Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On January 31, 2005, as contemplated by the previously announced letter of intent, as amended, Transpro, Inc., Modine Manufacturing Company and a wholly owned subsidiary of Modine Manufacturing Company entered into a merger agreement and a contribution agreement providing for the merger of Modine's aftermarket business into Transpro in an all-stock transaction. In connection with the transaction, Modine and Transpro also entered into an OEM acquisition agreement pursuant to which Modine will acquire Transpro's heavy duty OEM business for cash.

Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement and contribution agreement, Modine will spin off its aftermarket business to its shareholders free of debt and the resulting company will immediately merge into Transpro. Each step of the transaction is expected to be tax-free to the shareholders of both companies. Following the merger, Modine shareholders will own 52% of the combined company's shares, and Transpro's current shareholders will own the balance.

Charles E. Johnson, currently CEO of Transpro, will become the combined company's CEO and will serve on its Board of Directors. Additionally, the combined company's Board of Directors will consist of two independent directors from Modine's Board and two Modine senior executives, as well as five independent directors from Transpro's Board. One of Transpro's outside directors will serve as Chairman of the Board.

The merger, which is not subject to Modine shareholder approval, is subject to regulatory clearance, Transpro stockholder approval and satisfaction of other customary closing conditions. Closing on the aftermarket spin-off and merger is anticipated during the second calendar quarter of 2005 with the expectation for Modine to close earlier on its purchase of Transpro's heavy-duty OEM business. There can be no assurances that the proposed transactions will be completed or as to the timing thereof. The merger agreement contains certain termination rights for each of Modine and Transpro and further provides that, upon termination of the merger agreement under specified circumstances, one party may be required to pay the other a termination fee of $2.5 million.

Under the terms of the OEM acquisition agreement, Transpro will separately sell its heavy duty and off-road OEM business to Modine for $17 million in cash. Although the completion of that transaction is not dependent on the closing of the aftermarket combination, it is subject to customary closing conditions, as well as the expiration or termination of the HSR waiting period as required by the merger agreement.

The foregoing descriptions of the merger agreement, the contribution agreement and the OEM acquisition agreement do not purport to be complete and are qualified in their entirety by reference to such documents, copies of which are filed as Exhibits 2.1, 2.2 and 2.3, respectively, and are incorporated herein by reference.

On February 1, 2005, Modine issued a press release announcing the transactions. A copy of the press release is filed as Exhibit 99.1 hereto and is incorporated herein by reference.
