Item 8.01. Other Events.

SoftBank Corp. and Sprint Nextel Corporation (NYSE: S) today announced that they have received clearance from the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (CFIUS), pursuant to a review under the Foreign Investment and National Security Act of 2007, to proceed with their proposed merger. SoftBank and Sprint submitted a voluntary notice of the merger to CFIUS in March 2013. CFIUS conducted a statutorily-mandated 30-day review, and an additional 45-day investigation, of the transaction. During the review and investigation, SoftBank and Sprint provided CFIUS extensive information relating to the transaction and their respective businesses and operations. Following the review and investigation, CFIUS found that there are no unresolved national security issues associated with SoftBank's proposed acquisition of a controlling interest in Sprint and SoftBank's resulting indirect ownership of Clearwire Corporation. As a precondition to CFIUS clearance of the transaction, CFIUS required that SoftBank and Sprint enter into a National Security Agreement with the Department of Defense, the Department of Homeland Security and the Department of Justice (the "USG Parties"). Sprint and SoftBank issued a joint press release on May 29, 2013 regarding the CFIUS clearance which is filed as Exhibit 99.1 to this Current Report on Form 8-K.

Among other things, the National Security Agreement provides that:

SoftBank and Sprint must appoint an independent member to the New Sprint board of directors to serve as the Security Director. The Security Director will be approved by the USG Parties, oversee Sprint's compliance with the National Security Agreement and serve as a contact for the USG Parties on all security-related matters. In addition, the Security Director is required to have expertise and experience with national security matters, be a U.S. resident citizen, and hold appropriate security clearances.

Once Sprint either obtains operational control of Clearwire or consummates its proposed acquisition of Clearwire, USG Parties will have a one-time right to require Sprint to remove and decommission by December 31, 2016 certain equipment deployed in the Clearwire network.

The USG Parties will have the right to review and approve certain network equipment vendors and managed services providers of Sprint, as well as of Clearwire once Sprint completes its proposed acquisition of Clearwire.
