PRESENTATION OF FINANCIAL AND OTHER INFORMATION

Beginning for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2002, Natuzzi S.p.A. (Natuzzi or the Company) published its audited consolidated financial statements (the Consolidated Financial Statements) in euro, the single currency established for certain members of the European Union (including Italy) upon the commencement of the third stage of the European Monetary Union (the EMU) on January 1, 1999. For fiscal years ending before December 31, 2002, the Company published its audited consolidated financial statements in Italian lire, which was legal tender in Italy prior to March 1, 2002. All amounts in the Consolidated Financial Statements for each period prior to January 1, 2002 have been restated into euro amounts using the official lira-euro exchange rate as of January 1, 1999 (euro 1 is equal to lire 1,936.27).

In this annual report, references to euro are to the euro; references to lira , lire or Lit. are to the Italian lira (singular) or to the Italian lire (plural); and references to U.S. dollars , dollars , U.S.$ or $ are to United States dollar Amounts stated in U.S. dollars, unless otherwise indicated, have been translated from the euro amount by converting the euro amounts into U.S. dollars at the noon buying rate in New York City for cable transfers in foreign currencies as certified for customs purposes by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (the Noon Buying Rate) for euro on December 31, 2003 of U.S.$ 1.2597 per euro.

These foreign currency conversions in this annual report should not be taken as representations that the foreign currency amounts actually represent the equivalent U.S. dollar amounts or could be converted into U.S. dollars at the rates indicated.

The Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report are prepared in conformity with accounting principles established by, and (in the absence of such established principles) accounting principles of the International Accounting Standards Committee adopted by, the Italian accounting profession (Italian GAAP). These principles vary in certain significant respects from generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (U.S. GAAP). See Note 26 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report.

On June 7, 2002 the Company changed its name from Industrie Natuzzi S.p.A. to Natuzzi S.p.A.

Selected Financial Data

The following table sets forth selected consolidated financial data for the periods indicated and is qualified by reference to, and should be read in conjunction with, the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements and the notes thereto included in Item 18 of this annual report and the Operating and Financial Review and Prospects included in Item 5 of this annual report. The income statement and balance sheet data presented below have been derived from the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements. The Company, together with its subsidiaries (collectively, the Group), is primarily engaged in the design, manufacture and marketing of contemporary and traditional leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture, principally sofas, loveseats, armchairs, sectional furniture, motion furniture and sofa beds, and living room accessories.

The Consolidated Financial Statements from which the selected consolidated financial data set forth below has been derived were prepared in accordance with Italian GAAP, which differs in certain respects from U.S. GAAP. For a discussion of the principal differences between Italian GAAP and U.S. GAAP as they relate to the Company's consolidated net earnings and shareholders' equity, see Note 26 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report.

- (4) Other income (expense), net is principally affected by gains and losses, as well as interest income and expenses, resulting from measures adopted by the Company in an effort to reduce its exposure to exchange rate risks. See Item 5, "Operating and Financial Review and Prospects - Results of Operations - 2003 Compared to 2002", Item 11, "Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk" and Notes 3, 23 and 24 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report.

Table of ContentsExchange Rates

Fluctuations in the exchange rates between the euro and the U.S. dollar will affect the U.S. dollar amounts received by owners of American Depositary Shares (ADSs) on conversion by the Depositary (as defined below) of dividends paid in euro on the Ordinary Shares represented by the ADSs.

In addition, most of the Group's costs are denominated in euro, while a substantial portion of its revenues is denominated in currencies other than the euro, including the U.S. dollar in particular. Accordingly, in order to protect the euro value of its foreign currency revenues, the Group engages in transactions designed to reduce its exposure to fluctuations in the exchange rate between the euro and such foreign currencies. See Item 5, Operating and Financial Review and Prospects Results of Operations 2003 Compared to 2002 and Item 11, Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk .

The following table sets forth the Noon Buying Rate for the euro expressed in U.S. dollars per euro.

Risk Factors

Investing in the Company's ADSs involves certain risks. You should carefully consider each of the following risks and all of the information included in this annual report.

Demand for furniture is cyclical and may fall in the future

Historically, the furniture industry has been cyclical, fluctuating with economic cycles, and sensitive to general economic conditions, housing starts, interest rate levels, credit availability and other factors that affect consumer spending habits. Due to the discretionary nature of most furniture purchases and the fact that they often represent a significant expenditure to the average consumer, such purchases may be deferred during times of economic uncertainty.

In 2003, the Group derived 47.5 % of its leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture net sales from the United States and the Americas, and 46.5% from Europe. A prolonged economic slowdown in the United States and Europe may have a material adverse effect on the Group's results of operations.

The Group operates principally in a niche area of the furniture market

The Group is a leader in the production of leather-upholstered furniture, with 81.6% of 2003 net sales being derived from the sale of leather-upholstered furniture. That represents a limited, but growing, portion of the market for upholstered furniture. Consumers have the choice of purchasing upholstered furniture in a wide variety of styles, and consumer preference may change. There can be no assurance that the current market for leather-upholstered furniture will not decrease.

The furniture market is highly competitive

The furniture industry is highly competitive and includes a large number of manufacturers. Competition has increased significantly over the past few years as companies manufacturing in low-cost countries have begun to play an important role in the upholstery industry. No single company has a dominant position in the industry. Competition is generally based on product quality, brand name recognition, price and service.

The Group's principal competitors are other manufacturers of upholstered furniture. In the United States, the Group competes with a number of relatively large companies, some of which (particularly certain of those manufacturing fabric-upholstered furniture as one of a number of diversified operations) are larger than the Group. The upholstered furniture market in Europe is highly fragmented.

Some of the Group's competitors have attempted to increase market share at the expense of the Group by copying the Group's products and selling such products at lower prices than the Group. Management believes that such attempts to produce copies of the Group's products that are comparable in design have had success in the past and may continue to have success in the future. The Group has instituted legal proceedings to defend its competitive position, even though such initiatives require time and resources to be effective. No assurance can be given that the Group will be able to maintain its competitive position.

The Group's results are subject to exchange rate risks and other risks related to the Group's international operations

The Group is subject to currency exchange rate risk in the ordinary course of its business to the extent that its costs are denominated in currencies other than those in which it earns revenues. Exchange rate fluctuations also affect the Group's operating results because it recognizes revenues and costs in currencies other than euro but publishes its financial statements in euro. The Group's sales and results may be materially affected by exchange rate fluctuations. For more information, see Item 11, Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk.

The Group faces other risks relating to its international operations, including changes in governmental regulations, tariffs or taxes and other trade barriers, price, wage and exchange controls, political, social and economic stability, inflation and interest rate fluctuations.

Table of Contents

The price of the Group's principal raw material is difficult to predict

Leather is used in approximately 75% of the Group's upholstered furniture, and the acquisition of cattle hides represents approximately 35% of total cost of goods sold. The raw hides market's dynamics are dependent on the consumption of beef, the levels of worldwide slaughtering, worldwide weather conditions and on different sectors levels of demand: shoe manufacturers, leather automotive, furniture and clothing. The Group's ability to increase product prices following increases in raw material costs is limited by market forces, and therefore the Group may not be able to maintain its margins during periods of significant increases in raw material costs.

The Group's past results and operations have significantly benefited from government incentive programs which may not be available in the future

Historically, the Group has derived significant benefits from the Italian Government's investment incentive programs for under-industrialized regions in Southern Italy, including tax benefits, subsidized loans and capital grants. See Item 4, "Information on the Company's Incentive Programs and Tax Benefits". The Italian Parliament has replaced these incentive programs for under-industrialized regions in Southern Italy with a new investment incentive program for all under-industrialized regions in Italy, which is currently being implemented through grants and research and development benefits. The Italian Parliament has also approved a tax credit for companies investing in under-industrialized regions in Italy. There can be no assurance that the Group will receive these grants, benefits or tax credits for any of its current or future investments in Italy.

In recent years, the Group has opened manufacturing operations in China, Brazil and Romania that have been granted with tax benefits and export incentives. There can be no assurance that these tax benefits and export incentives will continue to be available to the Group in the future.

The Group is dependent on qualified personnel

The Group's ability to maintain its competitive position will depend to some degree upon its ability to continue to attract and maintain highly qualified managerial, manufacturing and sales and marketing personnel. There can be no assurance that the Group will be able to continue to recruit and retain such personnel. In particular, the Group has been dependent on certain key management personnel in the past, and there can be no assurance that the loss of key personnel would not have a material adverse effect on the Group's results of operations.

Control of the Company

Mr. Pasquale Natuzzi, who founded the Company and is currently Chairman of the Board of Directors and Chief Executive Officer, owns 47.7% of the issued and outstanding Ordinary Shares of the Company (52.8% of the Ordinary Shares if the Ordinary Shares owned by members of Mr. Natuzzi's immediate family (the "Natuzzi Family") are aggregated) and controls the Company, including its management and the selection of its Board of Directors. As of December 16, 2003, Mr. Natuzzi holds his entire beneficial ownership of Natuzzi S.p.A. shares (other than 196 ADSs) through INVEST 2003 S.r.l., an Italian holding company (having its registered office at Via Gobetti 8, Taranto, Italy) wholly-owned by Mr. Natuzzi.

In addition, the Natuzzi Family has a right of first refusal to purchase all the rights, warrants or other instruments which The Bank of New York, as Depositary under the Deposit Agreement dated as of May 15, 1993, as amended and restated as of December 31, 2001 (the "Deposit Agreement"), among the Company, The Bank of New York, as Depositary (the "Depositary"), and owners and beneficial owners of American Depositary Receipts ("ADRs"), determines may not lawfully or feasibly be made available to owners of ADSs in connection with each rights offering, if any, made to holders of Ordinary Shares.

Investors may face difficulties in protecting their rights as shareholders or holders of ADSs

The Company is incorporated under the laws of the Republic of Italy. As a result, the rights and obligations of its shareholders and certain rights and obligations of holders of its ADSs are governed by Italian law and the Company's Statuto (or By-laws). These rights and obligations are different from those that apply to U.S. corporations. Furthermore, under Italian law, holders of ADSs have no right to vote the shares underlying their ADSs, although under the Deposit Agreement, ADS holders have the right to give instructions to The Bank of New York, the ADS depository, as to how they wish such shares to be voted. For these reasons, the Company's ADS holders may find it more difficult to protect their interests against actions of the Company's management, board of directors or shareholders than they would as shareholders of a corporation incorporated in the United States.

Forward Looking Information

Natuzzi makes forward-looking statements in this annual report. Statements that are not historical facts, including statements about the Group's beliefs and expectations, are forward-looking statements. Words such as believe, expect, intend, plan and anticipate and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements but are not exclusive means of identifying such statements. These statements are based on current plans, estimates and projections, and therefore readers should not place undue reliance on them. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the dates they were made, and the Company undertakes no obligation to update or revise any of them, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

Forward-looking statements involve inherent risks and uncertainties. The Company cautions readers that a number of important factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement. Such factors include, but are not limited to: effects on the Group from competition with other furniture producers, material changes in consumer demand or preferences, significant economic developments in the Group's primary markets, significant changes in labor, material and other costs affecting the construction of new plants, significant changes in the costs of principal raw materials, significant exchange rate movements or changes in the Group's legal and regulatory environment, including developments related to the Italian Government's investment incentive or similar programs. Natuzzi cautions readers that the foregoing lists of important factors are not exhaustive. When relying on forward-looking statements to make decisions with respect to the Company, investors and others should carefully consider the foregoing factors and other uncertainties and events.

Item 4. Information on the Company

Introduction

The Group is primarily engaged in the design, manufacture and marketing of contemporary and traditional leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture, principally sofas, loveseats, armchairs, sectional furniture, motion furniture and sofa beds, and living room accessories. The Group has positioned its products principally in the medium price range and emphasizes value, quality, style, variety and service.

