PROSPECTUS SUMMARY

Company Overview

Edgar Filing: Henry Bros. Electronics, Inc. - Form 424B3

We are a single-source/turn-key provider of technology-based security solutions for medium and large commercial and governmental agencies in the United States. As a single-source/turn-key provider of diversified technology-based integrated security solutions, we can expedite project completion, optimize system performance and manpower performance. The continually evolving security requirements of commercial and government entities, together with rapidly advancing technology, provides numerous opportunities for us to assist our clients with their security needs.

The Offering

On November 5, 2001, the Company entered into an agreement with The Wall Street Group, Inc. (the "Wall Street Group") for Wall Street Group to serve as financial public relations counsel to the Company (the "Agreement"). Under the Agreement, Wall Street Group was paid a monthly fee and reimbursed out-of-pocket expenses, and earned options for the purchase of the Company's common stock. The Agreement also provided Wall Street Group with the right to have the shares issuable under the options to be registered for sale under the Securities Act of 1933. The Agreement further provided that any options earned by Wall Street Group were to be granted to Wall Street Group's affiliate, Wall Street Consultants, Inc. (the "Selling Shareholder"). Throughout the term of the Agreement until its termination on April 6, 2003, Wall Street Group earned options for the purchase of up to 45,996 shares of the Company's common stock. This prospectus relates to the resale of the 45,996 shares issuable upon exercise of the options earned under the Agreement.

Number of Shares Outstanding

As of January 30, 2006, 5,889,399 shares of our common stock were issued and outstanding.

THE COMPANY

We are a single-source/turn-key provider of technology-based security solutions for medium and large commercial and governmental agencies in the United States.

Security Distributing and Marketing magazine (SDM) ranks the top 100 largest firms selling closed circuit TV (CCTV), access control and integrated security systems. We were ranked No. 21 in SDM's Top Systems Integrators Report published in 2005.

As a single-source/turn-key provider of diversified technology-based integrated security solutions, we can expedite project completion, optimize system performance and manpower performance. The continually evolving security requirements of commercial and government entities, together with rapidly advancing technology, provides numerous opportunities for us to assist our clients with their security needs.

We believe that the following key attributes provide us with a sustainable competitive advantage:

- o Experience and expertise;
- o Technological sophistication;
- o Quality control; and
- o Strong list of references.

Our Strategy

Our strategy consists of the following components: (1) Maintain and develop long-term relationships with clients; (2) Focus on high value added services; (3) Continue to expand our client base in targeted industries; (4) Maintain a high level of technological sophistication; and (5) Sell additional services to our established client base.

Our three operating units are integration, evacuation planning and specialty products.

Our Integration Solution

At the beginning of each new client relationship, we designate one member of our professional staff as the client service contact. This individual is the point person for communications between the client and us and often acts, as the client's project manager for all of its security needs. Our engagement may include:

- o Consulting and planning;
- o Engineering and design;
- o Systems installation and management;
- o Systems training; and
- o Maintenance and technical support.

Consulting and planning

Security consulting and planning are the initial phases of determining a security solution for a project. We have developed a planning process that identifies all systems, policies and procedures that are required for the successful operation of a security system that will both meet a client's current needs and accommodate its projected future requirements. Our consulting and planning process includes the following steps:

- o Identify the client's objectives and security system requirements;
- o Survey the site, including inventory of physical components and software and evaluation of client's existing infrastructure and security system;
- o Assess and prioritize the client's vulnerabilities;
- o Develop and evaluate system alternatives;
- o Recommend a conceptual security plan design;
- o Estimate the cost of implementing the conceptual plan; and
- o Develop a preliminary implementation schedule.

Edgar Filing: Henry Bros. Electronics, Inc. - Form 424B3

As a result of this process, we provide the client with a master plan for an effective security solution that addresses routine operating needs as well as emergency situations.

We believe that our comprehensive planning process enables our clients to budget for their security requirements on a long-term basis, identify opportunities for cost reduction and prepare for future risks.

