half increased 96% to 156.3 billion yen.

* In order to be consistent with financial reporting practices generally accepted in Japan, operating profit (loss) is presented as net sales less cost of sales and selling, general and administrative expenses. Under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, certain additional charges (such as impairment and restructuring charges) are included as part of operating profit in the consolidated statements of income.

Income before income taxes for the six-month period more than doubled compared with a year ago, to 137.3 billion yen. In other income (deductions), the Company incurred restructuring charges of 48.2 billion yen for early retirement programs, while recording a 31.5 billion yen gain from certain subsidiaries' transfer of the substitutional portion of the Employees Pension Funds (EPF) to the Government. Net income was also up, increasing 143% from a year ago, to 56.2 billion yen.

MATSUSHITA ELECTRIC INDUSTRIAL CO., LTD.
AND SUBSIDIARIES

The Company's first half consolidated results by business segment, as compared with prior year results, are summarized as follows:

MEW and PanaHome is a newly added business segment upon their becoming consolidated subsidiaries in fiscal 2005.

AVC Networks

AVC Networks sales increased 3% to 1,883.6 billion yen. Within this segment, strong sales were recorded in such digital AV products as flat-panel TVs and digital cameras, overcoming sales setbacks in audio equipment. In information and communications equipment, sales of PCs and automotive electronics increased, but sales declines in cellular phones, telephones and facsimile equipment resulted in overall lower sales from the same period a year ago.

Segment profit increased 17% to 68.3 billion yen. This improvement was due mainly to the aforementioned sales increases of digital AV equipment, PCs and automotive electronics equipment, as well as overall cost reductions.

Home Appliances

Sales of Home Appliances increased 9% to 660.4 billion yen. Sales of air conditioners and compressors increased due to the hot summer in Japan, and washing machines and ventilating fans also recorded sales gains.

Segment profit increased 99% to 37.8 billion yen, mainly as a result of the successful introduction of V-products, sales increases in overseas operations, and cost rationalization effects.

Components and Devices

Sales of Components and Devices decreased 4% to 792.4 billion yen. Despite solid sales of semiconductors and general electronic components, sluggish sales of electric motors and batteries resulted in overall lower sales.

Segment profit increased 53% to 39.5 billion yen. Sales increases in products such as semiconductors and the positive effects of restructuring initiatives in the electric motor business more than offset the negative effects of a decrease in revenue of batteries and certain other businesses.

MEW and PanaHome

This newly added segment for fiscal 2005 recorded sales of 734.5 billion yen and a segment profit of 24.6 billion yen, mainly as a result of steady growth in sales of building materials.

Table of Contents

MATSUSHITA ELECTRIC INDUSTRIAL CO., LTD.

JVC

Sales for the JVC segment (Victor Company of Japan, Ltd. and its subsidiaries) totaled 360.3 billion yen, down 12% from last year's first half. This decline was mainly attributable to sluggish sales of AV equipment in the Americas and AV software, despite solid domestic sales of AV equipment.

Segment profit declined 54% to 4.6 billion yen. Negative factors such as price erosion in AV equipment and revenue declines, as well as a downturn in the music software business were not offset by cost reduction efforts in such areas as purchasing and fixed costs.

Other

Sales for Other increased 13% to 539.3 billion yen, a result of steady increases in sales of factory automation (FA) equipment and industrial equipment.

Segment profit increased 125% to 16.1 billion yen, due mainly to strong sales overseas of FA equipment and industrial equipment.

First-half Results by Domestic and Overseas Company Location***

* The following information shows the geographical sales and profit which are attributed to geographic areas based on the country location of the Company for the first six months ended September 30, 2004.

Japan

Sales of companies in Japan increased 22% to 3,285.6 billion yen, led by digital AV equipment such as flat-panel TVs, air conditioners and compressors. Due mainly to sales increases and rationalization effects, geographical profit rose 104% to 126.0 billion yen.

Americas

Sales of companies in the Americas decreased 2% to 643.6 billion yen from the same period a year ago, due mainly to negative effects of the weakening of the U.S. dollar. Geographical profit showed an 11% increase from the previous year's first half to 11.5 billion yen, mainly a result of rationalization effects in spite of the slight sales decline.