The Group is the world's leader in the production of leather-upholstered furniture and has a leading share of the market for leather-upholstered furniture in the United States and Europe (as reported by CSIL (CSIL), an Italian market research firm, with reference to market information related to the year 2002). In 2000, the Company launched Italsofa, a new promotional brand aimed at the low end of the upholstery market, while in January 2002, the Company introduced the new logo for the Natuzzi brand, which is aimed at identifying the Company's medium to high end of the market products. The Group currently designs 100% of its products and manufactures directly or through third parties approximately 70% of its products in Italy. Production outside of Italy is solely for the Italsofa brand. Within Italy, the Group sells its furniture principally through franchised Divani & Divani by Natuzzi furniture stores. As at March 31, 2004, 137 Divani & Divani by Natuzzi stores were located in Italy. Outside of Italy, the Group sells its furniture principally on a wholesale basis to major retailers and also through 75 stores named Natuzzi Store and 29 Divani & Divani by Natuzzi stores. The Group also sells furniture through 13 Kingdom of Leather stores, which it purchased in 2003.

On June 7, 2002 the Company changed its name from Industrie Natuzzi S.p.A. to Natuzzi S.p.A. The Company, which operates under the trademark Natuzzi, is a società per azioni (stock company) organized under the laws of the Republic of Italy and was established in 1959 by Mr. Pasquale Natuzzi, who is currently Chairman of the Board of Directors, Chief Executive Officer and controlling shareholder of the Company. Substantially all of the Company's operations are carried out through various subsidiaries that individually conduct a specialized activity, such as leather processing, foam production and shaping, furniture manufacturing, marketing or administration.

In an effort to maximize the efficiency of the Group's organizational structure, at an extraordinary general meeting on November 21, 2003, the Company's shareholders approved the merger of Style & Comfort S.r.l into the Company (the Company owned 100% of the capital stock of Style & Comfort S.r.l. prior to the merger). The merger became effective on January 1, 2004.

The Company's principal executive offices are located at Via Iazzitiello 47, 70029 Santeramo, Italy, which is approximately 25 miles from Bari, in Southern Italy. The Company's telephone number is: +39 080 882 0111. The Company's main subsidiaries engaged in the distribution of the Group's products are Natuzzi Americas, Inc. (Natuzzi Americas), located at 130 West Commerce Avenue, High Point, North Carolina 27261 (telephone number +1 336 887-8300), for the U.S. market, and Natuzzi Asia Ltd, located at Unit 2005 20th Floor, Tower 1, The Gateway, 25 Canton Road, Tsimshatsui, Kowloon H.K. (telephone number +852 2 6224646), for Asia.

Strategy

Since 1981, the Group has concentrated its efforts mainly on the production and marketing of leather-upholstered furniture. Since 1983, when the Group first targeted the United States market, the leather-upholstered furniture market in the United States has expanded significantly, due in large part, in the view of management, to the sale, marketing and quality of Natuzzi products. According to the most recent data available referring to year 2002 (as published in 2003 by CSIL (CSIL), an Italian market research firm) the Group is the leader in the leather-upholstered furniture segment in the United States, with a 10.7% market share. In the United States, the initial efforts of the Company were concentrated on increasing the size of the leather-upholstered furniture segment in the overall furniture market. Having accomplished that goal, and facing increased competition at the low end of the leather furniture market, the Group is pursuing a strategy of producing higher quality furniture, available in different styles and coverings (leather, fabric and micro fiber), at all price points.

Since 1988, the Group has followed a strategy of diversifying its geographic markets through increased emphasis on sales outside the United States, particularly in Europe. The Group has increased its market share in the highly fragmented European market, at the expense of its smaller European competitors, by relying on the efficiency of its manufacturing capabilities to produce higher quality products than its competitors, at comparable price points.

With 13 years of retail experience, Natuzzi has also begun to focus on increasing its market share in the highly fragmented global furniture retail market by opening additional stores that sell upholstered-furniture and accessories with the Natuzzi brand. As at March 31, 2004, 137 Divani & Divani by Natuzzi stores were located in Italy. Outside of Italy, the Group had 75 stores named Natuzzi Store and 29 Divani & Divani by Natuzzi stores. As at March 31, 2004, the Group also owned 13 Kingdom of Leather stores, which were purchased in 2003. Additionally, in 2003 the Group opened its flagship store in Soho, in New York City, to enhance its brand awareness in the United States and around the world. The Group's current marketing strategy for its Natuzzi brand is to create brand awareness around the world.

The Group has also taken a number of steps to broaden its product lines. In 1991, the Group introduced a line of leather-upholstered motion furniture in the United States and Europe. With the June 1994 acquisition of a controlling interest in Spagnesi S.p.A. (Spagnesi), the Company entered into the market for traditional upholstered furniture. Finally, in 1996, the Group launched its fabric-upholstered furniture line, known as the soft cover collection , which is sold primarily in Europe.

In 1999, the Group further broadened its product offerings by introducing a new concept, the Decorator , intended to add further value to its product offerings. The Decorator concept is designed to provide customers with room package solutions by helping consumers abilities to live in tastefully furnished homes within their economic means. The concept involves developing these interior design solutions by coordinating the Group's armchairs and sofas (in different styles and coverings) with matching coffee tables, lamps and rugs, in order to develop innovative alternatives to more traditional living room decoration schemes. The Group believes that this service simplifies the work of the retailer, who otherwise would be required to source individual furniture pieces from different suppliers and employ dedicated interior decorators in order to offer similarly comprehensive decor solutions to consumers. Management believes that this new approach will strengthen the Group's relationships with the world's leading distribution chains. Today, an evolved version of the Decorator concept called the Total Look Living Room is available through Natuzzi Galleries (described below) and Natuzzi Stores.

As a way of improving service through the reduction of delivery times, the Group introduced the SoFast Program in October 1999. The SoFast Program is a furniture collection characterized by high quality and distinctive design, which is offered to clients at faster delivery times than the Group's other collections.

In October 2000, the Group launched the Italsofa Collection , aiming to compete in the promotional segment with a collection of lower-priced furniture identified by a distinctive brand associated with Italian quality and style. The production of Italsofa started in January 2001 and has since sold successfully. In 2003, Italsofa represented 30.5 % of total seats sold by the Group.

Table of Contents

The Group's marketing and production strategy is supported by its design capabilities, on demand planning system and quality control procedures. Management believes that these elements enable the Group to provide products that are higher in quality than those of its competitors at comparable price points. In addition, management believes that its ability to assess and adapt quickly to changes in consumer preferences provides the Group with a competitive advantage. A critical element of the Group's strategy has been its ability to increase efficiency by coordinating all aspects of the product cycle and manufacturing process through the use of its computerized management information system. This coordination begins with the design of new products for specific price points based on computer analysis of market demands, as reflected in orders from and sales to its customers and other market information provided by the Group's worldwide network of sales agents. The Group then uses its management information system to monitor and control the costs and prices of each element and product, as well as supervise the receipt of orders from customers. Furthermore, this information system also allows the Group to administer the purchase and process of raw materials, the manufacturing of finished products and the delivery of finished products to customers.

The Company has retained the Natuzzi brand for its higher priced product lines and is investing resources in consumer advertising to increase brand awareness. In January 2002, during the Cologne Furniture Fair in Germany, the Company launched a new visual image campaign to strengthen the Natuzzi name. The campaign aims to identify the brand with the Group's goal of satisfying a broad range of consumer lifestyles and tastes. In 2003, the Natuzzi brand represented 69.5 % of total seats sold by the Group.

In October 2002, the Group launched the Pasquale Natuzzi Collection, which offers customers high-range distinctive products in terms of design, materials and project development.

In 2002, the Company also launched a new Natuzzi Galleries program in an effort to improve distribution by installing a designated Natuzzi branded space inside prime retailer stores (this concept is also referred to as having a shop-in-shop). The advertising and the internal decorations used in these Natuzzi Galleries (also known as the Natuzzi Display System) are the same as those used in the Natuzzi Stores, resulting in a single visual identity for the Natuzzi brand in Natuzzi Stores and Natuzzi Galleries. Test Natuzzi Galleries have been opened around the world and the monitoring of sales indicates that in almost all the locations revenues per square foot increased at these locations following the installation of the Natuzzi Galleries.

Since 2002, the Group's Interior Design & Engineering Retail Department has been working with worldwide Natuzzi Stores, Natuzzi Galleries and certain other Natuzzi projects for the purpose of achieving the careful and coherent integration of products, styles, brand values, communication and display elements.

Manufacturing

As at December 31, 2003, the Group manufactured its products in 13 production facilities located in Italy. Nine of the facilities are engaged in the cutting, sewing and assembling of semi-finished and finished products and employ approximately 2,193 workers. Ten of these assembly facilities are located in or within a 25 mile radius of Santeramo, where the Company has its headquarters. In addition, Spagnesi manufactures its products in a facility located in Quarrata, near Florence.

The assembly operations conducted in the Group's facilities involve stretching elastic webbing onto the furniture's frames (which are constructed either at the Group's principal assembly facility or by subcontractors), attaching foam to the frames, and cutting and sewing the upholstery and attaching it to the frames. These operations, which retain many characteristics of production by hand, are coordinated at the Group's principal assembly facilities through the use of the management information system, which identifies by number each component of a piece of furniture e.g., frame, cushions, leather and facilitates its automated transit and storage within the factory, in part through a bar-coded bin and pick system. As part of an effort to decrease costs through increased productivity and flexibility, automatic guided vehicles supervised by a central computer have been installed at one of the Group's principal assembly facilities to move products through the production chain. In other facilities, materials are currently moved by hand or conveyor belt, rather than on an automated basis. The production process for Spagnesi's traditional upholstered furniture includes the additional step of manufacturing and finishing the exposed portions of the wooden frames. Operations at all of the Group's production facilities are normally conducted Monday through Friday with two eight-hour shifts per day.

Two of the Group's production facilities are involved in the processing of leather hides to be used as upholstery. One of the facilities is a leather dyeing and finishing plant located near Udine that employed approximately 312 workers as at December 31, 2003. The Udine facility receives both raw and tanned cattle hides, sends raw cattle hides to subcontractors for tanning, and then dyes and finishes the hides. The other facility, located near Vicenza, is a warehousing operation that receives semi-finished hides and sends them to various subcontractors (who operate under the supervision of Natuzzi technicians) for processing, drying and finishing, and then arranges for the finished leather to be shipped to the Group's assembly facilities. The Vicenza operation employed approximately 30 workers as at December 31, 2003. Hides are tanned, dyed and finished on the basis of orders given by the Group's central office in accordance with the Group's on demand planning system, as well as on the basis of estimates of future requirements. The movement of hides through the various stages of processing is monitored through the management information system. See Supply-Chain Management.

The Group produces, directly and by subcontracting, 9 grades of leather in approximately 41 finishes and 274 colors. The hides, after being tanned, are split and shaved to obtain uniform thickness and separated into top grain and split. (Top grain is used, in varying quantities, in the manufacture of all Natuzzi leather products, while split is used in addition to top grain in some of the Group's lower price-point products.) The hides are then colored with dyes and treated with fat liquors to soften and smoothen the leather, after which they are dried. Finally, the semi-processed hides are treated to improve the appearance and strength of the leather and to provide the desired finish. The Group also purchases finished hides from third parties.

One of the Group's production facilities, which is located near Naples and employs approximately 56 workers, is engaged in the production of flexible polyurethane foam and, with production capacity in excess of the Group's needs, often sells foam to third parties. The foam produced at the Naples facility pursuant to a patented process results in a high quality material without using any auxiliary blowing agent and is sold under the *Eco-Flex*TM trade name.

The Group owns the land and buildings for its principal assembly facilities located in Santeramo, Matera, Altamura and Quarrata, its leather dyeing and finishing facility located near Udine, its foam-production facility located near Naples and its facilities located in Ginosa, Laterza, Brazil and Romania, while the land and buildings of the remaining production facilities are leased from lessors, with several of whom the Group enjoys long-term relationships. Although the lease terms are of varying lengths, Italian law provides that any such lease must have a minimum term of six years. This minimum term, however, is enforceable only by the lessee. The lease agreements provide for rents that generally increase each year in line with inflation. Management believes that the prospects are good for renewing the agreements on acceptable terms when they expire. The Group owns substantially all the equipment used in its facilities.

Table of Contents

In 2000, the Group announced the launch of a new, low-price upholstered furniture collection, known as Italsofa. The Company plans to manufacture the Italsofa Collection completely outside Italy at plants located in Brazil, China and Romania.