Engineering and design

The engineering and design process involves preparation of detailed project specifications and working drawings by a team of our engineers, systems designers and computer-aided design system operators. These specifications and drawings detail the camera sensitivity requirements, layout of the control center, placement of cameras, card readers and other equipment and electrical requirements. Throughout our engineering and design process, our goal is to understand our client's operational preferences in order to design a system that is functional, cost-effective and accommodates our client's present and future requirements. In addition, we attempt to incorporate our client's existing personnel, equipment and other physical resources into the system design.

When retained as a single-source provider for turnkey security solutions, we select system components required under the specifications and drawings. We recommend that our customers buy proven off-the-shelf devices and software and resort to custom equipment when absolutely necessary.

We have made a strategic decision not to represent any equipment manufacturer exclusively, thereby maintaining objectivity and flexibility in equipment selection. We believe that our technical proficiency with the products of a wide range of manufacturers enables us to select components that will best meet a project's requirements.

Systems installation and management

Under the supervision of our project manager, our technicians install hardware, integrate hardware and software, and validate and test the system. Subcontractors typically perform other aspects of the system installation such as electrical installation and basic construction.

Components that may be integrated in a security system include the following:

- o Access control systems, which are designed to exclude unauthorized personnel from specified areas;
- o Intrusion detection systems, which detect unauthorized door and window openings, glass breakage, vibration, motion, noise and alarms and other peripheral equipment;
- o Closed circuit television systems, which monitor and record entry and exit activity or provide surveillance of designated areas;
- o Critical condition monitoring systems, which provide alarm monitoring and supervision of various systems and facilities; and
- o Fire detection systems, intercoms, public address and network connectivity that can expand a local security system into a closely controlled worldwide system.

Systems training

Upon the completion of a systems integration project, we typically will provide the customer with system-documentation and training in the operation and maintenance of the system.

Maintenance and technical support

We provide maintenance and technical support services on a scheduled, on-call, or emergency basis. These services include developing and implementing maintenance programs both for security systems designed, engineered, or integrated by us and for existing systems.

Our Emergency Preparedness Planning Program Solution

Our Emergency Preparedness Planning Programs ("EPPP") division works with companies and managers of high-rise office buildings to analyze their specific facilities needs with emergency preparedness plans. We provide demonstrations, training and recommendations to clients. Our EPPP division provides a wide array of services, including:

- o Development of emergency plans and procedures;
- o Expand existing fire/emergency and preparedness response plans;
- o Articulate building strategy to tenants;
- o Provide tenant inclusion;
- o Increase building community unity, awareness and confidence; and
- o Employee training.

Our Specialty Products Solution

The Company's specialty products solutions are provided by two wholly-owned subsidiaries, Viscom Products, Inc. ("Viscom") and Airorlite Communications, Inc. ("Airorlite"). Viscom has developed an integrated standard solution for mobile digital recorders for deployment on municipal buses and trains. This product is now being manufactured by a third party in accordance with Viscom's standards. Airorlite specializes in the design, manufacture and maintenance of wireless communications equipment used to enhance emergency radio frequency services and cellular communication for both fixed and mobile applications.

DISCLOSURE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference in this prospectus contain "forward-looking statements" as defined by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. The forward-looking statements include certain statements pertaining to our capital resources, performance and results of operations. In addition, all statements regarding anticipated growth in our revenue, anticipated market conditions and results of operations are forward-looking statements. To identify forward-looking statements look for words like "believes," "expects," "may," "will," "should," "seeks," "intends," "plans," "estimates" or "anticipates" and similar words or phrases. Discussions of strategy, plans or intentions often contain forward-looking statements.

Edgar Filing: Henry Bros. Electronics, Inc. - Form 424B3

These, and all forward-looking statements, necessarily depend on assumptions, data or methods that may be incorrect or imprecise.