Europe

Strong sales were recorded by companies in this region, especially in digital AV equipment, such as PDP TVs and digital cameras, and home appliances such as air conditioners. This resulted in a 9% overall sales increase to 528.4 billion yen, while profit for this region rose 90% to 8.8 billion yen, due mainly to sales increases and rationalization effects.

Asia and Others

Sales of companies in Asia and Others were up in substantially all business segments, increasing 15% to 1,261.6 billion yen, while geographical profit climbed 16% to 50.6 billion yen, due mainly to sales gains and rationalization effects.

AND SUBSIDIARIES

(2) Cash Flows

Cash flows from operating activities

Net cash provided by operating activities in the first half of fiscal 2005 amounted to 146.5 billion yen, compared with 204.8 billion yen in the first half of last year. This was primarily attributable to a decrease in retirement and severance benefits due to the improvement of the funded status, mainly a result of the effect of the previously mentioned return to the Government of substitutional portion of EPF, while net income and depreciation allowance in the first half of fiscal 2005 increased.

Cash flows from investing activities

Net cash used in investing activities amounted to 26.8 billion yen, compared with net cash used in investing activities of 40.5 billion yen in the first half of last year. This decrease was caused mainly by a net cash inflow as a consequence of the acquisition of additional shares of newly consolidated subsidiaries on April 1, 2004, in spite of a decrease in cash provided from time deposits.

Cash flows from financing activities

Net cash used in financing activities was 157.4 billion yen, compared with 137.0 billion yen in the first half of last year. This was due primarily to the transfer of deposits from certain employees to external institutions, despite a decrease in repayments of long-term debt.

All these activities, after adding 16.4 billion yen for the effects of exchange rate changes, resulted in a net decrease of 21.4 billion yen in cash and cash equivalents during the first half of fiscal 2005. Cash and cash equivalents at the end of this first half totaled 1,253.6 billion yen.

(3) Corporate Management Strategies and Challenges

Matsushita aims to become a top global company in 2010 by pursuing the management objectives of contributing to the realization of a ubiquitous networking society and coexistence with the environment, thus providing its customers with valued products and services. To this end, the Company established the mid-term (three-year) management plan

Leap Ahead 21, and began implementing initiatives to materialize sustainable growth. From fiscal 2005, the first year of the plan, through fiscal 2007, Matsushita is implementing various measures to secure its growth track as follows:

<Principal Initiatives for Fiscal 2005>

1. V-products

For fiscal 2005, Matsushita plans to launch 71 new V-products on a group-wide basis. It targets approximately 1.5 trillion yen in sales of these products, surpassing the previous year's result. During the first half of fiscal 2005, sales of flat-panel TVs, digital cameras and air conditioners, among others, recorded strong sales of about 600 billion yen as a total for V-products. Matsushita intends to continuously develop these new V-products with emphasis on the application of proprietary black-box technologies, universal design and eco-friendly innovations, and expand the markets for these products globally, with an aim to form solid pillars of business growth.

AND SUBSIDIARIES

2. R&D and Intellectual Property Rights Strategies

Matsushita will concentrate its management resources on strategically important development themes, in line with the Company's ten-year technology vision as the core of its corporate-wide R&D strategy. Specifically, the Company will step up the development of such products as next-generation system LSIs, networkable electronic home appliances and fuel cell co-generation systems. With respect to intellectual property rights, Matsushita will further strengthen its competitive edge, by more globally establishing its patent rights, along with effective utilization thereof, for fundamental networking technologies to support a ubiquitous networking society, and standards for such products as DVD-related products.

3. Overseas Strategy

Matsushita will continue its ongoing initiatives to strengthen overseas operations as a corporate growth engine. In particular, Matsushita will further promote the simultaneous global product introduction of new strategic products. In China, as a priority region, the Company will construct the Matsushita Hangzhou Industrial Park in Zhejiang Province, which the Company views as a strategically important production hub for its home appliances business in the country. By expanding and building up production bases, the Company will target overall sales of about 1 trillion yen in this region in fiscal 2007.

4. Strengthening the Company's Financial Structure

Matsushita will enhance its earnings capability and financial structure by thoroughly conducting rationalization of materials purchasing costs and inventories reduction, as well as through other initiatives, including a cost and expense reduction project initiated in fiscal 2004.

