Amsterdam, 5 June 2014

ING announces intention to launch Initial Public Offering of NN Group and listing on Euronext Amsterdam

ING today confirms the intention to proceed with the Initial Public Offering (IPO) and listing on Euronext Amsterdam of NN Group N.V., an international insurance and investment management company offering retirement, life insurance, non-life insurance, investment management and banking (in the Netherlands) to its customers across Europe and Japan. The IPO will comprise existing ordinary shares in NN Group, currently wholly owned by ING.

NN Group highlights

NN Group is a leading Dutch insurer with a strong European insurance and investment management footprint and an attractive Japanese business, including its main business lines Nationale-Nederlanden, ING Insurance Europe, ING Investment Management and ING Life Japan.

NN Group maintains a strong balance sheet under a conservative regulatory environment in the Netherlands.

NN Group's experienced and diverse leadership team has a clear focus on earnings improvement and cash generation, strong cost control and delivering an excellent customer experience.

NN Group's strategic objectives are to generate capital for its shareholders and improve earnings. Management aims to achieve these objectives through NN's transformation programme in the Netherlands, profitable growth and operating leverage in other segments, and diligent management of its Japan Closed Block VA segment.

NN Group's dividend policy is focused on returning cash to shareholders. NN Group intends to pay a dividend in relation to the second half of 2014 of EUR 175 million, payable in 2015. NN Group envisages a dividend pay-out policy from 2015 onwards, payable from 2016, of 40-50% of the net operating result from the ongoing business. In addition, capital generated in excess of NN Group's capital ambition, which may change over time, is expected to be returned to shareholders, unless it can be used for any other appropriate corporate purpose, including investments in value creating corporate opportunities.

Offer highlights

The intended IPO will consist solely of a secondary offering of a minority holding of NN Group's existing ordinary shares currently held by ING Group to institutional and retail investors in the Netherlands and to certain institutional investors in various other jurisdictions.

ING will receive the net proceeds of the offering and will retain a significant majority holding in NN Group after its listing. ING will enter into customary lock-up arrangements with the underwriters in respect of the sale of its remaining NN Group shares, subject to certain customary exceptions.

Today's announcement is in line with ING's previously announced objective to divest its insurance and investment management businesses and become a pure bank. ING intends to divest more than 50% of its shareholding in NN Group before 31 December 2015 and the remaining shares before 31 December 2016, in line with the timeline ING has agreed with the European Commission.

As previously announced, ING agreed with three Asian-based investment firms, RRJ Capital, Temasek and SeaTown, that they will participate in the IPO as anchor investors for an aggregate amount of EUR 150 million. The NN Group shares that these three anchor investors will acquire at the IPO offer price will not be subject to any lock-up. In addition, ING has issued mandatory exchangeable subordinated notes to these anchor investors for an aggregate amount of EUR 1,125 million. These notes will accrue a 4% coupon, and are mandatorily exchangeable into NN Group shares in three tranches. The first tranche (an aggregate amount of EUR 450 million) plus accrued interest will be mandatorily exchanged into NN Group shares upon the settlement of the IPO at a discount of 1.5% to the IPO offer price. These shares will be subject to a lock-up for six months.

Ralph Hamers, CEO of ING Group, said:

Today's announcement signals the launch of the final major transaction in ING's five year restructuring. With the IPO of NN Group, we will have substantially completed the repositioning of ING as a pure bank. For NN Group it is a pivotal step in the journey to become a standalone company. I congratulate NN Group with the progress they have made in preparing for their future and in establishing a compelling investment case with a clear roadmap for shareholder returns.