Such statements reflect the current views of the Company and its management with respect to future events and are subject to certain risks, uncertainties and assumptions. Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or should underlying assumptions prove incorrect, our actual results, performance or achievements could differ materially from the results expressed in, or implied by, these forward-looking statements.

Our actual results may differ materially from the results predicted or from any other forward-looking statements made by, or on behalf of, us and reported results should not be considered as an indication of future performance. The potential risks and uncertainties include, among other things, those described under "Risk Factors" elsewhere in this prospectus.

Although we believe that the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, we cannot guarantee future results, events, levels of activity, performance, or achievements. We do not assume responsibility for the accuracy and completeness of the forward-looking statements. We do not intend to update any of the forward-looking statements after the date of this prospectus to conform them to actual results.

RISK FACTORS

The securities offered hereby involve a high degree of risk. Investors should carefully consider the risks and uncertainties described below, as well as all of the other information contained in the disclosure documents included in this memorandum. Any of the following risks could materially adversely affect our business, financial condition or operating results and could adversely affect the value of an investment in our common stock.

We may not be able to develop or acquire new technological solutions necessary for our customers' requirements

Our success depends on acquiring or developing new technology to satisfy our customers' needs. Any failure or delay to deliver these advances on our part could have a negative impact on our business.

We are dependent upon a small number of customers for a large portion of our revenues

We have a small number of customers from which we receive a large portion of our revenues. Although, no single customer comprised more than 10% of total revenues during 2004, our five largest projects represented approximately 25% of our revenues. Revenues from governmental agencies accounted for 20% in 2004 versus 21% in 2003. Consequently, we are often required to replace one customer with one or more other customers in order to generate the same amount of revenues. There can be no assurance that we will continue to be able to do so.

Some of our orders and contracts may be cancelled or modified so there is risk that our full backlog may not be realized

Some of our orders and contract backlog are subject to cancellation and modification by our customers so we cannot be certain that we will recognize the full value of our backlog. As of September 30, 2005, our backlog was approximately $14,802,000.

We are dependent on a few vendors, and we rely on timely deliveries of equipment from all outside sources

There are a few vendors from whom we obtain devices and software for specific access control and imaging, remote transmission, smart key and mobile applications. The loss of any one of these companies as suppliers could have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations if we are unable to develop or acquire new technologies from other sources. While we believe alternative vendors are available, we have not yet identified them.

Timely vendor deliveries of equipment meeting our stringent quality-control standards from all suppliers are also important to our business because each installed system requires a variety of elements to be fully functioning. The failure to deliver any critical device or component, when needed, in operating condition, can delay a project, trigger vendor penalties, halt progress payments or result in cancellation of a contract or order.

We experience intense competition for business from a variety of sources

In systems integration, we compete for new business with large construction firms, electrical contractors, and consultants in the security business and other systems integrators. Many of our competitors are much larger than we are and have greater resources. In order to effectively compete in the future, we may have to charge less for our services that may result in lower profit margins.

We rely on only a few key executives

James E. Henry and Irvin F. Witcosky, our two executives, are vital to our business operations. The loss of any one of them could have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition or results of operations.

Our business and growth will suffer if we are unable to hire and retain highly skilled personnel

Competition for highly skilled employees is intense in our industry. The design and the installation of our systems requires substantial technical capabilities in many disparate disciplines from mechanics and computer science to electronics and advanced software. Our future success depends on our ability to attract, train, motivate and retain highly skilled employees. If we are unable to hire and retain skilled personnel, our growth may be restricted, the quality of our products and services diminished and our sales and the value of your investment reduced. We may be unable to retain our skilled employees or attract, assimilate and retain other highly skilled employees in the future.

We have not been consistently profitable and may not be profitable in the future

For the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2004 our sales were $18,261,065 and $29,725,718, respectively, and our net income (loss) was ($2,957,102) and $44,021, respectively. Our profitability has not been continuous and we can make no assurance that we will be profitable in the future.

