Item 2.06 Material Impairments.

Following a comprehensive review of its production capacities, Seneca Foods has announced the closure of processing facilities in Walla Walla, WA and Marion, NY (not including the can manufacturing plant). The Company estimates the plant closures will result in a non-cash impairment charge of $5,710,000 and a severance charge of $95,000 (cash). These impairments were identified as a material charge on November 24, 2004 and will be recognized in the Company's financial statements for the Quarter Ending December 25, 2004.

The rationalization of the Company's productive capacity will: 1) improve the Company's overall cost structure and competitive position; 2) address the excess capacity situation arising from the recent acquisition of Chiquita Processed Foods, L.L.C.; and 3) mitigate the effect of inflationary pressures on the Company's raw material inputs such as steel and fuel.