5. Collaboration with Matsushita Electric Works, Ltd. (MEW)

Through the comprehensive collaboration that Matsushita started with MEW in fiscal 2005, the two companies seek to enhance corporate value for the new Matsushita Group with an optimum management structure being developed from a customer viewpoint. By combining each company's management resources under a unified brand/management strategy, the two companies aim to achieve synergy effects, offering solutions for comfortable living, to create greater growth opportunities and increased productivity, thus envisioning a leap towards a globally excellent enterprise. Matsushita and MEW agreed to integrate the electrical supplies, building materials and equipment, and home appliances businesses of the two companies, based upon the fundamental goal of making the best use of each company's strength in overlapping areas in R&D, manufacturing and sales. Matsushita's Panasonic Center and MEW's Shiodome Showroom were renovated to be the main corporate communications facilities for the new Matsushita Group. The two showrooms were remodeled and reopened under the new names of Panasonic Center Tokyo and National Center Tokyo where customers can see and feel Progress and Excitement first hand.

Basic Policy for Providing Return to Shareholders

Matsushita has steered management operations recognizing the importance of profit return to shareholders since the Company's establishment. Historically, Matsushita has distributed dividends at a stable level to its shareholders, however, concurrently with the implementation of its mid-term growth strategy, Matsushita aims for providing return to shareholders, taking into consideration the results of operations, in order to further implement shareholder-oriented management.

In particular, Matsushita will provide return to shareholders through dividend payments and own share repurchases, upon careful consideration of consolidated free cash flows*.

1) Dividends:

From the perspective of return on the capital investment made by shareholders, Matsushita will, in principle, distribute profits to shareholders based on its consolidated business performance. Matsushita aims for promoting stable and continuous growth of return to shareholders, while at the same time taking into consideration various factors including mid-term business performance, capital expenditure requirements and the Company's financial condition.

2) Own share repurchases:

Matsushita will implement shareholder-oriented management by enhancing shareholder value per share through a reduction, in effect, of the number of issued and outstanding shares. This will be accomplished by repurchasing the Company's own shares with surplus cash flows. Concurrently, Matsushita aims to enhance its business value by utilizing treasury stock for various business strategies.

Based upon the new policy described above, Matsushita increased the interim (semiannual) cash dividend per common share for the current fiscal year from 6.25 yen to 7.50 yen to shareholders of record on September 30, 2004, payable November 30, 2004, and also revised the year-end cash dividend forecast upward from 6.25 yen to 7.50 yen per common share (payable to shareholders of record on March 31, 2005) subject to approval at the Company's ordinary general meeting of shareholders to be held in June 2005.

If implemented, total dividends for fiscal 2005, including the aforementioned interim dividend of 7.50 yen per common share, will be 15.00 yen per common share.

* Matsushita defines free cash flows as the sum of net cash provided by operating activities and net cash used in investing activities of its consolidated statements of cash flows.

(4) Research and Development

The Matsushita Group's research and development activities are based upon the basic concept that every R&D effort must contribute to the benefit of humankind, combining development, manufacturing and sales activities with close collaboration between all business areas. The activities range broadly from basic research to product development and production engineering.

Currently, the principal R&D activities of the Company are conducted by the Advanced Technology Research Laboratories, which focus on the development of basic and long-term prospective technology of the Group, and by several other corporate R&D centers which are engaged in development of technologies in such priority areas as multimedia systems-related technology and device/environmental/energy-related technologies.

Furthermore, the System LSI Development Division is actively promoting, among other things, semiconductor research and the development of system LSIs as the Company's strategic key devices essential for multimedia businesses. Regarding production engineering, the Corporate Production Engineering Division is responsible for research and development of new manufacturing technologies as well as mechanical engineering technologies, thus giving extensive support to all manufacturing operations in Japan and overseas. Closely linked to these laboratories are activities of R&D divisions or centers at each internal divisional company or subsidiary and of development and designing divisions at various product divisions, both engaged in development of new products and new models in respective product areas. The Company is also actively seeking global collaboration in R&D functions to address global and regional market needs through a network of overseas R&D laboratories in the United States, Europe and Asia.

Matsushita's R&D expenditures for the first half of fiscal 2005 totaled 316,527 million yen.