As at December 31, 2003, the Group entrusted approximately 20% of its production needs (in particular assembly) to subcontractors, all located within a 20-mile radius of Santeramo. The Group supplies to each subcontractor the product design, the finished leather, the pre-cut cushions, the wooden frames and the other assembly materials. Each subcontractor then assembles these materials into finished products under the supervision of the Group's technicians, who are responsible for quality control. Each contract with a subcontractor is for an indefinite period, subject to termination by either party with prior notice (which generally is required to be given 4 months prior to termination), and provides for the furniture to be assembled at a fixed cost per unit that increases annually in line with inflation. Management believes that four months' notice prior to termination is a sufficient period of time to allow the engagement of a replacement subcontractor on acceptable terms or to increase the Group's in-house production capability if necessary.

Raw Materials. The principal raw materials used in the manufacture of the Group's products are cattle hides, polyurethane foam, polyester fiber, wood and wood products.

The Group purchases hides from slaughterhouses and tanneries located mainly in Italy, Brazil, Colombia, Australia, Germany, Uruguay, Scandinavian countries, the United States, New Zealand, and Eastern Europe. The hides purchased by the Group are divided into several categories, with hides in the lowest categories being purchased mainly in Brazil, Colombia, and Ukraine; those in the middle categories being purchased mainly in Australia, New Zealand, Italy and the United States and those in the highest categories being purchased in Germany and Scandinavian countries. A significant number of hides in the lowest categories are purchased at the wet blue stage i.e., after tanning while some hides purchased in the middle and highest categories are unprocessed. The Group has implemented a leather purchasing policy according to which a percentage of leather is purchased at a finished or semi-finished stage. Therefore, the Group has had a smaller inventory of split leather to sell to third parties. Approximately 80% of the Group's hides are purchased from 19 suppliers, with whom the Group enjoys long-term and stable relationships. Hides are generally purchased from the suppliers pursuant to orders given every one/two months specifying the number of hides, the purchase price and the delivery date. Hides purchased from Europe are delivered directly by the suppliers to the Group's leather facilities near Udine and Vicenza, while those purchased overseas are delivered to an Italian port, where they are inspected by technicians of the Group and then sent to the Udine facility and subcontractors. Management believes that the Group is able to purchase leather hides from its suppliers at reasonable prices as a result of the volume of its orders, and that alternative sources of supply of hides in any category could be found quickly and at acceptable cost if the supply of hides in such category from one or several of the Group's current suppliers ceased to be available or was no longer available on acceptable terms. The supply of raw cattle hides is principally dependent upon the consumption of beef, rather than on the demand for leather.

During 2003, the price paid by the Group for cattle hides decreased due to an excess in supply of raw hides and due to the Group's purchasing policy focused on finding quality hides in easily-accessible markets. During the first months of 2004, prices for raw cattle hides have been unstable, primarily due to the general uncertainty in the worldwide economy.

The Group obtains the chemicals required for the production of polyurethane foam from major chemical companies located in Europe (including Germany, Italy and the United Kingdom) and the polyester fiber filling for its polyester fiber-filled cushions from several suppliers, located mainly in Korea, China and Taiwan. The chemical components of polyurethane foam are petroleum-based commodities, and the prices for such components are therefore subject to, among other things, fluctuations in the price of crude oil. The Group obtains wood and wood products for its wooden frames from suppliers in Italy and Eastern Europe, and recently, through its plants located in Romania, the Group began directly engaging in the cutting and transformation of wood from Romanian forests.

Since 1996, the Group has purchased fabric for its line of fabric-upholstered furniture from manufacturers in Italy, Taiwan, Korea and Japan. Of the fabric purchased by the Group, approximately 90% is ultramicrofibre.

With regard to the Group's collection of home furnishing accessories (tables, lamps, carpets, home accessories in different materials), most of the suppliers are located in Italy and other European countries, while some hand-made products (such as carpets) are made in India.

Supply-chain Management . The Group schedules its manufacture and supply of raw materials and components on the basis of an on demand planning system. This system allows the Group to manage a high number of product combinations (in terms of the number of models, versions and coverings codes) offered to the market while maintaining a high level of customer service, low inventories and low risk of obsolescence (in spite of low product lifetime). Special programs with short lead times are provided for a limited number of customers and collections/products combinations. All planning activities (finished goods load optimization, customer orders acknowledgement, production and supplier's planning) are synchronized in order to guarantee that during the production process, the correct materials are located in the right place at the right time, thereby achieving a maximum level of service and minimum handling and transportation costs.

This system is used for all products and markets in which the Group sells its goods. For example, in the case of furniture being purchased by a U.S. customer, as soon as an order is sent to the Group's sales office in the United States (High Point, North Carolina), the data is entered directly into the Group's central computer system, saving administrative lead time and allowing the Group to operate more efficiently.

In order to incur the lowest costs and achieve the best product quality, the Group attains the optimum load level for shipping through the use of tailor made software. Since the prices quoted to customers are based on shipments of full containers, if a customer's order does not represent optimal use of container space, revisions to the customer's order will be suggested. Upon finalization of the customer's order, the computer system generates an order proposal that is reviewed to determine feasibility in terms of the types of products, quantity and timing, based on customer requests. In order to incorporate all of the Group's new products (i.e., furnishings and accessories), the Group has launched a medium-long term project to develop more complete and sophisticated software.

This planning process allows for the optimum use of the available technology, capacity and human resources, while minimizing costs and achieving high quality. Once production is scheduled, the Group's Material Requirement Planning Information System produces a proposed list of raw materials and components to be ordered. This list is analyzed, reviewed and combined with the Group's global procurement scheduling. All purchases from suppliers are then planned. Procurement lead times are relatively short; leather is generally available within three weeks of ordering and certain components are supplied by a ready from stock service. The Group strives to achieve optimum levels of inventories while keeping service levels high by using state-of-the-art software.

The entire process, from the receipt of a customer's order to the shipment of the finished products from the Group's assembly facilities, on average takes from six to seven weeks, excluding backlog. The lead times can be different for special programs (such as Italsofa, and SoFast, described below) or when an unusually high level of orders is received. The time required for delivery to the customer varies depending on where the customer is located (transport lead times vary widely depending on the distance of the destination from the production units).

Table of Contents

Transportation. The Group's furniture is delivered to customers by common carriers. Furniture destined for the United States and the Americas and other markets outside Europe is transported by sea in 40' high cube (hc) containers, while furniture produced for the European market is generally delivered by truck and, in some cases, by railway and by sea in containers. In 2003, the Group shipped 16,931 containers (40' hc) to overseas countries and approximately 6,000 full load mega-trailer trucks to European destinations.

The Group relies principally on several shipping and trucking companies operating under time-volume service contracts to deliver its products to customers and to transport raw materials to the Company's plants and processed materials from one plant to another. In general, the Group prices its products to cover its door-to-door shipping costs, including all customs duties and insurance premiums. Most of the Group's overseas suppliers are responsible for delivering raw materials to the port of departure, therefore transportation costs for these materials are generally under the Group's control. The Group also owns a small number of trucks, which are used to transport raw and processed materials and finished products to and from subcontractors and between the Group's facilities in the Santeramo area.

Since September 2003 the Group has operated an on-line Transportation Portal to enable transportation suppliers to provide the Company with all relevant information, including rail station/port arrival, re-shipment and final delivery, about their assigned shipments.

Products and Design

Products. The Group manufactures a wide range of leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture products, which are produced in four different styles: traditional, transitional, contemporary and modern and fall within five broad categories: stationary furniture (sofas, loveseats and armchairs), sectional furniture, motion furniture, sofa beds and occasional chairs (including recliners and body massage chairs (launched in 2001)). The Group offers its products in 346 different models, 9 leather grades, 27 leather finishes and 177 colors. Each of the Group's models is generally offered in various forms (e.g., sofa, loveseat, armchair, ottoman, sectional components, motion mechanism and body massage chairs). Each model is offered at prices that vary depending principally on the quality and finish of the leather (including whether it is top grain only leather or top grain with split) and the quality of the cushions (including whether they are foam, polyester fiber or feather).

In October 2000, the Company announced the launch of the Italsofa Collection, with the aim of entering new markets by means of providing a collection of a lower-priced furniture identified by a distinctive brand associated with Italian quality and style. In 2003, the Italsofa Collection included 52 sofa models, in a choice of 39 colors made of three categories of leather, and in 19 colors made of two categories of microfiber.

Design. The ability to design and offer new products on a regular basis is an important element of the marketing strategy of the Group. The Group's designers generally design new models to be manufactured for sale at specified price points, on the basis of the Group's analysis of the market, and occasionally on the basis of requests from larger customers for new models.

Markets

The Group markets its products internationally as well as in Italy. Outside Italy, the Group sells its leather furniture principally on a wholesale basis to major retailers and furniture stores. Since 1990, the Group has sold its leather-upholstered products in Italy principally through franchised Divani & Divani by Natuzzi furniture stores.

Table of Contents

While continuing to increase its net sales in each of the geographic markets in which it operates, the Group has gradually achieved a more balanced exposure to different geographic markets. Whereas in 1987, the United States and the Americas accounted for approximately 92% of the Group's leather-upholstered furniture net sales, in 2003 the Group derived 47.5% of its leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture net sales from the United States and the Americas, 46.5% from Europe and 6.0% from the rest of the world (mainly Australia and Japan). See Strategy .

The following tables show the leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture net sales and unit sales (in seats) of the Group broken down by geographic market for each of the years indicated:

(1) Outside the United States, the Group also sells its products to customers in Canada and Central and South America (collectively, the Americas).

(2) Includes seats produced at Group-owned facilities and by subcontractors. Seats are a unit measurement. A sofa is counted as three seats, a chair as one seat.

United States and the Americas. In 2003, net sales of leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture in the United States and the Americas decreased 12.6% to 320.1 million, compared to 366.4 million in 2002, and the number of seats sold in the two principal markets of this region, the United States and Canada, rose 6.8% and 25.0%, respectively. The decrease of net sales was due to the conversion of U.S. sales into euro at an exchange rate that was unfavorable compared to the exchange rate available in 2002.

The Group's sales in the United States and the Americas are handled by Natuzzi Americas, the Group's distribution subsidiary for North and Latin America, which maintains offices in High Point, North Carolina, the heart of the most important furniture manufacturing and distributing region in the United States. The staff at High Point provides customer service, marketing and logistics, handles finance and collections, and generally acts as the customers' contact for the Group. As at December 31, 2003, the High Point operation had 67 employees.

Natuzzi Americas has 55 independent sales representatives and sub-reps in the United States and the Americas. They are supervised by four regional sales and marketing managers, one for each of the U.S. Eastern Region, U.S. Midwestern Region, U.S. Western Region/Latin America and Canada.

The Group's principal customers are major retailers. The Group advertises its products to retailers and, recently, to consumers in the United States and the Americas directly and through the use of various marketing tools. The Group also relies on its network of sales representatives and on the furniture fairs held at High Point each April and October to promote its products. Many of the Group's larger customers review part of the new offering of models during an informal pre-market period one month prior to each High Point fair.

Europe. In 2003, net sales of leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture in Europe (excluding Italy) decreased 3.3% to 242.2 million, compared to 250.4 million in 2002, due to difficult economic conditions throughout Europe.

Furniture retailers are generally smaller in Europe than in the United States. In Europe (outside Italy), the Group generally deals with cooperatives and chains representing 50 to 100 retailers, as well as with independent retailers. While the cooperatives place the orders, thereby obtaining the benefits of purchasing in volume, the Group delivers the products directly to the particular members of the cooperatives on whose behalf the orders were placed. In some cases, the Group invoices the cooperative. In others, the Group invoices the member of the cooperative to whom the products are delivered.

As in the United States, the Group advertises its products in Europe (outside Italy) to consumers and to retailers directly and through the use of various marketing tools. The Group also promotes its products in Europe through three recently established subsidiaries in Benelux, Scandinavia and Germany, as well as through a network of sales agents. The Group also participates in furniture fairs in the most important markets. As at December 31, 2003, the Group had 28 sales agents and sub-agents in Europe. These sales agents are paid on a commission basis.