Our quarterly results will continue to fluctuate

Edgar Filing: Henry Bros. Electronics, Inc. - Form 424B3

Our quarterly results have varied significantly in the past and will likely continue to do so in the future due to a variety of factors, including the timing and nature of projects from which revenues are recognized during any particular quarter. Such fluctuations may contribute to the volatility in the market price for our common stock.

Sale of our services and products frequently involves a substantial commitment of resources to evaluate a potential project and prepare a proposal. In addition, approval of proposals often involves a lengthy process due to clients' internal procedures and capital expenditure approval processes. We may not be awarded a project that we have prepared a proposal for and, even if we are, a substantial period of time may elapse from when we made the proposal to when we recognize sales from the project.

We may make acquisitions or form joint ventures that are unsuccessful

Part of our growth strategy may involve acquisitions or joint ventures with other system integrators. This strategy is subject to the following risks:

- o We may not be able to identify suitable acquisition and joint venture candidates.
- o If the purchase price of an acquisition includes cash, we may need to use a significant portion of our available cash.
- o Even if we make an acquisition of a company or form a joint venture, we could have difficulty assimilating the acquired company's operations and personnel or working with the joint venture. These difficulties could disrupt our ongoing business, distract our management and employees and increase our expenses and charges, and, thus, could have a material impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- o We may not be able to retain key employees of the acquired companies or maintain good relations with its customers or suppliers.
- o We may be required to incur additional debt.
- o We may be required to issue equity securities to pay for acquisition, which will dilute existing shareholders.
- o We may have to incur significant accounting charges, such as impairment of intangible assets, which may adversely affect our results of operations.

We have limited cash and may not be able to receive additional financing

As of September 30, 2005, we had approximately $714,489 in cash. We believe that this, together with anticipated cash flows from operation and amounts available under our $4 million revolving line of credit with our bank will be sufficient to satisfy our working capital requirements for the foreseeable future. However, we may need to seek additional financing sooner than we anticipate as a result of factors including but not limited to the following:

- o changes in operating plans
- o lower than anticipated sales
- o increased operating costs; and
- o potential acquisitions

However, additional financing may not be available on commercially reasonable terms, if at all.

Our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Operating Officer own the majority of our common stock and their interests may be different from and conflict with yours

Mr. Henry and Mr. Witcosky beneficially own a total of approximately 47.54% of our outstanding common stock, without taking into account shares issuable under common stock purchase warrants and stock options. Accordingly, if they act together, they will have the power to control the election of all of our directors and other issues for which the approval of our shareholders is required.

Our stock price may fluctuate, which may make it difficult to resell your shares at attractive prices

The market price of our common stock may be highly volatile. The market prices of securities of other technologically oriented companies of similar size have been extremely volatile. Factors that could cause volatility in our stock price include:

- o fluctuations in our quarterly operating results;
- o changes in the market valuations of other security or technology companies and stock market prices and volume fluctuations generally;
- o economic conditions specific to the security industry;
- o announcements by us or our competitors relating to new services or technologies, significant acquisitions, strategic relationships, joint ventures or capital commitments;
- o applicable regulatory developments; and
- o additions or departures of our key personnel.

The trading volume in our common stock fluctuates and as a result you may find it difficult to sell your shares of our common stock

Our common stock is listed on the American Stock Exchange. Trading in our common stock fluctuates and on some trading days is minimal. Failure to maintain an active trading market in our common stock could negatively affect the price of our common stock and your ability to sell our common stock.

If we are delisted from the American Stock Exchange, you may also find it more difficult to trade our common stock due to "penny stock" rules.

Edgar Filing: Henry Bros. Electronics, Inc. - Form 424B3

If we are unable to satisfy the requirements for continued listing on the American Stock Exchange, trading, if any, in our common stock would be conducted in the over-the-counter market in what is commonly referred to as the "pink sheets" or on the OTC Bulletin Board. In this event, it may be extremely difficult to sell or trade our common stock.