AND SUBSIDIARIES

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

September 30, 2004 and 2003 and March 31, 2004

(1) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Description of Business

Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. (hereinafter, the Company, including consolidated subsidiaries, unless the context otherwise requires) is one of the world's leading producers of electronic and electric products. The Company currently offers a comprehensive range of products, systems and components for consumer, business and industrial use based on sophisticated electronics and precision technology. Most of the Company's products are marketed under Panasonic and several other trade names, including National, Technics, Quasar, Victor, JVC and PanaHome.

Sales for the six months ended September 30, 2004 were categorized as follows: AVC Networks 41%, (Video and audio equipment 17%, Information and communications equipment 24%), Home Appliances 14%, Components and Devices 14%, MEW and PanaHome 16%, JVC 8% and Other 7%. A sales breakdown by geographical market was as follows: Japan 51%, North and South America 15%, Europe 13%, and Asia and Others 21%.

The Company is not dependent on a single supplier, and has no significant difficulty in obtaining raw materials from suppliers.

(b) Basis of Presentation of Consolidated Financial Statements

The Company and its domestic subsidiaries maintain their books of account in conformity with financial accounting standards of Japan, and its foreign subsidiaries in conformity with those of the countries of their domicile.

The consolidated financial statements presented herein have been prepared in a manner and reflect the adjustments which are necessary to conform with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

(c) Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its subsidiaries. Significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated on consolidation.

Investments in associated companies, including the companies in which the Company's ownership is 20% to 50% and corporate joint ventures, are stated at their underlying net equity value after elimination of intercompany profits. Investments in associated companies are reduced to fair value by a charge to earnings for other-than-temporary declines in fair value.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

In accordance with FASB Interpretation No. 46 (revised December 2003), Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities (FIN 46R), variable interest entities, of which the Company has controlling financial interests through means other than voting rights, are consolidated. FIN 46R was effective as of March 31, 2004, except for special purpose entities, to which FIN 46R should be applied as of December 31, 2003. The adoption of FIN 46R did not have a material effect on the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

(d) Revenue Recognition

The Company generates revenue principally through the sale of consumer and industrial products, equipment, and supplies. The Company recognizes revenue when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, delivery has occurred, and title and risk of loss have been transferred to the customer or services have been rendered, the sales price is fixed or determinable, and collectibility is reasonably assured.

Revenue from sales of products is generally recognized when the products are received by customers. Revenue from sales of certain products with customer acceptance provisions related to their functionality is recognized when the product is received by the customer and the specific criteria of the product functionality are successfully tested and demonstrated.

The Company enters into arrangements with multiple elements, which may include any combination of products, equipment, installment and maintenance. The Company allocates revenue to each element based on its relative fair value if such element meets the criteria for treatment as a separate unit of accounting as prescribed in the Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue 00-21, Revenue Arrangements with Multiple Deliverables (EITF 00-21). EITF 00-21 was effective for revenue arrangements entered into after June 30, 2003. EITF 00-21 did not have a material effect on the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

(e) Leases

A subsidiary of the Company leases machinery and equipment. Leases of such assets are principally accounted for as direct financing leases and included in Trade receivables Accounts and Noncurrent receivables in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

(f) Inventories

Finished goods and work in process are stated at the lower of cost (average) or market. Raw materials are stated at cost, principally on a first-in, first-out basis, not in excess of current replacement cost.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

(g) Foreign Currency Translation

Foreign currency financial statements are translated in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 52, Foreign Currency Translation, under which all assets and liabilities are translated into yen at period-end rates and income and expense accounts are translated at weighted-average rates. Adjustments resulting from the translation of financial statements are reflected under the caption, Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss), a separate component of stockholders' equity.

(h) Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment is stated at cost. Depreciation is computed primarily using the declining balance method based on the following estimated useful lives:

Buildings .....	5 to 50 years
Machinery and equipment .....	2 to 10 years

(i) Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets

Goodwill represents the excess of costs over the fair value of net assets of businesses acquired. The Company accounts for goodwill and other intangible assets in accordance with SFAS No. 142. Goodwill and intangible assets acquired in a purchase business combination and determined to have an indefinite useful life are not amortized, and are instead tested for impairment at least annually in accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 142. SFAS No. 142 also requires that intangible assets with estimable useful lives be amortized over their respective estimated useful lives to their estimated residual values, and reviewed for impairment in accordance with SFAS No. 144, Accounting for Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets.