Outside Italy, the Company uses franchised or directly owned stores to penetrate markets and implement brand strategies. As at December 31, 2003, 41 franchised single-brand stores were operating in Europe (outside Italy): 27 under the Divani & Divani by Natuzzi name (14 in Greece, 13 in Portugal) and 24 under the Natuzzi name (14 in France, 2 in Hungary, 2 in Malta and one in each of Switzerland, Cyprus, Slovenia, Croatia, Bosnia and Iceland). As at December 31 2003, there were 27 directly owned stores in Europe (outside Italy): 10 in Switzerland and 17 in Spain.

In October 2001, the Group acquired Divania Madrid S.A. (renamed Natuzzi Iberica S.A.), the exclusive dealer for the Madrid area, in order to qualify and support the development of the Natuzzi chain in Spain. As of December 31, 2003 the Company owned 17 stores in Spain and plans to increase its retail network in Spain in the future. In December 2001, the Group acquired 60% of Sofaworld AG, the exclusive dealer for German-speaking Switzerland. As of December 31, 2003, the Group has increased its ownership of Sofaworld AG to 97%, and has renamed it Natuzzi (Switzerland) AG/SA. The Group currently owns 10 Natuzzi Stores in Switzerland, and plans to further develop the chain in the Swiss market.

In May 2003, the Group acquired Kingdom of Leather, a leading UK upholstered furniture chain with a network of 13 stores, mainly locate in England.

Italy. In 2003, sales of leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture in Italy decreased 6.3% to 71.3 million, compared to 76.1 million in 2002.

Since 1990, the Group has sold its upholstered products within Italy principally through franchised Divani & Divani furniture stores (now Divani & Divani by Natuzzi). In July 2003, the first Divani & Divani outlet opened in Rome. As of March 31, 2004, 137 Divani & Divani by Natuzzi stores were located in Italy.

Asia-Pacific. Overall sales in Asia-Pacific remained stable in 2003 as compared to 2002 in terms of seats but declined by 3.5 % in terms of net sales. This was mainly due to the depreciation of the local currencies against the euro. In 2003 as compared to 2002, sales in the Group's main Asia-Pacific markets, Australia and Japan, increased by 16.4 % and 17.2%, respectively, mainly due to the opening of new stores and galleries. During 2003, the Group opened four new Natuzzi Stores in Australia, bringing the total to nine stores (two in Queensland, three in New South Wales, three in Victoria and one in Western Australia), and seven Natuzzi Galleries in David Jones department stores, also located in Australia, bringing the David Jones Natuzzi galleries to a total of twelve. Three new Natuzzi stores were also open in China. Sales in strategic markets, such as New Zealand, increased in 2003 as compared to 2002 by 7.5 %, while sales in the other Asian markets generally decreased.

The Group manages its Asia-Pacific sales through its Hong Kong subsidiary and through four agencies located in Australia, Japan, Korea and New Zealand.

Customer Credit Management. The Group maintains an active credit management program. The Group evaluates the creditworthiness of its customers on a case-by-case basis according to each customer's credit history and information available to the Group. Throughout the world, the Group utilizes open terms in 76% of its sales and obtains credit insurance for 79% of this amount; 20 % of the Group's remaining sales are commonly made to customers on a cash against documents and cash on delivery basis; and lastly 4% of the Group's sales are supported by a letter of credit or payment in advance .

Advertising. Advertising is made through all major media (print, radio, television and billboards). Advertising expenses varied depending on the degree of market development in the various countries in which the Group operates. The Company intends to increase its investments in advertising to support the Natuzzi brand.

Incentive Programs and Tax Benefits

Historically, the Group has derived benefits from the Italian Government's investment incentive program for under-industrialized regions in Southern Italy (the Mezzogiorno Program), which includes the area that serves as the center of the Group's operations. The Mezzogiorno Program provided tax benefits, capital grants and subsidized loans. In particular, a substantial portion of the Group's earnings before taxes and minority interest from 1994 to 2003 was derived from companies entitled to some extent to such tax exemptions. All tax exemptions expired between 1996 and 2003. The last tax exemption was related to the subsidiary Style & Comfort S.r.l. and expired on December 27, 2003.

In 1992, the Italian Parliament instructed the government to replace the Mezzogiorno Program with a new investment incentive program in favor of all under-industrialized regions of Italy. In 1993, the government confirmed the expiration of the Mezzogiorno Program by legislative decree and disclosed the broad outlines of the new program, to be defined by subsequent government resolutions. The Parliament has provided the government with certain funds to honor existing commitments under the Mezzogiorno Program relating to capital grants and subsidized loans. There can be no assurance, however, that the Group will be able to obtain all the capital grant or subsidy benefits to which it may be entitled under such Program.

The government resolutions adopted thus far to implement the new investment incentive program state that companies making investments in the construction, enlargement, restructuring, conversion, reactivation or relocation of industrial plants may receive a grant based on the total cost of the project. The grant (calculated in terms of the Equivalentente Sovvenzione Netto formula) will be approximately 40% of the investment cost for the Mezzogiorno areas in which Natuzzi currently operates and 10% of the investment cost for the Quarrata (Pistoia) area where Spagnesi is located. The program also provides for research and development benefits which may not exceed 60% of the investment cost (calculated in terms of the Equivalentente Sovvenzione Lordo formula).

In December, 1996, the Company and the Contract Planning Service of the Italian Ministry of the Budget signed a Program Agreement with respect to the Natuzzi 2000 project . In connection with this project, the Group planned a multi-faceted program of industrial investments for the production of upholstered furniture in Italy. Investments, initially projected to amount to approximately 232.2 million, are currently expected to amount to approximately 69.8 million. Such reduction resulted from significant changes in the competitive scenario that resulted in a revision of the Group's production strategies. According to the revised agreement, which is currently subject to the approval of the Cipe (Comitato Interministeriale Programmazione Economica) expected to occur during the summer of 2004, the Italian Government will contribute 35.6 million. Receipt of the Italian Government's funds is contingent upon, among other things, the Group constructing facilities in accordance with certain specifications and maintaining a minimum number of employees. During 1997 the Group was granted and received under the aforementioned project capital grants of 24.2 million. The capital grants are secured by surety bonds issued by San Paolo Banco di Napoli, an Italian bank, in the amount of 26.0 million. A final release of such funds is subject to approval of a Control Committee appointed by the Italian Government, which is expected to occur before year-end. Capital expenditures under the Natuzzi 2000 project amounted to approximately 70.8 million through December 31, 2003.

Tax Benefits.

The Company is currently eligible for and claims the benefits available pursuant to Law no. 388 of December 23, 2000, entailing the grant of a tax credit amounting, in 2003, to 29.75% of the value of certain newly-made investments. This regime will be available in connection with any such investments made prior to January 1, 2007; however, the amount of the tax credit may vary in future years.

Certain foreign subsidiaries, including Italsofa (Shanghai) Ltd, Italsofa Bahia Ltda. and Italsofa Romania S.r.l., enjoy significant tax benefits, such as corporate income tax exemptions or reductions of the corporate income tax rates effectively applicable.

Management of Exchange Rate Risk

The Group is subject to currency exchange rate risk in the ordinary course of its business to the extent that its costs are denominated in currencies other than those in which it earns revenues. Exchange rate fluctuations also affect the Group's operating results because it recognizes revenues and costs in currencies other than euro but publishes its financial statements in euro. The Group's sales and results may be materially affected by exchange rate fluctuations. For more information, see Item 11, Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk.

Trademarks and Patents

The Group's products are sold under the Natuzzi and Italsofa names. These names and certain other trademarks, such as Divani & Divani by Natuzzi, have been registered as such in Italy, in the United States and elsewhere. In order to protect its investments in new product development, the Group has also undertaken a practice of registering certain new designs in most of the countries in which such designs are sold. The Group currently has more than 1,000 design patents and patents pending. Applications are made with respect to new product introductions which the Group believes will enjoy commercial success and have a high likelihood of being copied.

Non-United States Regulation

The Company is incorporated under the laws of the Republic of Italy. The principal laws and regulations that apply to the operations of the Company—those of Italy and the European Union—are different from those of the United States. Such non-United States laws and regulations may be subject to varying interpretations or may be changed, and new laws and regulations may be adopted, from time to time. Legislative Decree No. 6 of 2003 has introduced new rules for Italian companies that are effective from January 1, 2004 and require each company to comply with them before September 30, 2004. While management believes that the Group is currently in compliance in all material respects with such laws and regulations (including with respect to environmental matters), there can be no assurance that any subsequent official interpretation of such laws or regulations by the relevant governmental authorities that differs from that of the Company, or any such change or adoption, would not have an adverse effect on the results of operations of the Group or the rights of holders of the Ordinary Shares or the owners of the Company's ADSs. See Environmental Regulatory Compliance, Item 10, Additional Information Exchange Controls and Item 10, Additional Information Taxation.

Environmental Regulatory Compliance

The Group operates a leather dyeing and finishing facility near Udine and a polyurethane foam production plant near Naples. The operation of each of these facilities is subject to both Italian governmental law and European Union regulations. The Group believes that it has operated and continues to operate these and other facilities in compliance with all applicable laws and regulations.

Insurance

The Group maintains insurance against a number of risks. The Group insures against loss or damage to its facilities, loss or damage to its products while in transit to customers, failure to recover receivables, certain potential environmental liabilities and product liability claims. While the Group does not cover 100% of these risks, management believes that the Group's present level of insurance is adequate in light of past experience.

The Group believes that its production facilities are suitable for its production needs and are well maintained. The Group's production facilities are operated utilizing close to 100% of their production capacity. Operations at all of the Group's production facilities are normally conducted Monday through Friday with two eight-hour shifts per day. In 2003, the Group continued to utilize subcontractors to meet demand.

Capital Expenditures

The following table sets forth the Group's capital expenditures for each year in the three-year period ended December 31, 2003:

	Year ending December 31, (millions of Euro)
	2003	2002	2001
Land and plants	11.3	28.6	36.1
Equipment	12.8	18.1	16.3
Other	23.2	24.3	15.9

Capital expenditures during the last three years were primarily made in the areas of construction and maintenance, as well as improvements to property, plant and equipment. In 2003, capital expenditures were primarily made to purchase land and build new factories in Baia Mare (Romania), Bahia (Brazil) and Shanghai (China) as well as to make improvements at existing facilities in order to increase productivity and production capacity, which included the purchase of equipment. The Company expects that capital expenditures in 2004 will be approximately 40.0 million.

Table of ContentsItem 5. Operating and Financial Review and Prospects

The following discussion of the Group's results of operations, liquidity and capital resources is based on information derived from the Company's audited Consolidated Financial Statements and the notes thereto included in Item 18 of this annual report. These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Italian GAAP, which differ in certain respects from U.S. GAAP. For a discussion of the principal differences between Italian GAAP and U.S. GAAP as they relate to the Company's consolidated net earnings and shareholders' equity, see Note 26 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report.

Critical Accounting Policies

The Group's critical accounting policies, the judgments and other uncertainties affecting application of those policies and the sensitivity of reported results to changes in conditions and assumptions are factors to be considered in reviewing the Group's Consolidated Financial Statements and the notes thereto and the discussion below in Results of Operations. The Group's significant accounting policies are described in Note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report. The Group's financial condition and results of operations are sensitive to accounting methods, assumptions and estimates that underlie the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements. In particular, the following policies involve assumptions and estimates that may affect our financial condition and results of operations.

Use of Estimates. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Italian GAAP and U.S. GAAP requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Certain accounting principles require subjective and complex judgments used in the preparation of financial statements.

Accordingly, a different financial presentation could result depending on the judgments, estimates or assumptions that are used. Such estimates and assumptions, include, but are not specifically limited to: sales returns and discounts, product warranties, depreciation and amortization, impairment losses, income taxes (current and deferred), contingent liabilities and impact of new accounting standards. Actual results could materially differ from these estimates or assumptions.

Recoverability of Long-lived Assets. The Group periodically reviews the carrying value of the long-lived assets held and used and that of assets to be disposed of, including goodwill and other intangible assets, when events and circumstances warrant such a review. If the carrying value of a long-lived asset is considered impaired, an impairment charge is recorded for the amount by which the carrying value of the long-lived asset exceeds its estimated recovery value, in relation to its use or realization, as determined by reference to the most recent corporate plans. Management believes that the estimates of these recovery values are reasonable; however, changes in estimates of such recovery values could affect the relevant valuations. The analysis of each long-lived asset is unique and requires that management use estimates and assumptions that are deemed prudent and reasonable for a particular set of circumstances.