Availability of significant amount of our common stock for sale could cause its market price to decline

If our stockholders sell substantial amounts of our common stock in the public market following this offering or the perception exists that such sales could occur, including shares issued upon exercise of outstanding common stock purchase options, the market price of our common stock could fall.

As of January 30, 2006, there were 5,889,399 shares of our common stock issued and outstanding. An additional 45,996 shares issuable under outstanding options are being registered for resale under this prospectus. A sale of all or a significant portion of these shares could have an adverse impact on our stock price.

USE OF PROCEEDS

If the options are issued to the Selling Stockholder, we would receive a maximum of $321,372 as a result of such exercises. Notwithstanding, there is no assurance the options will be exercised. If we receive any proceeds from the exercised options, these proceeds will be used for general working capital purposes. The net proceeds from the sale of the securities covered by this prospectus will be received by the Selling Shareholder. We will not receive any of the proceeds from any sale by the Selling Shareholder of the securities covered by this prospectus.

SELLING SHAREHOLDER

The following table sets forth, as of January 30, 2006, information as to the shares of common stock that may be sold in this offering by the Selling Shareholder. Because the Selling Shareholder may offer all or a portion of the shares of common stock offered by this prospectus at any time and from time to time after the date hereof, we cannot predict the number of shares that the Selling Shareholder may retain upon completion of this offering. In the table below, the percentage ownership after the offering is based upon the assumed sale by the Selling Shareholder of all shares it may offer for sale pursuant to this prospectus. Beneficial ownership includes both outstanding common stock and shares issuable upon the exercise of options. One option for the purchase of 40,000 is exercisable during a five-year period commencing November 5, 2001. A second option for the purchase of 5,996 shares is exercisable during a five-year period commencing on November 5, 2002. The percentage of beneficial ownership for Selling Shareholder is calculated based on 5,889,399 shares of common stock issued and outstanding at January 30, 2006, plus the additional shares that the Selling Shareholder is deemed to beneficially own as set forth in the table, which includes the shares offered by this prospectus. The exercise prices of the options pursuant to which those additional securities are issuable are subject to adjustment in certain circumstances. The shares offered by this prospectus shall be deemed to include shares offered by any pledgee, donee, transferee or other successor in interest of the Selling Shareholder listed below, provided that this prospectus is amended or supplemented if required by applicable law.

Edgar Filing: Henry Bros. Electronics, Inc. - Form 424B3

The information in this table is based upon information provided by each respective Selling Shareholder.

The Selling Shareholder may use any one or more of the following methods when disposing of shares or interests therein:

The Selling Shareholder may, from time to time, pledge or grant a security interest in some or all of the shares of common stock owned by it and, if they default in the performance of their secured obligations, the pledgees or secured parties may offer and sell the shares of common stock, from time to time, under this prospectus, or under an amendment to this prospectus under Rule 424(b)(3) or other applicable provision of the Securities Act amending the list of Selling Shareholder to include the pledgee, transferee or other successors in interest as selling stockholders under this prospectus. The Selling Shareholder also may transfer the shares of common stock in other circumstances, in which case the transferees, pledgees or other successors in interest will be the selling beneficial owners for purposes of this prospectus.

In connection with the sale of our common stock or interests therein, the Selling Shareholder may enter into hedging transactions with broker-dealers or other financial institutions, which may in turn engage in short sales of the common stock in the course of hedging the positions they assume. The Selling Shareholder may also sell shares of our common stock short and deliver these securities to close out their short positions, or loan or pledge the common stock to broker-dealers that in turn may sell these securities. The Selling Shareholder may also enter into option or other transactions with broker-dealers or other financial institutions or the creation of one or more derivative securities which require the delivery to such broker-dealer or other financial institution of shares offered by this prospectus, which shares such broker-dealer or other financial institution may resell pursuant to this prospectus (as supplemented or amended to reflect such transaction).