Lard Friese, vice-chairman of NN Group, said:

We are excited to start this new phase towards our standalone future. NN Group combines strong market positions both in the Netherlands and in targeted international growth and cash generating businesses. Our business strategy is focused on increasing cash and capital generation through efficiency, while delivering excellent service and products to our customers. We thank our customers, employees, distribution partners and our shareholder ING for their ongoing support throughout this period of change. We're proud of the progress we've made in shaping NN Group. The focus we will have as a standalone company helps us in our dedication to provide our clients with an excellent experience and to deliver on our company's business objectives. We are enhancing our inclusive, international business culture in which we all go the extra mile to help people secure their financial futures.

NN Group business overview

NN Group is an insurance and investment management group with a strong, predominantly European presence in more than 18 countries. NN Group has leading positions in life and non-life insurance in the Netherlands, a strong life and pensions presence in a number of other European markets (such as Poland, Hungary and Romania), a growing position in Turkey and a top-3 position in the Japanese Corporate Owned Life Insurance market. NN Group's investment management business, ING Investment Management, offers its products and services globally through offices in several countries across Europe, the United States, the Middle East and Asia, with the Netherlands as its main investment management hub. NN Bank offers a range of banking products to retail customers in the Netherlands, providing diversification and strong cross selling potential with NN's insurance business in the Netherlands. In addition, NN Group includes a Japanese Closed Block variable annuities portfolio which is projected to run-off relatively quickly due to the short-term maturity profile of the products in the portfolio.

NN Group's operating result (before tax) from ongoing business was EUR 905 million in 2013 with Gross Written Premiums of EUR 9,525 million. Over the first quarter of 2014, the operating result for the ongoing business of NN Group was EUR 295 million. Shareholders' equity was EUR 14.7 billion at the end of the first quarter of 2014. As at 31 March 2014, ING Investment Management had EUR 168 billion of assets under management.

NN Group strategy and targets

NN Group's strategic objectives are to generate capital for its shareholders and improve earnings. Management seeks to achieve these objectives via transformation in the Netherlands, profitable growth and operating leverage in other segments and diligent management of its Japan Closed Block VA, supported by active risk management which aligns risk appetite with business objectives. Accordingly, management has set the following targets for NN Group:

Over time and assuming normal markets, current regulatory framework and no material special items, NN Group expects to generate free cash available to shareholders in a range around NN Group's net operating result of the ongoing business;

Management's aim is to achieve an annual operating result before tax of the ongoing business growth rate on average of 5-7% in the medium term;

Management's aim is to reduce administrative expenses in Netherlands Life, Netherlands Non-life and corporate/holding entities by EUR 200 million by 2016, compared with 2013;

Management's aim is to increase the net operating return on equity of the ongoing business (from a pro-forma 7.1% in 2013) in the medium term.

Further information on the strategy, targets and remittances per business segment is shown in Appendix 1 to this press release, which is also available on www.ing.com and www.nn-group.com.

NN Group dividend policy

NN Group's dividend policy is focused on returning cash to shareholders. In relation to the second half of 2014, NN Group has the intention to pay a dividend of EUR 175 million, payable in 2015. This dividend payment is discretionary and not based on the dividend policy that NN Group intends to apply for 2015 and beyond. For 2015 and beyond, NN Group intends to pay an ordinary dividend annually in line with its medium to long term financial performance and envisages an ordinary dividend pay-out ratio of 40-50% of the net operating result from ongoing business.

In addition, capital generated in excess of NN Group's capital ambition, which may change over time, is expected to be returned to shareholders, unless it can be used for any other appropriate corporate purpose, including investments in value creating corporate opportunities. As to the form in which excess capital may be distributed to shareholders, NN Group is committed to do so in a form which is most appropriate and efficient for shareholders at that specific point in time, such as special dividends or share buy backs.

NN Group capital framework

The capital framework for NN Group is based on the capitalisation at its operating units and the cash capital position at the holding company as well as overall leverage. Following the EUR 850 million capital injection by ING Group in May 2014, NN Group is well capitalised within its capital framework. NN Group used the injected funds to reduce debt owed to ING by EUR 200 million, further strengthen the capital base of NN Life by granting a perpetual loan of EUR 450 million, and increase the cash capital position in the holding company, by EUR 200 million. These items are reflected in the pro-forma numbers below.