Revenue Recognition. Under Italian GAAP, the Group recognizes sales revenue, and accrues costs associated with the sales revenue, at the time products are shipped from its manufacturing facilities located in Italy and abroad. Revenues are recognized when there is persuasive evidence of an arrangement to purchase the Company's goods, the price to the buyer has been fixed and determined, and the collection of the payment for the sale is reasonably assured. A significant part of the products are shipped from factories directly to customers under terms that risks and ownership are transferred to the customer when the customer takes possession of the goods. These terms are delivered duty paid , delivered duty,

unpaid , delivered ex quay and delivered at customer factory . Delivery to the customer generally occurs within one to six weeks from the time of shipment.

Under U.S. GAAP, revenue should not be recognized until it is realized or realizable and earned, which is generally at the time delivery to the customer occurs and the risks of ownership pass to the customer. Accordingly, revenue recognition under Italian GAAP is at variance with U.S. GAAP. The principal effects of this variance is indicated in Note 26 (e) to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report.

Allowances for Sales. Revenues are recorded net of returns, warranties and discounts. Sales returns, warranty costs and discounts are estimated and provided for in the year of sales. Such allowances are made based on historical trends. The Company has the ability to make reasonable estimates of such allowances due to the large volumes of homogeneous transactions and historical experience. However, the reader should be cautioned that actual costs for returns, discounts and warranties may differ significantly from the Company s estimates if factors such as economic conditions, customer preferences or changes in product quality are different than the Company s assumptions.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts. Allowances for doubtful accounts are recorded based on the use of estimates and judgments regarding risk exposure and collectibility. The Group estimates losses for bad debt using consistent and appropriate methods under Italian GAAP. Changes to assumptions relating to these estimates could affect actual results. The reader should be cautioned that actual results may differ significantly from the Group s estimates if factors such as general economic conditions and the credit worthiness of its customers are different from the Group s assumptions.

Results of Operations

Summary

In 2003, the strong appreciation of the euro against other major currencies, particularly the U.S. dollar, and the persisting stagnant European economy resulted in a decrease of net sales of 4.4% compared to 2002. Units sold, on the contrary, increased slightly, by 1.0%, due to the satisfactory performance of the Company in the United States. Italsofa, the Company s promotional brand represented a growing percentage of the Company s total seats sold, 30.5% of total seats sold in 2003 compared to 23.6% in 2002.

The Company s net income compared to 2002 decreased 54.1 million to 37.3 million in 2003. On a per Ordinary Share, or ADS basis, the Company reported net earnings of 0.68 in 2003, a decrease of 0.99 from 2002. The decrease was primarily caused by the appreciation of the euro relative to other currencies, in particular the U.S. dollar, and increased marketing expenses in connection with the opening of new retail stores and galleries and advertising to increase the awareness of the Natuzzi brand in the worldwide furniture market.

The following table sets forth certain income statement data expressed as a percentage of net sales for the years indicated:

See Item 4, Information on the Company Markets, for tables setting forth the Group's net leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture sales and unit sales, which are broken down by geographic market, for the years ended December 31, 1999 through 2003.

2003 Compared to 2002

Net sales for 2003, including sales of leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture and other sales (principally polyurethane foam and leather sold to third parties, as well as accessories), decreased 4.4% to 769.6 million compared to 2002.

Net sales for 2003 of leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture decreased 8.3% to 674.0 million compared to 2002. The decrease was due primarily to the strong appreciation of the euro against other major currencies, particularly the U.S. dollar, and to a lesser degree to a decrease in units sold in Europe as a result of the stagnant European economy and a change in the mix of products sold toward lower-priced products. Net sales for 2003 of leather-upholstered furniture decreased 11.8% to 550.0 million compared to 2002, while net sales for 2003 of fabric-upholstered furniture net sales increased 11.7% to 124.0 million compared to 2002.

In the Americas, net sales for 2003 of upholstered furniture decreased 12.6% to 320.1 million compared to 2002 because of the unfavorable conversion of US sales made in dollars to euro following the strong appreciation of the European currency. In Europe, net sales for 2003 of upholstered furniture decreased 4.0% to 313.5 million compared to 2002. In the rest of the world, net sales for 2003 of upholstered furniture decreased 3.6% to 40.3 million compared to 2002.

Net sales for 2003 of Natuzzi-branded furniture decreased 12.5% to 533.0 compared to 2002. During the same period, net sales of the lower-priced Italsofa furniture increased 12.5% to 140.9 million compared to 2002. The growth of Italsofa was due to consumer price sensitivity resulting from sluggish economic conditions worldwide and the ability of the Company to offer a product at an attractive price while maintaining the Company's rigorous quality standards. The Company believes that the growing percentage of sales from the lower-priced Italsofa furniture relative to the higher-priced Natuzzi brand furniture should be counterbalanced in the medium term by the increasing penetration of the Natuzzi brand in the medium-high end of the upholstery market as a result of the marketing initiatives adopted by the Company.

Total net sales of Divani & Divani by Natuzzi, Natuzzi Stores and Kingdom of Leather increased 10.3% in 2003 to 106.0 million compared to 2002.

In 2003, total seats sold increased 1.0% to 3,058,835 from 3,027,658 sold in 2002. The slight increase was due to an increase of 8% in the Americas (1,699,160 seats) and a 0.9% increase in the rest of the world (excluding Europe) (178,109 seats), which almost completely offset a 7.6% decrease reported in Europe (1,181,566 seats).

The negative performance suffered in Europe reflects the difficult economic conditions reported in many countries: Germany (-24.2%), France (-5.1%), Belgium (-5.6%), Holland (-13.3%),

Table of Contents

Norway (-16.3%), Sweden (-27.5%), and Ireland (-43.7%). These reductions in sales were only partially offset by the increases in sales in the United Kingdom (+13.6%), mainly due to the acquisition of the Kingdom of Leather group; in Greece (+17.7%); and in Spain (+24.4%).

Seats sold in the United States and Canada in 2003 increased 6.8% and 25.0%, respectively. Growth in the United States and Canada was mainly the result of the growing success of the Group's promotional brand, Italsofa.

In the rest of the world, seats sold increased from 176,483 in 2002 to 178,109 in 2003. The rise included increases in Australia (+10.5%), Japan (+25.0%), New Zealand (+3.8%) and China (+6.6%), which were partially offset by lower sales in Israel (-19.1%), Korea (-33.8%) and Singapore (-38.9%).

In 2003, total leather-upholstered seats sold decreased 5.1% to 2,310,121 from 2,433,509 seats sold in 2002, while total fabric-upholstered seats sold increased 26.0% to 748,714 from 594,149 seats sold in 2002.

The Natuzzi brand sold 2,126,403 seats in 2003, 8.1% less than in 2002, while sales of Italsofa seats increased 30.5% to 932,432 compared to 2002.

Other net sales increased 35.8% to 95.6 million compared to 2002. The increase is due to the upgrade of the distribution channel dedicated to the Natuzzi brand and an increase in sales of accessories.

Cost of goods sold as a percentage of net sales increased from 64.3% in 2002 to 66.1% in 2003. When expressed at constant exchange rates, cost of sales as a percentage of net sales decreased slightly in 2003. The improvement of the margin at a constant exchange basis was due to a decrease in the cost of leather and savings resulting from efficiencies achieved in manufacturing operations.

The Group's gross profit decreased 9.3% in 2003 to 260.8 million compared to 2002, as a result of the factors described above.

Selling expenses for 2003 increased 23.3% to 179.3 million compared to 2002, and as a percentage of net sales increased from 18.1% in 2002 to 23.3% in 2003, mainly due to higher marketing expenses.

General and administrative expenses for 2003 decreased 3.2% to 39.2 million compared to 2002, and as a percentage of net sales increased from 5.0% in 2002 to 5.1% in 2003.

Operating income for 2003 decreased 58.4% to 42.3 million compared to 101.8 million reported in 2002.

Other income (expense), net decreased to 3.6 million in 2003 from 14.6 million in 2002. Net interest income, included in other income(expense), net, in 2003 was 0.5 million, compared to 1.6 million in 2002.

Foreign exchange transactions, net, also included in other income (expense), net, resulted in a gain of 6.3 million in 2003, compared to a gain of 9.3 million in 2002. The gain in 2003 was mainly due to the following:

An actual gain of 25.4 million in 2003 (compared to a gain of 10.9 million in 2002), due to the difference between the forward rate of the domestic currency swaps used to protect against any potential unfavorable effect of the foreign currency at which the company sets its price list and the spot rate at which the domestic currency swaps were closed;

An actual loss of 7.6 million in 2003 (compared to a loss of 8.8 million in 2002), from the difference between the invoice exchange rate and the collection/payment exchange rate;

An unrealized loss of 1.1 million (compared to a loss of 0.6 million in 2002) recorded in the consolidated statement of earnings from the conversion of non-euro financial statements of the Company's subsidiaries;

An unrealized loss of 16.6 million in 2003 (compared to an unrealized gain of 5.8 million in 2002) on accounts receivable and payable; and

An unrealized gain of 6.2 million in 2003 (compared to an unrealized gain of 2.0 million in 2002), from the mark-to-market of domestic currency swaps.

The Group also recorded other expense in 2003 of 3.2 million compared to other income of 3.7 million reported in 2002. The amount of 3.2 million reported for other expense in 2003 included an extraordinary loss of 4.3 million deriving from the impairment of fixed assets.

The Group's effective income tax rate for 2003 was 18.5%, compared to 21.5% in 2002. The lower rate was due to consolidated pre-tax earnings received from domestic and foreign companies that are entitled to tax exemptions.

Net earnings decreased from 91.4 million in 2002 to 37.3 million in 2003. On a per Ordinary Share, or ADS basis, net earnings decreased from 1.67 in 2002 to 0.68 in 2003. As a percentage of net sales, net earnings decreased from 11.4% in 2002 to 4.9% in 2003.

As disclosed in Note 26 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report, established accounting principles in Italy vary in certain significant respects from generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. Net earnings under U.S. GAAP for the years ended December 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001 would have been 38.0 million, 92.0 million and 71.1 million, respectively, compared to net earnings under Italian GAAP for the same periods of 37.3 million, 91.4 million and 75.6 million, respectively.

2002 Compared to 2001

Net sales for 2002, including sales of leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture and other sales (principally polyurethane foam and leather sold to third parties, as well as accessories), increased 2.4% to 805.1 million compared to 2001.

Net sales for 2002 of leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture increased 2.9% to 734.7 million compared to 2001. The increase was due to a 5.3% increase in units sold and a 0.7% increase resulting from a change in the mix of products sold, which more than offset a 3.1% decrease stemming from the appreciation of the euro against the U.S. dollar.

Net leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture sales in 2002 reflected substantially the same geographic distribution as reported in 2001: Europe (44.4% in 2002, compared to 44.5% in 2001); Americas (49.9% in both 2002 and 2001); and the rest of the world (5.7% in 2002, compared to 5.6% in 2001).

Net sales for 2002 of leather-upholstered furniture decreased 0.1% to 623.7 million compared to 2001, while net sales for 2002 of fabric-upholstered furniture increased 23.9% to 111.0 million compared to 2001.

Table of Contents

In the Americas, net sales for 2002 of upholstered furniture increased 2.8% to 366.4 million compared to 2001. In Europe, net sales for 2002 of upholstered furniture increased 2.7% to 326.5 million compared to 2001. In the rest of the world, net sales for 2002 of upholstered furniture increased 5.3% to 41.8 million compared to 2001.

Net sales for 2002 of Natuzzi-branded furniture decreased 7.2% to 609.4 million compared to 2001. During the same period, net sales of Italsofa furniture increased 119.8% to 125.3 million compared to 2001. Total net sales of Divani & Divani by Natuzzi and Natuzzi Stores increased 15.2% in 2002 to 96.2 million compared to 2001.

In 2002, total seats sold increased 5.3% to 3,027,658 from 2,876,258 sold in 2001. The increase was due to an increase of 14.2% in the Americas (1,572,879 seats) and a 0.4% increase in the rest of the world (excluding Europe) (176,483 seats), which more than offset a 3.4% decrease in Europe (1,278,296 seats).