The aggregate proceeds to the Selling Shareholder from the sale of the common stock offered by it will be the purchase price of the common stock less discounts or commissions, if any. The Selling Shareholder reserves the right to accept and, together with its agents from time to time, to reject, in whole or in part, any proposed purchase of common stock to be made directly or through agents. We will not receive any of the proceeds from this offering. Upon any exercise of the warrants by payment of cash, however, we will receive the exercise price of the warrants.

The Selling Shareholder also may resell all or a portion of the shares in open market transactions in reliance upon Rule 144 under the Securities Act of 1933, provided that it meets the criteria and conform to the requirements of that rule.

The Selling Shareholder and any underwriters, broker-dealers or agents that participate in the sale of the common stock or interests therein may be

"underwriters" within the meaning of Section 2(11) of the Securities Act. Any discounts, commissions, concessions or profit they earn on any resale of the shares may be underwriting discounts and commissions under the Securities Act. Selling shareholders who are "underwriters" within the meaning of Section 2(11) of the Securities Act will be subject to the prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act.

To the extent required, the shares of our common stock to be sold, the names of any selling shareholders, the respective purchase prices and public offering prices, the names of any agents, dealer or underwriter, any applicable commissions or discounts with respect to a particular offer will be set forth in an accompanying prospectus supplement or, if appropriate, a post-effective amendment to the registration statement that includes this prospectus.

In order to comply with the securities laws of some states, if applicable, the common stock may be sold in these jurisdictions only through registered or licensed brokers or dealers. In addition, in some states the common stock may not be sold unless it has been registered or qualified for sale or an exemption from registration or qualification requirements is available and is complied with.

We have advised the Selling Shareholder that the anti-manipulation rules of Regulation M under the Exchange Act may apply to sales of shares in the market and to the activities of the Selling Shareholder and its affiliates. In addition, we will make copies of this prospectus (as it may be supplemented or amended from time to time) available to the Selling Shareholder for the purpose of satisfying the prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act. The Selling Shareholder may indemnify any broker-dealer that participates in transactions involving the sale of the shares against certain liabilities, including liabilities arising under the Securities Act.

We have agreed to indemnify the Selling Shareholder against liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act and state securities laws, relating to the registration of the shares offered by this prospectus.

We have agreed with the Selling Shareholder to keep the registration statement of which this prospectus constitutes a part effective until the earlier of (1) such time as all of the shares covered by this prospectus have been disposed of pursuant to and in accordance with the registration statement or (2) the date on which the shares may be sold pursuant to Rule 144(k) of the Securities Act.

Anti-Takeover Effects of Provisions of Delaware Law

Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law contains provisions that may make the acquisition of control of our company by means of a tender offer, open market purchase, proxy fight or otherwise, more difficult. We must comply with the provisions of this law. In general, Section 203 prohibits a publicly held Delaware corporation from engaging in a "business combination" with an "interested stockholder" for a period of three years after the date of the transaction in which the person became an interested stockholder, unless the business combination is approved in a prescribed manner.

A "business combination" includes a merger, asset sale or other transaction resulting in a financial benefit to the interested stockholder. An "interested stockholder" is a person who, together with affiliates and associates, owns, or, in some cases, within three years prior, did own, 15% or more of the corporation's voting stock. Under Section 203, a business combination between us and an interested stockholder is prohibited unless it satisfies one of the following three conditions:

- o our board of directors must have previously approved either the business combination or the transaction that resulted in the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder;
- o upon consummation of the transaction that resulted in the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder, the interested stockholder owned at least 85% of our voting stock outstanding at the time the transaction commenced, excluding, for purposes of determining the number of shares outstanding, shares owned by (1) persons who are directors and also officers and (2) employee stock plans, in some instances; and

- o the business combination is approved by our board of directors and authorized at an annual or special meeting of the stockholders by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least 66 2/3% of our outstanding voting stock that is not owned by the interested stockholder.
