$$a = V \times r / [1 - 1 / (1 + r)^n]$$

a: Net income of land use right / annual rent (assuming that the annual rent for the term of land use right in future stays the same)

V: Price of land use right (with reference to the available local land market price)

r: Capitalisation ratio (with reference to the benchmark interest rate for five-year term national debt)

n: Term of land use right in future (30 years)

6. REASONS FOR CONDUCTING THE TRANSACTION AND ITS IMPACT ON THE COMPANY

Chenshan Oil Depot Area came into operation in the 1970s and was previously used to store, and provide transshipment service of, low sulphur crude oil for the Company and raw materials, including C3 and C4, for Golden Conti Company. Since very large crude carriers (VLCC) may not be able to dock at the jetty at Chenshan Oil Depot Area which is a shallow-draft jetty with low tonnage capacity, products were transported via multiple short trips after unloading the crude oil from vessels to small boats. With the completion of the construction and the commencement of the operation of Sinopec's large deepwater crude oil terminal at Daxie Island and its Ningbo-Shanghai-Nanjing Pipeline, the transport via the Ningbo-Shanghai-Nanjing Pipeline of the crude oil procured by us has been on an increase in order to lower the transport cost and the shipping loss. Further, the completion of the construction as well as the commencement of the operation of the Company's Refinery Revamping and Expansion Project in December 2012 has enhanced our crude oil processing capacity and depth of processing and enabled the Company to move a step forward to improve its crude oil processing business with respect to inferior and heavy crude oil, and there is basically no need to use the low sulphur crude oil any longer, and accordingly the low sulphur crude oil storage function of Chenshan Oil Depot Area has been further impaired. In order to revitalise the assets, the Company proposes to lease out all its storage facilities located at Chenshan Oil Depot Area other than the 10# jetty used by Golden Conti Company. Further, since the Refinery Revamping and Expansion Project came into operation, the refined oil production capacity of the Company has expanded over 90% compared to its original capacity with a possible increase of the refined oil production capacity of around more than 4.6 million tons on an annual basis, there is a pressing need to resolve issues relating to the transshipment and the expansion into Jiangsu and Zhejiang markets of refined oil. As East China Sales Company is a customer of the Company in respect of its sale of the refined oil products, its lease of the Leased Assets located at Chenshan Oil Depot Area from the Company plays a primary role in realising the transshipment of refined oil products of the Company and in tapping into Jiangsu and Zhejiang markets via Zhejiang-Suzhou Pipeline.

As a result of the Transaction, the economic contribution arising from the large deepwater crude oil terminal at Daxie Island and Ningbo-Shanghai-Nanjing Pipeline to the Company in lowering its crude oil transport cost and shipping loss may be materialised to the fullest extent possible, and the assets of the Company may also be revitalised at the same time, which are instrumental for supporting the efforts of the Company in the transshipment of the refined oil and the expansion into the Jiangsu and Zhejiang markets as well as in bringing reasonable rental income to the Company on a continuous basis.

7. IMPLICATIONS UNDER THE SSE LISTING RULES AND HKSE LISTING RULES

The Transaction constitutes a related party transaction of the Company under the SSE Listing Rules, and also a continuing connected transaction of the Company under the HKSE Listing Rules. Since each of the applicable percentage ratios (other than the profit ratio) in respect of the annual cap of the Transaction for the year ending 31 December 2013 will exceed 0.1% but be less than 5%, the Transaction is subject to the reporting and announcement requirements but is exempt from the independent shareholders' approval requirement under Chapter 14A of the HKSE Listing Rules.

8. GENERAL INFORMATION

The Company is a highly integrated petrochemical enterprise and its primary business is to process crude oil into a wide range of synthetic fibers, resins and plastics, intermediate petrochemicals and petroleum products.

The Board of Directors of the Company and all the members of the Board warrant that the information in this announcement does not contain any false representations, misleading statements or material omissions, and jointly and severally accept responsibility for the true, accurate and complete information contained herein.

Table of Contents

3. Reasons

In 2012, amid complex and volatile international environment and a slowdown in domestic economic growth, demand for the petrochemicals was sluggish and prices were adjusted due to the high level of volatility in international crude oil prices. The Group's refining business incurred a policy-related loss and the profitability of petrochemical products also fell significantly. Net loss attributable to equity shareholders of the Company amounted to RMB1,609 million for the nine-month period ended 30 September 2012. Facing a challenging international and domestic economic environment, the Group made efforts to enhance its operating conditions by making prompt adjustments to its production plan and optimising production and operation. Meanwhile, the Group has committed to carrying out the construction of the Phase 6 Project and its trial run in order to lay a solid foundation for production and operation in 2013. In the fourth quarter of 2012, the Group's cost of crude oil processed declined compared to the first three quarters, which therefore somewhat minimised the loss from the petrochemical products business. However, since the operating results of the Company recorded a substantial loss in the first three quarters, the Group's full year operating results in 2012 are also expected to record a loss, according to preliminary estimates of the Company's Finance Department. Under China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises, net loss attributable to equity shareholders of the Company is expected to be approximately RMB1,600 million.

The forecasts above represent preliminary estimates. Specific and accurate financial figures shall be disclosed in the audited 2012 annual report to be officially announced by the Company. Investors are advised to pay attention to investment risks.