The performance in some European countries in 2002 was strong: France (+19.4%), Ireland (+21.0%), Sweden (+16.3%), Greece (+9.9%) and the United Kingdom (+5.4%). However, the performance in other countries was disappointing: Germany (-8.8%), Belgium (-19.0%), the Netherlands (-29.6%), Austria (-21.6%) and Portugal (-10.1%).

Seats sold in the United States and Canada in 2002 increased 15.7% and 0.8%, respectively. Growth in the United States was mainly the result of the growing success of the Group's promotional brand, Italsofa.

In the rest of the world, seats sold increased from 175,704 in 2001 to 176,483 in 2002. The rise included an increase in Australia (+1.8%), Korea (+65.3%), the United Arab Emirates (+81.7%) and Taiwan (+15.6%). This increase was partially offset by declines in Japan (-9.0%), Israel (-7.4%), New Zealand (-13.2%) and China (-5.6%).

In 2002, total leather-upholstered seats sold increased 0.9% to 2,433,509 from 2,410,630 seats sold in 2001, while total fabric-upholstered seats sold increased 27.6% to 594,149 from 465,628 seats sold in 2001.

The Natuzzi brand sold 2,313,186 seats in 2002, 10.0% less than in 2001, while sales of Italsofa seats increased 133.1% to 714,472 compared to 2001.

Other net sales decreased 2.4% to 70.4 million compared to 2001.

Cost of goods sold as a percentage of net sales decreased from 66.2% in 2001 to 64.3% in 2002. This decrease was principally due to a decrease in the cost of leather, expressed at constant exchange rates. The prices of other principal raw materials, such as polyurethane foam, polyester fibers and chemicals remained substantially unchanged.

The Group's gross profit increased 8.2% in 2002 to 287.7 million compared to 2001, as a result of the factors described above.

Selling expenses for 2002 increased 7.9% to 145.4 million compared to 2001, and as a percentage of net sales increased from 17.2% in 2001 to 18.1% in 2002, mainly due to higher marketing expenses and exhibition costs. This increase was partially offset by lower transportation costs.

General and administrative expenses for 2002 increased 20.9% to 40.5 million compared to 2001, and as a percentage of net sales increased from 4.2% in 2001 to 5.0% in 2002, mainly due to higher headcounts and to the Group's expansion of activities internationally, which have required the incurrence of greater business travel expenses.

Operating income for 2002 increased 4.2% to 101.8 million compared to 2001.

Other income (expense), net increased to 14.5 million in 2002 from a negative 0.2 million in 2001. Net interest income in 2002 was 1.5 million, compared to 2.3 million in 2001.

Foreign exchange transactions, which are included in other income (expense), net, resulted in a gain of 9.3 million in 2002, compared to a loss of 6.1 million in 2001. The gain in 2002 was mainly due to the following:

An actual gain of 10.9 million in 2002 (compared to a loss of 12.2 million in 2001), due to the difference between the forward rate of the domestic currency swaps used to protect against any potential unfavorable effect of the foreign currency at which the company sets its price list and the spot rate at which the domestic currency swaps were closed;

An actual loss of 8.8 million in 2002 (compared to a loss of 1.5 million in 2001), from the difference between the invoice exchange rate and the collection/payment exchange rate;

An unrealized loss of 0.6 million (compared to nil in 2001) recorded in the consolidated statement of earnings from the conversion of non-euro financial statements of the Company's subsidiaries;

An unrealized gain of 5.8 million in 2002 (compared to an unrealized gain of 8.5 million in 2001) on accounts receivable and payable; and

An unrealized gain of 2.0 million in 2002 (compared to an unrealized loss of 0.9 million in 2001), from the mark-to-market of domestic currency swaps.

The Group also recorded other income in 2002 of 3.7 million compared to 3.6 million reported in 2001.

The Group's effective income tax rate for 2002 was 21.5%, compared to 22.5% in 2001. The lower rate was due to a greater portion of consolidated pre-tax earnings received from member companies that are entitled to tax exemptions.

Net earnings increased from 75.6 million in 2001 to 91.4 million in 2002. On a per Ordinary Share, or ADS basis, net earnings increased from 1.37 in 2001 to 1.67 in 2002. As a percentage of net sales, net earnings increased from 9.6% in 2001 to 11.4% in 2002.

As disclosed in Note 26 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report, established accounting principles in Italy vary in certain significant respects from generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. Net earnings under U.S. GAAP for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000 would have been 92.0 million, 71.1 million and 81.7 million, respectively, compared to net earnings under Italian GAAP for the same periods of 91.4 million, 75.6 million and 79.2 million, respectively.

Effect of Inflation

Management believes that the impact of inflation was not material to the Group's net sales or operating income in the three years ended December 31, 2003.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Cash flows from operations were 38.2 million in 2003, compared to 97.6 million in 2002. The decrease resulted principally from lower net earnings and an increase in working capital. Cash and cash equivalents decreased 33.1 million from 96.7 million in 2002 to 63.6 in 2003 due to lower cash flow from operations.

Cash used for investing activities in 2003 totaled 49.8 million versus 58.5 million in the previous year. Capital expenditures were 47.3 million and 68.6 million in 2003 and 2002, respectively. In 2003, the Group received capital grants of 3.1 million (compared to 10.0 million in 2002) through the Italian Government's Investment Incentive Program, which provided capital grants equal to a percentage of the aggregate investment made by the Group in the construction of new manufacturing facilities, or in the improvement of existing facilities, in designated areas of the country. In 2003, the Group continued to invest in Baia Mare (Romania), Salvador de Bahia (Brazil) and Shanghai (China). Other investments were made in Italy to increase overall efficiency and productivity. A significant portion of investment were made to realize retail gallery and stores furnishings. In addition the Group made a final payment of 7.4 million for the purchase of a new aircraft.

Cash used for financing activities in 2003 totaled 17.5 million versus 149.3 million in the previous year. In 2003 net cash used for the reimbursement of short-term borrowings was 0.3 million, compared to 134.3 million in 2002. Dividends paid to shareholders were 18.0 million and 15.7 million in 2003 and 2002, respectively.

As at December 31, 2003, the Group had available credit facilities totaling 209.1 million. The unused portion of these facilities amounted to approximately 204.3 million (see Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report). The Group's long-term debt represented less than 1% of shareholders' equity at December 31, 2003 and 2002 (see Note 16 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report).

Management believes that the Group's working capital is sufficient for its present requirements. The Company's principal source of funds is expected to be cash flows generated from operating activities, cash on hand and amounts available under its credit facilities. The Company's principal use of funds is expected to be the payment of operating expenses, working capital requirements and capital expenditures.

Table of ContentsContractual Obligations and Commercial Commitments

The following tables set forth the contractual obligations and commercial commitments of the Group as at December 31, 2003:

- (1) The lines of credit are primarily used by the Company for purchases of materials from suppliers.
- (2) The letters of credit are primarily issued by the Company in support of purchases of materials from suppliers.
- (3) The guarantees are primarily comprised of surety bonds provided by certain financial institutions in connection with the Natuzzi 2000 project. The Company, in turn, directly provides guarantees in an equivalent amount to such financial institutions. The surety bonds will expire when the Italian Ministry of Budget releases the final approvals of all investments already made in connection with the Natuzzi 2000 project.

Related Party Transactions

Please refer to Item 7, Major Shareholders and Related Party Transactions of this annual report.

Research and Development

Research and development is a strategic activity for the Group. The Group's research and development efforts are concentrated on the design of new products and on improvements to the manufacturing process. See Item 4, Information on the Company Manufacturing and Item 4, Information on the Company Products and Design. During 2003, the Group's investment in research and development activities was approximately 8 million. Approximately 130 highly qualified people work in these activities, and more than 100 new products are generally introduced each year.

In September 2001, the Company opened a new design center in the province of Milan where experienced craftsmen develop and test the highest range of models.

Following the ISO 9001, in November 2001 Natuzzi obtained the ISO 14001 certification that underlines the Company attention towards the environment. Natuzzi's tannery is certified as well.

New Accounting Standards under Italian and U.S. GAAP

Italian GAAP. In January 2002, the Italian Accounting Profession approved an accounting standard on interim financial statements. The Company has adopted this new standard.

U.S. GAAP. The new accounting standards under U.S. GAAP are outlined below:

SFAS No. 143:

Table of Contents

In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued SFAS No. 143, Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations (SFAS No. 143). SFAS No. 143 requires the Company to record the fair value of an asset retirement obligation as a liability in the period in which it incurs a legal obligation associated with the retirement of tangible long-lived assets that result from the acquisition, construction, development and/or normal use of the assets. The Company also records a corresponding asset which is depreciated over the life of the asset. Subsequent to the initial measurement of the asset retirement obligation, the obligation will be adjusted at the end of each period to reflect the passage of time and changes in the estimated future cash flows underlying the obligation. The Company adopted SFAS No. 143 on January 1, 2003. Application of this statement did not have an impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Company.

SFAS No. 145:

In April 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 145, Rescission of FASB Statements No. 4, 44 and 64, Amendment of FASB Statement No. 13, and Technical Corrections. SFAS No. 145 amends existing guidance on reporting gains and losses on the extinguishment of debt to prohibit the classification of the gain or loss as extraordinary, as the use of such extinguishments have become part of the risk management strategy of many companies. SFAS No. 145 also amends SFAS No. 13 to require sale-leaseback accounting for certain lease modifications that have economic effects similar to sale-leaseback transactions. The provisions of the Statement related to the rescission of Statement No. 4 is applied in fiscal years beginning after May 15, 2002. Earlier application of these provisions is encouraged. The provisions of the Statement related to Statement No. 13 were effective for transactions occurring after May 15, 2002, with early application encouraged. The adoption of SFAS No. 145 did not have an effect on the consolidated financial statements of the Company.

SFAS No. 146:

In June 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 146, Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities. SFAS No. 146 addresses financial accounting and reporting for costs associated with exit or disposal activities and nullifies Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue 94-3, Liability Recognition for Certain Employee Termination Benefits and Other Costs to Exit an Activity. The provisions of this Statement are effective for exit or disposal activities that are initiated after December 31, 2002, with early application encouraged. The adoption of SFAS No. 146 did not have an effect on the consolidated financial statements of the Company.

SFAS No. 149:

In April 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 149, Amendment of Statement No. 133 on Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities. SFAS No. 149 amends and clarifies financial accounting and reporting for derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts and for hedging activities under SFAS No. 133. SFAS No. 149 is effective for contracts entered into or modified after June 30, 2003 and for hedging relationships designated after June 30, 2003. Adoption of SFAS No. 149 is effective for contracts entered into or modified after June 30, 2003 and for hedging relationships designated after June 30, 2003. Adoption of SFAS No. 149 will not have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Company.

SFAS No. 150:

On May 15, 2003, the FASB issued Statement No. 150, Accounting for Certain Financial Instruments with Characteristics of Both Liabilities and Equity. This Statement establishes standards for the classification and measurement of certain financial instruments with characteristics of both liabilities and equity. The statement also includes required disclosure for financial instruments within its scope. For the Company, the Statement was effective for instruments entered into or modified after May 31, 2003 and otherwise will be effective as of January 1, 2004, except for mandatorily redeemable financial instruments. For certain mandatorily redeemable financial instruments, the Statement will be effective for the Company on January 1, 2005. The effective date has been deferred indefinitely for certain other types of mandatorily redeemable financial instruments. The Company currently does not have any financial instruments that are within the scope of this Statement.

FASB interpretation No. 46:

In December 2003, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 46 (revised December 2003), Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, which addresses how a business enterprise should evaluate whether it has a controlling financial interest in an entity through means other than voting rights and accordingly should consolidate the entity. FIN 46R replaces FASB Interpretation No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, which was issued in January 2003. The Company will be required to apply FIN 46R to variable interests in VIEs created after December 31, 2003. For variable interests in VIEs created before January 1, 2004, the Interpretation will be applied beginning on January 1, 2005. For any VIEs that must be consolidated under FIN 46R that were created before January 1, 2004, the assets, liabilities and noncontrolling interests of the VIE initially would be measured at their carrying amounts with any difference between the net amount added to the balance sheet and any previously recognized interest being recognized as the cumulative effect of an accounting change. If determining the carrying amounts is not practicable, fair value at the date FIN 46R first applies may be used to measure the assets, liabilities and noncontrolling interest of the VIE. The Company does not believe that it has any VIE for consolidation.