(j) Investments in Available-for-Sale Securities

The Company accounts for debt and equity securities in accordance with SFAS No. 115, Accounting for Certain Investments in Debt and Equity Securities.

SFAS No. 115 requires that certain investments in debt and equity securities be classified as held-to-maturity, trading, or available-for-sale securities. The Company classifies its existing marketable equity securities other than investments in associated companies and all debt securities as available-for-sale. Available-for-sale securities are carried at fair value with unrealized holding gains or losses included as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income (loss), net of applicable taxes.

Individual securities classified as available-for-sale are reduced to net realizable value by a charge to earnings for other-than-temporary declines in fair value. Realized gains and losses are determined on the average cost method and reflected in earnings.

(k) Income Taxes

Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases, and operating loss and tax credit carryforwards.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date.

(l) Advertising

Advertising costs are expensed as incurred.

(m) Net Income per Share

The Company accounts for net income per share in accordance with SFAS No. 128, Earnings per Share. This Statement establishes standards for computing net income per share and requires dual presentation of basic and diluted net income per share on the face of the statements of income for all entities with complex capital structures.

Under SFAS No. 128, basic net income per share is computed based on the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during each period, and diluted net income per share assumes the dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised or converted into common stock or resulted in the issuance of common stock.

(n) Cash Equivalents

Cash equivalents include all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less.

(o) Derivative Financial Instruments

Derivative financial instruments utilized by the Company are comprised principally of foreign exchange contracts, interest rate swaps, cross currency swaps and commodity futures used to hedge currency risk, interest rate risk and commodity price risk.

AND SUBSIDIARIES

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

The Company accounts for derivative financial instruments in accordance with SFAS No. 133 Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities, as amended. The Company recognizes derivatives in the consolidated balance sheets at their fair value in Other current assets, Other assets, Other current liabilities or Other liabilities. On the date the derivative contract is entered into, the Company designates the derivative as either a hedge of the fair value of a recognized asset or liability or of an unrecognized firm commitment ( fair-value hedge), a hedge of a forecasted transaction or of the variability of cash flows to be received or paid related to a recognized asset or liability ( cash-flow hedge), or a foreign-currency fair-value or cash-flow hedge ( foreign-currency hedge). The Company formally documents all relationships between hedging instruments and hedged items, as well as its risk-management objective and strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions. The Company also formally assesses, both at the hedge s inception and on an ongoing basis, whether the derivatives that are used in hedging transactions are highly effective in offsetting changes in fair values or cash flows of hedged items.

Changes in the fair value of a derivative that is highly effective and that is designated and qualifies as a fair-value hedge, along with the loss or gain on the hedged asset or liability or unrecognized firm commitment of the hedged item that is attributable to the hedged risk, are recorded in earnings. Changes in the fair value of a derivative that is highly effective and that is designated and qualifies as a cash-flow hedge are recorded in other comprehensive income (loss), until earnings are affected by the variability in cash flows of the designated hedged item. Changes in the fair value of derivatives that are highly effective as hedges and that are designated and qualify as foreign-currency hedges are recorded in either earnings or other comprehensive income (loss), depending on whether the hedge transaction is a fair-value hedge or a cash-flow hedge. The ineffective portion of the change in fair value of a derivative instrument that qualifies as either a fair-value hedge or a cash-flow hedge is reported in earnings.

(p) Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

The Company accounts for impairment or disposition of long-lived assets in accordance with SFAS No. 144. In accordance with SFAS No. 144, long-lived assets, such as property, plant, and equipment, and purchased intangibles subject to amortization, are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to estimated undiscounted future cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its estimated future cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized for the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the fair value of the asset.

(q) Stock-Based Compensation

The Company applies Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and related interpretations in accounting for its stock option plans.

As the option price at the date of grant exceeded the fair market value of common stock, no compensation costs have been recognized in connection with the plans. If the accounting provision of SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, had been adopted, the impact on the Company's net income for the six months ended September 30, 2004 and 2003 and the year ended March 31, 2004 would not be material.

(r) Product Warranties

A Liability for the estimated product warranty related cost is established at the time revenue is recognized, and is included in Other accrued expenses. Estimates for accrued warranty cost are primarily based on historical experience and current information on repair costs.

