GLASS LEWIS, A LEADING PROXY ADVISORY FIRM, RECOMMENDS THAT EQUUS SHAREHOLDERS VOTE ON THE WHITE PROXY CARD

Glass Lewis and RiskMetrics Note Conflicts of Interest and Lack of a Viable Plan with Douglass Committee Nominees

HOUSTON, TX – May 5, 2010 – Equus Total Return, Inc. (NYSE: EQS) (“Equus” or the “Fund”) today commented on the reports issued by Glass Lewis & Co., and RiskMetrics Group, the leading independent proxy voting and corporate governance advisory firms. Here are some of the highlights of their reports:

1. THE TRULITE CONFLICTS:

Glass Lewis

- “With respect to the Dissident’s [Douglass Committee’s] non-incumbent nominees, Messrs. Godshall and White serve as the vice chairman and chairman, respectively, of Trulite, Inc. (“Trulite”), one of Equus’ portfolio companies. Paula Douglass originated a $2.3 million loan to Trulite, on which Trulite defaulted and upon which the Company [Equus] took action to collect on April 23, 2010. We believe these issues raise questions about whether certain of the [Douglass Committee’s] non-incumbent nominees may take actions or have interests that are not aligned with, or may, in fact, be inimical to, the interests of shareholders.”
 - Glass Lewis & Co., April 28, 2010 (Bracketed language added)

RiskMetrics

- “Another issue we have regarding this [Douglass Committee’s] slate has to do with the presence of two Trulite affiliated nominees, Jonathan Godshall and John White. We agree that conflicts of interest could arise through their presence on the board given Trulite’s default on the..debt it owes to Equus.”
 - RiskMetrics Group, May 4, 2010 (Bracketed language added)

2. THE DOUGLASS COMMITTEE NOMINEES' LACK OF A VIABLE PLAN:

Glass Lewis

- “The Dissident [Douglass Committee] does not, to our knowledge, codify a specific plan for the Company going forward.”
- Glass Lewis & Co., April 28, 2010 (Bracketed language added)

RiskMetrics

- “...we believe that [The Douglass Committee] have not presented a viable plan to effect positive change at the company.”
- RiskMetrics Group, May 4, 2010 (Bracketed language added)

“We are gratified but not surprised that Glass Lewis and RiskMetrics both cited the conflicts presented by the three Trulite Directors being part of the Douglass Committee slate and the Committee’s lack of a plan to increase shareholder value,” said Richard Bergner, Chairman of the Fund. “We believe these are just a few of the many reasons that Equus shareholders should support change at the Fund and reject the Douglass Committee nominees. Even if shareholders have previously voted on the gold proxy card supplied by the Douglass Committee, they can still support the new direction of the Fund by heeding Glass Lewis’ recommendation and voting the WHITE proxy card today.”
