Item 8.01 Other Events.

On June 21, 2011, the Maryland Court of Appeals issued a decision holding that Maryland law does not prohibit Cecil County from entering into several asset purchase agreements (the “Purchase Agreements”) with Artesian Water Maryland, Inc. (“Artesian Water”) and Artesian Wastewater Maryland, Inc. (“Artesian Wastewater”). Under the Purchase Agreements, Cecil County agreed to sell and transfer to Artesian Water all of its rights, title and interest in and to the Meadowview, Pine Hills, Harbourview and Route 7 water facilities and the associated parcels of real property, easement rights and water transmission and distribution systems, and to sell and transfer to Artesian Wastewater certain county wastewater systems in Meadowview, Cherry Hill, Harbourview and The Highlands (collectively, the “Assets”). The decision enables Artesian Water and Artesian Wastewater to proceed with consummating the transactions contemplated by the Purchase Agreements. The closing of the transactions contemplated by the Purchase Agreements remains subject to receipt of approval of the transactions by the Maryland Public Service Commission.

In October 2008, Artesian Water and Cecil County signed the Purchase Agreements. In response to Cecil County’s entering into the Purchase Agreements, the Appleton Regional Community Alliance (the “Appleton Alliance”) filed a petition with the Circuit Court of Cecil County, Maryland (the “Circuit Court”), in opposition to the transactions on the grounds that Cecil County was prohibited by Maryland law from selling the Assets. The Circuit Court decided in favor of Cecil County on April 30, 2009. On August 19, 2009, the Appleton Alliance filed an appeal of the Circuit Court’s decision with the Maryland Court of Special Appeals. Upon the request of Cecil County, which was not opposed by the Appleton Alliance, the matter was moved to the Maryland Court of Appeals, where it was heard on June 2, 2010.