(s) Use of Estimates

Management of the Company has made a number of estimates and assumptions relating to the reporting of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities to prepare these financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(2) Acquisition

On April 1, 2004, the Company acquired 19.2% of the issued common shares of Matsushita Electric Works, Ltd. (MEW) through a tender offer, of which the Company had a 31.8% equity ownership until then, to obtain its controlling interest. This acquisition also resulted in another acquisition of controlling interest of PanaHome Corporation (PanaHome) because both the Company and MEW have 27% equity ownership. The acquired assets and assumed liabilities on April 1, 2004 are as shown below. As a result, the total assets at the beginning of the period increased 1,043,282 million yen, the balance that deducts 343,844 million yen, the Company's new basis of investment in MEW and PanaHome upon the acquisition of additional shares, from 1,387,126 million yen, the total assets acquired.

(6) Long-Lived Assets

The Company periodically reviews the recorded value of its long-lived assets to determine if the future cash flows to be derived from these properties will be sufficient to recover the remaining recorded asset values.

The Company recognized impairment losses of 12,683 million yen of property, plant and equipment for the six months ended September 30, 2004. One of the impairment losses is related to write-down of certain land and buildings at a domestic sales subsidiary to the fair value. Due to severe competition in a domestic market in addition to the decline of the market value, the Company estimated the carrying amounts would not be recovered by the future cash flows. The remaining impairment loss is mainly related to write-down of land and buildings to manufacture certain information and communications equipment at a domestic subsidiary. As a result of plans to reduce production of these products, the Company estimated the carrying amounts would not be recovered by the future cash flows. The fair value was determined by estimating the market value.

The Company recognized impairment losses of 10,623 million yen of property, plant and equipment during fiscal 2004. One of the impairment losses is related to write-down of certain land and buildings at a domestic sales subsidiary to the fair value. Those assets are currently unused and the Company estimated the carrying amounts would not be recovered by the future cash flows. The remaining impairment loss is mainly related to write-down of machinery and equipment to manufacture certain electric components at a foreign subsidiary. As the prices of these products significantly decreased due to highly competitive market, the Company projected that the future business of those products would result in operating losses. The fair value was determined by estimating the market value.

The Company recorded an impairment loss of 349 million yen of amortizing intangible assets for the six months ended September 30, 2004. The Company estimated the carrying amount would not be recovered by the future cash flows, due to severe competition in a domestic market. The Company recognized an impairment loss of 1,043 million yen of non-amortizing intangible assets, in connection with the decline of the market value during fiscal 2004.

Impairment losses for the six months ended September 30, 2004 and for the year ended March 31, 2004 are included in other deductions of costs and expenses in the consolidated statements of income.

(10) Derivatives and Hedging Activities

The Company operates internationally, giving rise to significant exposure to market risks arising from changes in foreign exchange rates, interest rates and commodity prices. The Company assesses these risks by continually monitoring changes in these exposures and by evaluating hedging opportunities. Derivative financial instruments utilized by the Company to hedge these risks are comprised principally of foreign exchange contracts, interest rate swaps, cross currency swaps and commodity derivatives. The Company does not hold or issue derivative financial instruments for any purposes other than hedging.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Gains and losses related to derivative instruments are classified in other income (deductions) in the consolidated statements of income. The amount of the hedging ineffectiveness and net gain or loss excluded from the assessment of hedge effectiveness is not material for the six months ended September 30, 2004 and 2003 and the year ended March 31, 2004. Amounts included in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) at September 30, 2004 are expected to be recognized in earnings principally over the next twelve months. The maximum term over which the Company is hedging exposures to the variability of cash flows for foreign currency exchange risk is approximately five months.

The Company is exposed to credit risk in the event of non-performance by counterparties to the derivative contracts, but such risk is considered mitigated by the high credit rating of the counterparties.

(11) Commitments and Contingent Liabilities

The Company provides guarantees to third parties on bank loans provided to its employees, associated companies, customers and end-users on housing business. The guarantees for the employees are principally made for their housing loans. The guarantees for the associated companies, customers and end-users on housing business are made to enhance the credit of them. For each guarantee provided, the Company is required to perform under the guarantee if the guaranteed party defaults on a payment. The maximum amount of undiscounted payments the Company would have to make in the event of default is 13,700 million yen. The carrying amount of the liabilities recognized for the Company's obligations as a guarantor under those guarantees at September 30, 2004 and 2003 and March 31, 2004 was insignificant.

