Item 8.01

As previously reported, by SonoSite, Inc. ("SonoSite"), has been defending a lawsuit filed against it on July 24, 2001, by Neutrino Development Corporation ("Neutrino") in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Texas, Houston Division (the "Court"), alleging that SonoSite's use, sale and manufacture of certain of its devices infringed Neutrino's U.S. patent 6,221,021 ("the '021 patent"). On March 21, 2006, the Court granted SonoSite's motion for summary judgment of invalidity against Neutrino. Based on the holding of invalidity, the Court reversed its earlier finding that SonoSite infringed the '021 patent.

On December 8, 2006, the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit affirmed the lower court's summary judgment based on invalidity and its reversal of its earlier finding of infringement. A copy of the press release announcing this ruling is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated into this current report by reference.
