Key Information

September 16, 2010

Key Points:

1. Growth: A unique opportunity for Clearwater Paper to establish a national manufacturing presence as a papermaker and converter.
2. New markets: The complementary resources to support our strategy to grow the private label grocery store business while providing the ability to diversify into new channels.
3. Efficiencies: This will improve our ability to efficiently manage the tissue business, serve customers and meet market demands.

Overview:

The acquisition is a unique opportunity for Clearwater Paper to establish a national manufacturing presence as a papermaker and converter. The complementary resources of the two companies support our strategy to grow the private label grocery store business while providing the ability to diversify into new channels. The bottom line is the acquisition improves our ability to efficiently manage our tissue business, serve customers and meet market demands.

Key Information with Supporting Points:

1. Growth: A unique opportunity for Clearwater Paper to establish a stronger national manufacturing presence as a papermaker and converter.
 - a. Move from premier private label grocery supplier toward premier private label tissue manufacturer
 - i. Significantly expands tissue manufacturing footprint
 - ii. Enhances Clearwater Paper's ability to serve grocery customers in the East and Midwest
 - iii. Provides an opportunity to pursue regional grocery chains
 - iv. The acquisition is expected to initially increase Clearwater Paper's converted private label tissue capacity to approximately 358,000 tons. The additional available hard roll capacity could eventually double the tons of converted case output for Clearwater Paper.
 - b. Clearwater Paper currently has a national sales footprint; this will provide a national manufacturing footprint
 - i. Creates a strong national network of facilities
 1. Remain committed to supplying environmentally verified tissue products to consumers
 2. Maintain the high-quality standards for certified tissue products
 - ii. Clearwater Paper has facilities in the West and Chicago and soon in North Carolina
 - iii. Cellu Tissue facilities clustered in East and Midwest
 1. Has continued to expand converting capacity
 2. Facility locations a good fit for our national sales footprint
 - c. Good opportunity that grows the tissue and converting business, while providing opportunities for long-term and short-term shareholder benefits

Edgar Filing: Cellu Tissue Holdings, Inc. - Form DFAN14A

- i. Expected to be accretive to earnings
 - ii. Leverages our balance sheet
 - iii. Invests our cash
2. New markets: The complementary resources support our strategy to grow the private label grocery store business while providing the capacity to diversify into new channels.
- a. Clearwater Paper believes Cellu Tissue's converting capacity will move us into diverse markets more quickly
 - b. Added tissue paper production capacity will be used for external parent roll sales and give us new opportunities in converted retail and away-from-home product sales.
 - c. Both potential short-term and long-term benefits

- i. Adds immediate new through air dried (TAD) capacity
 - ii. Supports growth strategy while new tissue and converting facility in Shelby, N.C. is under construction
 - iii. Provides Clearwater Paper with needed TAD capacity and geographic distribution through:
 - 1. Las Vegas
 - 2. North Carolina
 - 3. Ontario, Canada
 - iv. Provides flexibility of paper supply needed to execute our business
- d. Seeds Clearwater Paper into new customer channels not just grocery.
- i. Mass merchandizing
 - ii. Dollar stores
 - iii. Small away-from-home business
3. Efficiencies: This will improve our ability to efficiently manage the tissue business, serve customers and meet market demands.
- a. Improves logistics
 - i. Better shipping flexibility and control
 - ii. Better geographic distribution of facilities
 - b. Improves customer service
 - i. Customers depend on a supplier for accurate and on-time deliveries
 - ii. Offers closer manufacturing locales

iii. Increased capacity

c. Creates economies of scale

i. Creates additional volume purchasing power (e.g. pulp, natural gas, chemicals, etc.)

ii. Better able to manage major materials costs

(Clearwater Paper stakeholder email letter)

Dear [valued stakeholder/partner],

I am writing to share some important news regarding Clearwater Paper. Today we announced that we have entered into an agreement to acquire Cellu Tissue, marking a major milestone for both companies and the communities in which they operate.

Clearwater Paper is focused on expanding our tissue business. We initiated that process when construction began on a new converting and tissue machine facilities at Shelby, North Carolina. Acquiring Cellu Tissue accelerates our tissue expansion strategy, providing us an opportunity to gain an immediate national manufacturing presence to match our already national sales footprint. It also allows us to build on the successes we have experienced in the communities we already call home.

Additionally, we expect the acquisition will allow us to provide more comprehensive service to our existing customers and enable us to take advantage of new opportunities. We anticipate the acquisition will enhance our ability to enter new tissue channels with the new capacity and significantly improve our overall logistics through shipping and transportation synergies.

These are exciting times for Clearwater Paper, our employees and the communities we are proud to be a part of. Thank you for your continued support as we grow the Clearwater Paper family.

Please contact _____ if you have questions.

Sincerely,

Clearwater Paper