A financial subsidiary of the Company provides guarantees to third parties on certain consumer loans of its customers. For each guarantee provided, the subsidiary is required to perform under the guarantee if the guaranteed party defaults on a payment. The maximum amount of undiscounted payments the subsidiary would have to make in the event of default is 21,037 million yen. The carrying amount of the liabilities recognized for the subsidiary's obligations as a guarantor under those guarantees at September 30, 2004 and 2003 and March 31, 2004 was insignificant.

In connection with the sale and lease back of certain machinery and equipment, the Company guarantees a specific value of the leased assets. For each guarantee provided, the Company is required to perform under the guarantee if certain conditions are met during or at the end of the lease term. The maximum amount of undiscounted payments the Company would have to make in the event of these conditions are met is 29,281 million yen. The carrying amount of the liabilities recognized for the Company's obligations as guarantors under those guarantees at September 30, 2004 and 2003 and March 31, 2004 was insignificant.

Contingent liabilities at September 30, 2004 for discounted export bills of exchange amounted to 5,238 million yen.

Sumitomo Trust & Banking and Matsushita Reach Basic Agreement on Equity Ownership and Business Operations of Matsushita Leasing & Credit

Osaka, Japan, December 22, 2004 The Sumitomo Trust & Banking Co., Ltd. ( STB ) and Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. ( MEI [NYSE symbol: MC]), jointly announced today that the two companies have reached a basic agreement regarding the equity ownership and business operations of Matsushita Leasing & Credit Co., Ltd. ( MLC ), a financial support company of the Matsushita Group. The agreement is part of continuing efforts to further enhance and expand MLC s businesses, while increasing value for customers and overall corporate value for each of the three companies.

1. Purpose of the Agreement

Within the Matsushita Group, MLC carries out functions as a financial support company essential to MEI s overall marketing strategy. Some of these functions include sales promotion activities for MEI s products, as well as providing support to local retail stores specializing in Panasonic and National brand products.

Towards the future, the strengthening of such financial support activities will be progressively more important due to more sophisticated customer needs and increasingly complex logistics channels. Strengthened financial support activities will also play a key role in the success of the Matsushita Group's total solutions business model, which combines both products and services for residential and commercial buildings.

MEI believes that this agreement will not only increase value for customers, but also strengthen MLC's financial condition from the point of view of financial risk management, thereby resulting in optimum financial support functions for the entire Matsushita Group.

Meanwhile, STB, having completed the repayment of public funds and disposal of non-performing loans, is pursuing strategic alliances to expand its customer base, while improving overall profitability. By enhancing MLC's businesses and providing trust and other financial services to an extensive customer base, STB aims to achieve sustainable growth in consolidated earnings.

Also, as a result of this agreement, MLC aims to maintain the trust and loyalty of customers and to achieve further growth as a comprehensive financial services company. MLC will therefore continue providing support to local retail stores while also taking advantage of STB's considerable know-how in the areas of financial and trust-related services, thereby not only enhancing financial services for corporate customers, but also augmenting existing leasing and credit operations, and expanding into areas such as factoring services (acquisition of accounts receivable etc.) and consulting-style marketing of financial service products to individual customers.

STB, MEI and MLC believe that this agreement will ultimately result in both increased value for customers and enhanced overall corporate value for each of the three companies.

2. Details of the Agreement

(1) Share ownership

STB will purchase approximately 60% of the total issued shares of MLC, whereby MLC will become a consolidated subsidiary of STB.

After the purchase of shares by STB, MEI will own approximately 34% of the total issued shares of MLC, whereby MLC will become an equity method company of MEI.

(2) Share purchase price

The purchase price will be determined upon completion of due diligence, the results of an evaluation of MLC's shares by outside financial advisors and other necessary steps.

(3) New company name

Sumishin Matsushita Financial Services Co., Ltd. (tentative name)

(4) President

The president of MLC will be appointed by STB after the completion of the share purchase.

(5) Joint operations

STB and MEI will, through MLC, cooperate in developing new financing services that can contribute to the business expansion for the Matsushita Group as a whole.

(6) Main areas of business

Corporate customers (including the Matsushita Group): leasing, factoring, loan, credit and other services.

Individual customers (including employees of the Matsushita Group): credit, loan, trust agent, asset management consultation and other services.
