Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

Option Letter with Sanofi

On June 21, 2013, Regulus Therapeutics Inc. (the Company) entered into an option letter agreement (the Option Letter) with Sanofi. Under the terms of the Option Letter, Sanofi will have the exclusive right (the Sanofi Option) to negotiate with the Company to enter into a development and license agreement for the co-development and commercialization of, among other things, certain unencumbered microRNA targets and microRNA biomarkers (the microRNA Collaboration Agreement). The Sanofi Option will expire on December 31, 2013 or upon execution of the microRNA Collaboration Agreement, whichever occurs first, subject to a 30-day extension in the event the parties are in active negotiations or drafting of the microRNA Collaboration Agreement as of December 31, 2013.

In addition, pursuant to the Option Letter the Company will have the exclusive right (the Company Option) to negotiate with Sanofi to enter into a co-development and commercialization agreement (the miR-21 Co-Development Agreement) pursuant to which the Company would obtain the right to co-develop and commercialize with Sanofi certain miR-21 antagomirs in oncology and in Alport's disease, a genetic disorder characterized by endstage kidney disease and hearing loss. The Company Option will expire on December 31, 2013 or upon execution of the miR-21 Co-Development Agreement, whichever occurs first, subject to a 30-day extension in the event the parties are in active negotiations or drafting of the miR-21 Co-Development Agreement as of December 31, 2013. During the period of the Company Option, the Company will continue to perform specified research activities under the miR-21 program pursuant to the Amended and Restated Collaboration and License Agreement dated July 16, 2012 between the Company and Sanofi and Sanofi will have no obligation to provide research funding or payment with respect to such work.

Pursuant to the Option Letter, Sanofi will pay $2.5 million to the Company, $1.25 million of which will be creditable by Sanofi against any future payments payable to the Company under either the miR-21 Co-Development Agreement or the microRNA Collaboration Agreement.

The foregoing description of the Option Letter is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Option Letter, a copy of which will be filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) following the date hereof.

Amendment to Collaboration and Licence Agreement with Biogen Idec MA Inc.

On June 24, 2013, the Company and Biogen Idec MA Inc. (Biogen) entered into an amendment (the Biogen Amendment) to the Collaboration and License Agreement dated August 15, 2012 between the Company and Biogen (the Biogen Agreement). The Biogen Amendment provides for, among other things, revised terms with respect to phase 1 of the research plan under the Biogen Agreement and revised payment provisions relating to the phase 1 milestones. The Biogen Amendment does not modify the maximum dollar amount the Company was originally eligible to receive in connection with phase 1 milestones under the Biogen Agreement.

The foregoing description of the Biogen Amendment is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Biogen Amendment, a copy of which will be filed by the Company with the SEC following the date hereof.