Directors are elected for three-year terms. The next election of Directors will take place in April 2007. See Item 10, Additional Information By-laws Board of Directors .

Compensation of Directors and Officers

Aggregate compensation paid by the Group to the directors and officers named above was approximately 9.0 million in 2003.

Share Ownership

Mr. Pasquale Natuzzi owns 47.7% of the issued and outstanding Ordinary Shares. As of December 16, 2003, Mr. Natuzzi holds his entire beneficial ownership of Natuzzi S.p.A. shares (other than 196 ADSs) through INVEST 2003 S.r.l., an Italian holding company (having its registered office at Via Gobetti 8, Taranto, Italy) wholly-owned by Pasquale Natuzzi. Each of Annunziata Natuzzi and Anna Maria Natuzzi owns 2.4% of the issued and outstanding Ordinary Shares. None of the Company's other directors and officers listed above owns one percent or more of the Ordinary Shares. See Item 7, Major Shareholders and Related Party Transactions Major Shareholders .

Table of ContentsStatutory Auditors

The following table sets forth the names of the three members of the board of statutory auditors of the Company and the two alternate statutory auditors and their respective positions, as of the date of this annual report. The current board of statutory auditors was elected for a three-year term on April 30, 2004.

Name	Position
Francesco Venturelli	Chairman
Cataldo Sferra	Member
Costante Leone	Member
Giuseppe Pio Macario	Alternate
Vittorio Boscia	Alternate

During 2003, our statutory auditors received in the aggregate approximately 108,000 in compensation for their services to the Company and its Italian subsidiaries.

External Auditors

On April 30, 2004, at the annual general shareholders meeting, KPMG S.p.A., with offices in Bari, Italy, was appointed as the Company's external auditors for a three-year period.

Employees

As at December 31, 2003, the Group had 6,230 employees (3,983 in Italy and 2,247 abroad), as compared to 5,742 and 4,643 on December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively. As at December 31, 2003, the average age of the Group's employees was approximately 30 years. Historically, there has been very little turnover among the Group's employees and management believes that the Group's relations with its workers are good. The Group maintains a company intranet and, as a major employer in the Bari/Santeramo area, is, in the view of management, an important participant in community life.

Italian law provides that, upon termination of employment for whatever reason, employees are entitled to receive certain indemnity payments based on length of employment. As at December 31, 2003, the Company had 27.6 million reserved for such termination indemnities, such reserves being equal to the amounts, calculated on a percentage basis, required by Italian law.

During certain years, the Group receives benefits from the Italian Government and from the European Union for hiring and training employees. During 2001, the Company received 2.3 million in employment incentives, while in 2002 and 2003 the Company did not receive any significant employment incentives.

Under the Italian Government's youth employment program, since 2003, the Group has been entitled to hire workers under age 32 for its plants in the Mezzogiorno as temporary employees under short-term contracts of 24 months. This program enables Italian employers to reduce the required social security contributions payable with respect to such employees. In addition, the Italian Government provides for reduced social security contributions payable by employers in the Mezzogiorno with respect to its permanent employees. Pursuant to an agreement with the European Union in early 1995, however, such reductions and incentives are being gradually phased out.

Currently, most of the Group's benefits are derived from a European Union plan providing incentives for the hiring of new permanent employees. The European Social Fund (a European Union organization), acting through the European Regions covered by the plan, provides employment incentives in the form of grants and subsidizes social security contributions paid for new permanent employees hired during the last three years, upon fulfillment of the plan's specific requirements.

Mr. Pasquale Natuzzi, who founded the Company and is currently Chairman of the Board of Directors and Chief Executive Officer, owns 47.7% of the issued and outstanding Ordinary Shares of the Company (52.8% of the Ordinary Shares if the Ordinary Shares owned by members of Mr. Natuzzi's immediate family (the Natuzzi Family) are aggregated) and controls the Company, including its management and the selection of its Board of Directors. As of December 16, 2003, Mr. Natuzzi holds his entire beneficial ownership of Natuzzi S.p.A. shares (other than 196 ADSs) through INVEST 2003 S.r.l., an Italian holding company (having its registered office at Via Gobetti 8, Taranto, Italy) wholly-owned by Pasquale Natuzzi.

The following table sets forth information, as reflected in the records of the Company as at March 31, 2004, with respect to each person who owns more than 5% of the Company's Ordinary Shares or ADSs.

	Number of Shares Owned	Percent Owned
Pasquale Natuzzi ⁽¹⁾	26,064,906	47.7%
Royce & Associates LLC	4,147,600	7.6%
Marathon Asset Management Ltd	3,146,358	5.6%

(1) If Mr. Natuzzi's Ordinary Shares are aggregated with those held by members of the Natuzzi Family, the amount owned would have been 28,864,906 and the percentage ownership of Ordinary Shares would have been 52.8%.

In addition, the Natuzzi Family has a right of first refusal to purchase all the rights, warrants or other instruments which The Bank of New York, as Depository under the Deposit Agreement, determines may not lawfully or feasibly be made available to owners of ADSs in connection with each rights offering, if any, made to holders of Ordinary Shares. None of the shares held by the above shareholders have any special voting rights.

As of May 28, 2004, 54,681,628 Ordinary Shares were outstanding. As of the same date, there were 25,814,497 ADSs (equivalent to 25,814,497 Ordinary Shares) outstanding. The share equivalent to outstanding ADSs was equal to 47.2% of the total number of outstanding Natuzzi Ordinary Shares.

Since certain of the shares and ADSs were held by brokers or other nominees, the number of direct record holders in the United States may not be fully indicative of the number of direct beneficial owners in the United States or of where the direct beneficial owners of such shares are resident.

Related Party Transactions

No member of the board of directors or board of statutory auditors and no senior officer (including close members of any such person's families) nor any enterprise over which any such person is able to exercise a significant influence has had any interest in any transactions that are or were unusual in their nature or conditions or are or were material to the Company, and that were either effected since December 31, 1999 or that were effected during an earlier period and remain in any respect outstanding or unperformed. The Company has not provided any loans or guarantees to or for the benefit of any such person since December 31, 1999 or that remain outstanding or unperformed.

Item 8. Financial InformationConsolidated Financial Statements

Please refer to Item 18, Financial Statements of this annual report.

Export Sales

Export sales from Italy totaled approximately 651 million in 2003, as compared with 659 million in 2002, which represented 88.6% of the Company's 2002 net leather- and fabric-upholstered furniture sales (89.7% in 2002).

Legal Proceedings

Neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries is a party to any legal or governmental proceeding that is pending or, to the Company's knowledge, threatened or contemplated against Natuzzi or any such subsidiary that, if determined adversely to Natuzzi or any such subsidiary, would have a materially adverse effect, either individually or in the aggregate, on the business, financial condition or results of operations of the Group.

Dividends

Payment of dividends of 0.14 per Ordinary Share in respect of the year ended December 31, 2003 was approved at the Company's Annual General Meeting held on April 30, 2004 and will be paid starting from July 14, 2004 to the shareholders of record as of May 28, 2004. No further dividends in respect of the year ended December 31, 2003 are expected to be approved or paid.

The table below sets forth the cash dividends paid per Ordinary Share in respect of each of the years indicated, and translated into dollars per ADS (each representing one Ordinary Share) at the Noon Buying Rate on the date or dates the respective dividends were first payable or, in the case of the dividend in respect of the year ended December 31, 2003, the Noon Buying Rate on December 31, 2003.

Year ended December 31,	Dividends per Ordinary Share	Translated into dollars per ADS
2003	0.1366	$0.15
2002	0.3300	$0.35
2001	0.2872	$0.26
2000	0.2892	$0.25
1999(1)	1.6351	$1.54

(1) Includes a special dividend of 1.1155 per Ordinary Share.

Although the Company currently expects to continue to pay an annual year-end dividend, the payment of future dividends will depend upon the Company's earnings and financial condition, capital requirements, governmental regulations and policies and other factors. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that dividends in future years will be paid at a rate similar to dividends paid in past years.

Dividends paid to owners of ADSs or Ordinary Shares who are United States residents qualifying under the Income Tax Convention will generally be subject to Italian withholding tax at a maximum rate of 15%, provided that certain certifications are timely given. Such withholding tax will be treated as a foreign income tax which U.S. owners may elect to deduct in computing their taxable income, or, subject to the limitations on foreign tax credits generally, credit against their United States federal income tax liability. See Item 10, Additional Information Taxation Taxation of Dividends .

Item 10. Additional Information

By-laws

The following is a summary of certain information concerning the Company's shares and By-laws (Statuto) and of Italian law applicable to Italian stock corporations whose shares are not listed in a regulated market in the European Union, as in effect at the date of this annual report. The summary contains all the information that the Company considers to be material regarding the shares but does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the By-laws or Italian law, as the case may be.

In January 2003, the Italian government approved a wide-ranging reform of the corporate law provisions of the Italian Civil Code (Civil Code), which came into force on January 1, 2004. The following summary takes into account the 2003 corporate law reform.

General

The Company's By-laws are not yet in compliance with the 2003 corporate law reform. The deadline for adopting the necessary amendments is September 30, 2004. Accordingly, a meeting of the Company's shareholders has been convened on July 22, 2004 to adopt such amendments.

The issued share capital of the Company consists of 54,681,628 Ordinary Shares, par value 1 per share. All the issued shares are fully paid, non-assessable and in registered form.

The Company is registered with the Companies' Registry of Bari at n. 19551, with its registered office at 51 Corso Cavour, Bari, Italy and its principal executive offices at 47, Via Iazzitiello, Santeramo in Colle, Bari, Italy.

As set forth in Article 5 of the By-laws, the Company's corporate purpose is the production, marketing and sale of sofas, armchairs, furniture in general and raw materials used for their production. The Company is generally authorized to take any actions necessary or useful to achieve its corporate purpose.

Authorization of Shares

Additional shares may be authorized in connection with capital increases approved by the Company's shareholders in an extraordinary meeting, but this authorization would generally be given only after recommendation by the Company's board of directors.

Form and Transfer of Shares

The Company's Ordinary Shares are in certificated form and are transferable by endorsement of the share certificate by or on behalf of the registered holder, with such endorsement either authenticated by a notary in Italy or elsewhere or by a broker-dealer or a bank in Italy. The transferee must request that the Company enter his name in the register of shareholders in order to establish his rights as a shareholder as against the Company.

Dividend Rights

Table of Contents

Payment by the Company of any annual dividend is proposed by the board of directors and is subject to the approval of the shareholders at the annual shareholders' meeting. Before dividends may be paid out of the Company's unconsolidated net income in any year, an amount at least equal to 5.0% of such net income must be allocated to the Company's legal reserve until such reserve is at least equal to one-fifth of the par value of the Company's issued share capital. If the Company's capital is reduced as a result of accumulated losses, dividends may not be paid until the capital is reconstituted or reduced by the amount of such losses. The Company may pay dividends out of available retained earnings from prior years, provided that, after such payment, the Company will have a legal reserve at least equal to the legally required minimum. No interim dividends may be approved or paid.

Dividends will be paid in the manner and on the date specified in the shareholders' resolution approving their payment (usually within 30 days of the annual general meeting). Dividends which are not collected within five years of the date on which they become payable are forfeited to the benefit of the Company. Holders of ADSs will be entitled to receive payments in respect of dividends on the underlying shares through The Bank of New York, as ADR depository, in accordance with the deposit agreement relating to the ADRs.

Voting Rights

Registered holders of the Company's Ordinary Shares are entitled to one vote per Ordinary Share.

As a registered shareholder, the Depository (or its nominee) will be entitled to vote the Ordinary Shares underlying the ADSs. The Deposit Agreement requires the Depository (or its nominee) to accept voting instructions from holders of ADSs and to execute such instructions to the extent permitted by law. Neither Italian law nor the Company's By-laws limit the right of non-resident or foreign owners to hold or vote shares of the Company.