The operating units are intended to be managed at their commercial capital levels, which may change over time, with all surplus capital to be returned to the holding company, subject to regulatory restrictions. All operating units are currently adequately capitalized. NN Group's largest operating unit, NN Life had a pro-forma Solvency I ratio of 251% as at 31 March 2014.

The cash capital position in the holding company aims to cover stress events and to fund 18 months of holding and interest expenses. On a pro-forma basis, the holding company cash capital position was EUR 0.9 billion as at 31 March 2014. The leverage and fixed cost coverage ratios will be maintained consistent with a single A financial strength rating. On a pro-forma basis, the financial leverage was EUR 3.7 billion and the financial leverage ratio was 24% as at 31 March 2014.

The capital injection from ING Group and the allowable amount of subordinated debt that can be considered in the IGD capital base, resulted in a pro-forma IGD ratio of 264% as at 31 March 2014. The reported IGD ratios of NN Group of 254% at 31 December 2013 and of 249% at 31 March 2014 have been revised to 251% and 245% respectively, to reflect a cap on the amount of allowable subordinated debt considered in the IGD capital base.

NN Group's pro-forma AFR/EC ratio was 203% as at 31 December 2013. In connection with the calculation of Solvency II ratios, significant uncertainties remain in how the final regulations will be applied. It is expected that NN Group's Solvency II ratio will be lower than the AFR/EC ratio and that this difference may potentially be significant depending on the final calibrations. Various management actions will be considered to ensure that NN Group is prepared for the introduction of Solvency II.

NN Group embedded value

The NN Group embedded value as at 31 December 2013 was EUR 10.3 billion, of which the most significant components are the Netherlands Life embedded value of EUR 5.6 billion and the Insurance Europe embedded value of EUR 3.1 billion. Adjusted for the EUR 850 million capital injection by ING Group and the EUR 0.4 billion negative impact of the agreement to make ING's defined benefit pension plan in the Netherlands financially independent, the pro-forma embedded value would have been approximately EUR 10.7 billion as at 31 December 2013. Further details on embedded value are available in Appendix 2 of this press release, which is also available on www.ing.com and www.nn-group.com.

Further offering details

Before the IPO, NN Group will issue warrants to ING as the selling shareholder, which will be exercisable for a number of shares in NN Group up to 9.99% of the outstanding shares at IPO and at an exercise price equal to 200% of the offer price. The warrants will have a 10 year maturity and will be settled in new shares against a cash payment. The warrants will be freely transferable only after ING's lock-up period as selling shareholder has expired. The warrants will be exercisable as of 1 year after the IPO. However, while ING holds the warrants it will undertake not to exercise any warrants until the third anniversary of the IPO. The warrants will include certain customary anti-dilution provisions which provide for adjustments of both the exercise price and the number of NN Group shares to which the warrant holder is entitled to in case of corporate events which lead to an immediate impact on the share price.

ING Group and NN Group have appointed J.P. Morgan, Morgan Stanley, ING Bank and Deutsche Bank as joint global co-ordinators for the IPO. BNP Paribas, Citigroup, Commerzbank, Credit Suisse and Nomura as well as the joint global coordinators are acting as the joint bookrunners for the IPO. Furthermore, ABN Amro, HSBC and RBC Capital Markets are the joint lead managers, and Keefe, Bruyette & Woods and Rabobank International are the senior co-lead managers for the IPO.

Full information about the offering will be included in the prospectus relating to the IPO. The prospectus will be published after it has been approved by the Netherlands Authority for the Financial Markets (AFM). This approval process is ongoing. Once approved by the AFM, the prospectus will be published and made available to the public at the start of the offering period, subject to securities law restrictions in certain jurisdictions. The approval of the prospectus by the AFM shall not constitute an approval of the soundness of the transactions proposed to investors.
