Gold Fields urges its shareholders to continue to refrain from tendering into Harmony's hostile offer

Johannesburg, 16 May 2005. During the final week of the hostile bid by Harmony Gold Mining Company Limited ("Harmony") for Gold Fields (GFI: JSE and NYSE) ("Gold Fields"), Chief Executive Ian Cockerill continued to urge Gold Fields shareholders to reject Harmony's offer and protect value by not tendering into the offer, saying: "We stated from the beginning that Harmony's offer does not represent fair value and is funded by overvalued Harmony shares. And we have seen that since the hostile bid was launched in October the value of Harmony's bid has only worsened."

Harmony's hostile bid for Gold Fields will close on Friday 20 May, a full seven months after its launch. To date, based on Harmony's public announcements, they have acquired only 11.8% of Gold Fields' shares either in the form of shares or American Depositary Receipts (ADR's). Harmony's Chief Executive publicly admitted in an interview published on 15 May 2005 that the company is not likely to have a much larger

Gold Fields stake than this when the offer closes.

Gold Fields notes that since Harmony made its hostile and unsolicited bid, the share prices of both companies have fallen substantially, and the value differential between the respective share prices has widened markedly, indicating the market view that Harmony's all-share offer significantly undervalues Gold Fields.

On 10 May 2005, Harmony officially declared that it would not increase its current offer of 1.275 of Harmony shares for each Gold Fields share. At Friday's market closing prices, Harmony's offer was trading at a 24% discount (representing an offer ratio of 1.57) to its original offer ratio of 1.275.

At the current market price of the respective shares, a Gold Fields shareholder would lose R11.90 or US$1.77 for every Gold Fields share or ADR, respectively, tendered into Harmony's offer.

The Board expects that Gold Fields' strategy of investing in its high quality South African assets, coupled with the success of its international diversification, will continue to deliver strong returns for all of its stakeholders. Without question, the Board remains committed to creating and executing a sustainable strategy for growth and value creation.

The Board believes that Gold Fields is in a robust financial position, has been consistently profitable and has improving margins. Gold Fields is liquid, unhedged and internationally diversified and this strategy has proven to be the right one, despite difficult market conditions. The Board continues to believe that an independent Gold Fields is the complete gold company, offering a compelling investment.

Gold Fields Chief Executive Ian Cockerill concludes: "The Board and I believe Gold Fields will continue to deliver sustainable and profitable operations, optionality and growth to our shareholders. We are committed to taking the steps required to restore the value destroyed as a consequence of Harmony's hostile and unsolicited bid. In the meantime we continue to urge shareholders to not tender their shares or ADR's into the offer."
