U.S. Department of Justice Grants Early Termination of the Waiting Period under Hart-Scott-Rodino Act for Previously Announced Spin Off and Merger of Modine's Aftermarket Business with Transpro

Racine, WI, February 9, 2005, Modine Manufacturing Company (NYSE: MOD) announced today that the U.S. Department of Justice has granted early termination of the waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act for the previously announced merger of Modine's Aftermarket business into Transpro, Inc. (AMEX: TPR). A definitive agreement for the proposed transaction was announced on February 1. The merger is the final step in a process that starts with Modine's spin off of its Aftermarket business on a debt-free and tax-free basis to Modine shareholders.

The merger, which is not subject to Modine shareholder approval, is subject to effectiveness of the Transpro registration statement to be filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, Transpro stockholder approval and satisfaction of other customary closing conditions. Closing on the Aftermarket spin off and merger is anticipated during the second calendar quarter of 2005.

In addition, Modine will acquire Transpro's heavy-duty original equipment business, a transaction that is expected to close earlier than the Aftermarket spin off and merger.