Board of Directors

Pursuant to the Company's By-laws, its board of directors must consist of seven to eleven individuals. The board of directors is elected at a shareholders' meeting for three fiscal years. The directors, who may but are not required to be shareholders of the Company, may be re-appointed for successive terms. The board of directors has complete power of ordinary and extraordinary administration of the Company and in particular may perform all acts it deems advisable for the achievement of the Company's corporate purposes, except for the actions reserved by applicable law or the By-laws to a vote of the shareholders at an ordinary or extraordinary shareholders' meeting. See also Meetings of Shareholders .

The board of directors must appoint a chairman (presidente) and may appoint a vice-chairman. The chairman of the board of directors and the vice-chairman and the managing directors, if any, are severally the legal representatives of the Company. The board of directors may delegate certain powers to one or more managing directors (amministratori delegati), determine the nature and scope of the delegated powers of each director and revoke such delegation at any time. The managing directors must ensure, under the supervision of the board of directors, that the Company's organizational and accounting structure is appropriate for its business and must report to the board of directors and board of statutory auditors at least every six months on the Company's business and the main transactions carried out by the Company or by its subsidiaries.

The board of directors may not delegate certain responsibilities, including the preparation and approval of the draft financial statements, the approval of merger and de-merger plans to be presented to shareholders' meetings, increases in the amount of the Company's share capital or the issuance of convertible debentures (if any such power has been delegated to the board of directors by vote of the extraordinary shareholders meeting) and the fulfillment of the formalities required when the Company's capital has to be reduced as a result of accumulated losses that reduce the Company's stated capital by more than one-third. See also Meetings of Shareholders .

The board of directors may also appoint a general manager (direttore generale) and one or more senior managers (direttori), who report directly to the board, and confer powers for single acts or categories of acts to employees of the Company or persons unaffiliated with the Company.

Meetings of the board of directors are called seven days in advance by registered letter or three days in advance by telegram, by the chairman on his own initiative and must be called upon the request of any director or statutory auditor. Meetings may be held in person, or by video-conference or tele-conference, in any member state of the European Union, the United States, Switzerland, Australia or Japan. The quorum for meetings of the board of directors is a majority of the directors in office. Resolutions are adopted by the vote of a majority of the directors present at the meeting. In case of a tie, the chairman has the deciding vote.

Pursuant to the 2003 reform, directors having any interest in a proposed transaction must disclose their interest to the board, even if such interest is not in conflict with the interest of the company in the same transaction. The interested director is not required to abstain from voting on the resolution approving the transaction, but the resolution must state explicitly the reasons for, and the benefit to the company of, the approved transaction. In the event that these provisions are not complied with, or that the transaction would not have been approved without the vote of the interested director, the resolution may be challenged by a director or by the board of statutory auditors if the approved transaction may be prejudicial to the Company. A managing director having any such interest in a proposed transaction within the scope of his powers must solicit prior board approval of such transaction. The interested director may be held liable for damages to the Company resulting from a resolution adopted in breach of the above rules. Finally, directors may be held liable for damages to the Company if they illicitly profit from insider information or corporate opportunities.

Under Italian law, directors may be removed from office at any time by the vote of shareholders at an ordinary shareholders' meeting. However, if removed in circumstances where there was no just cause, such directors may have a claim for indemnification against the Company. Directors may resign at any time by written notice to the board of directors and to the chairman of the board of statutory auditors. The board of directors must appoint substitute directors to fill vacancies arising from removals or resignations, subject to the approval of the board of statutory auditors, to serve until the next ordinary shareholders' meeting. If at any time more than half of the members of the board of directors appointed at a shareholders' meeting resign or otherwise cease to be directors, the remaining members of the board of directors (or the board of statutory auditors if all the members of the board of directors have resigned or ceased to be directors) must promptly call an ordinary shareholders' meeting to appoint the new directors.

The remuneration of directors is determined by shareholders at ordinary shareholders' meetings. The board of directors, after consultation with the board of statutory auditors, may determine the remuneration of directors that perform management or other special services for the Company, such as the managing director. Directors are entitled to reimbursement for expenses reasonably incurred in connection with their functions.

With effect from January 1, 2004, an Italian stock corporation may adopt one of two different corporate governance models as an alternative to the current model based on a board of directors and a board of statutory auditors. Stock corporations may opt for (i) a one-tier model with a single board of directors, including an audit committee composed of independent non-executive directors, or (ii) a two-tier model, including a management board, which is entrusted with management responsibilities, and a supervisory board which is entrusted mainly with control and supervisory responsibilities and, among other functions, appoints and removes the members of the management board and approves the company's annual financial statements. The adoption of one of the new corporate governance models requires an extraordinary shareholders meeting resolution. The Company has no plans to change its current governance structure.

Statutory Auditors

In addition to electing the board of directors, the Company's shareholders elect a board of statutory auditors (Collegio Sindacale), appoint its chairman and set the compensation of its members. At ordinary shareholders meetings of the Company, the statutory auditors are elected for a term of three fiscal years, may be re-elected for successive terms and may be removed only for cause and with the approval of a competent court. Membership of the board of statutory auditors is subject to certain good standing, independence and professional requirements. In particular, at least one member must be a certified auditor.

The Company's By-laws currently provide that the board of statutory auditors shall consist of three statutory auditors and two alternate statutory auditors (who are automatically substituted for a statutory auditor who resigns or is otherwise unable to serve).

The Company's board of statutory auditors is required, among other things, to verify that the Company (i) complies with applicable laws and its By-laws, (ii) respects principles of good governance, and (iii) maintains adequate organizational structure, internal controls and administrative and accounting systems. The board of statutory auditors reports to the annual shareholders' meeting on the results of its activity and the results of the Company's operations.

The Company's board of statutory auditors is required to meet at least once every ninety days. In addition, the statutory auditors of the Company must be present at meetings of the Company's board of directors and shareholders meetings. The statutory auditors may decide to call a meeting of the shareholders or the board of directors, ask the directors information about the management of the Company, carry out inspections and verifications at the Company and exchange information with the Company's external auditors. Any shareholder may submit a complaint to the board of statutory auditors regarding facts that such shareholder believes should be subject to scrutiny by the board of statutory auditors, which must take any complaint into account in its report to the shareholders' meeting. If shareholders collectively representing 5% of the Company's share capital submit such a complaint, the board of statutory auditors must promptly undertake an investigation and present its findings and any recommendations to a shareholders' meeting (which must be convened immediately if the complaint appears to have a reasonable basis and there is an urgent need to take action). The board of statutory auditors may report to the competent court serious breaches of directors' duties.

As mentioned in the preceding section, starting from January 1, 2004, Italian stock corporations may depart from the traditional Italian model of corporate governance structure and opt for two alternative models, neither of which includes a board of statutory auditors.

External Auditor

The 2003 corporate law reform requires companies to appoint an external auditor or a firm of external auditors, each of them qualified to act in such capacity under Italian law, that shall verify (i) during the fiscal year, that the company's accounting records are correctly kept and accurately reflect the company's activities, and (ii) that the financial statements correspond to the accounting records and the verifications conducted by the external auditors and comply with applicable rules. The external auditor or the firm of external auditors express their opinion on the financial statements in a report that may be consulted by the shareholders prior to the annual shareholders meeting.

The external auditor or the firm of external auditors is appointed for a three-year term and its compensation is determined by a vote at an ordinary shareholders meeting, having heard the board of statutory auditors, may be re-elected for two further consecutive terms, and may be removed only for cause by a vote of the shareholders meeting and with the approval of a competent court.

On April 30, 2004, the Company's shareholders appointed KPMG S.p.A., with legal offices at Via Vittor Pisani, 25, 20124 Milano, Italy, as its external auditors for a fifth consecutive three-year term.

Meetings of Shareholders

Shareholders are entitled to attend and vote at ordinary and extraordinary shareholder meetings. Votes may be cast personally or by proxy. Shareholder meetings may be called by the Company's board of directors (or the board of statutory auditors) and must be called if requested by holders of at least 10% of the issued shares. If a shareholders meeting is not called despite the request by shareholders and such refusal is unjustified, a competent court may call the meeting. Shareholders are not entitled to request that a meeting of shareholders be convened to vote on matters which, as a matter of law, shall be resolved on the basis of a proposal, plan or report by the Company's board of directors.

The Company may hold general meetings of shareholders at its registered office in Bari, at its executive offices in Santeramo or elsewhere within Italy or at locations outside Italy, as specified in the By-laws (any member state of the European Union, the United States, Switzerland, Australia or Japan) following publication of notice of the meeting in Italy's Official Gazette at least 15 days before the date fixed for the meeting. The Depositary will mail to all record holders of ADSs a notice containing a summary of all information contained in any notice of a shareholders meeting received by the Depositary.

Shareholders meetings must be convened at least once a year. The Company's annual stand-alone financial statements are prepared by the board of directors and submitted for approval to the ordinary shareholders meeting which must be convened within 120 days after the end of the fiscal year to which such financial statements relate. This term may be extended to up to 180 days after the end of the fiscal year, as long as we continue to be bound by law to draw up consolidated financial statements or if particular circumstances concerning its structure or its purposes so require. At ordinary shareholders meetings, shareholders also appoint the external auditors, approve the distribution of dividends, appoint the board of directors and statutory auditors, determine their remuneration and vote on any matter the resolution or authorization of which is entrusted to them by law.

Extraordinary shareholders meetings may be called to vote on proposed amendments to the By-laws, issuance of convertible debentures, mergers and de-mergers, capital increases and reductions, when such resolutions may not be taken by the board of directors pursuant to the 2003 corporate law reform. In particular, the board of directors may transfer the Company's registered office within Italy or make other amendments to the Company's By-laws when these amendments are required by law, approve mergers by absorption into the Company of any subsidiary in which the Company holds at least 90% of the issued share capital and reductions of the Company's share capital in case of withdrawal of a shareholder. The board of directors may also approve the issuance of shares or convertible debentures if such powers have been previously delegated to the board of directors by vote of the extraordinary shareholders meeting. Liquidation of the Company must be resolved upon by an extraordinary shareholders meeting.

The notice of a shareholders meeting may specify up to two meeting dates for an ordinary or extraordinary shareholders meeting; such meeting dates are generally referred to as calls .

The quorum for an ordinary meeting of shareholders is 50% of the Ordinary Shares, and resolutions are carried by the majority of Ordinary Shares present or represented. At an adjourned ordinary meeting, no quorum is required, and the resolutions are carried by the majority of Ordinary Shares present or represented. Certain matters, such as amendments to the By-laws, the issuance of shares, the issuance of convertible debentures and mergers and de-mergers may only be effected at an extraordinary meeting, at which special voting rules apply. Resolutions at an extraordinary meeting of the Company are carried by a majority of the shares. An adjourned extraordinary meeting is validly held with a quorum of one-third of the issued shares and its resolutions are carried by a majority of at least two-thirds of the holders of shares present or represented at such meeting. In addition, certain matters (such as a change in purpose or corporate form of the company, the transfer of its registered office outside Italy, its liquidation prior to the term set forth in its By-laws, the extension of the term and the issuance of preferred shares) must be carried by the holders of more than one-third of the shares and more than two-thirds of the shares present and represented at such meeting.

Prior to 2004, to attend any shareholders meeting, at least five days prior to the date fixed for the meeting, shareholders had to lodge their share certificates at the offices of the Company or with such banks as may be specified in the notice of meeting, in exchange for an admission ticket. Starting from January 1, 2004, the law no longer requires that share certificates be deposited prior to the shareholders meeting. However, a resolution adopted by an extraordinary shareholders meeting may introduce a prior-deposit requirement in the Company's By-laws. Owners of ADRs may make special arrangements with the Depositary for the beneficial owners of such ADRs to attend shareholders meetings, but not to vote at or formally address such meetings. The procedures for making such arrangements will be specified in the notice of such meeting to be mailed by the Depositary to the owners of ADRs.

Shareholders may appoint proxies by delivering in writing an appropriate instrument of appointment to the Company. Directors, auditors and employees of the Company or of any of its subsidiaries may not be proxies and any one proxy cannot represent more than 20 shareholders.

Preemptive Rights

Pursuant to Italian law, holders of Ordinary Shares are entitled to subscribe for the issuance of shares, debentures convertible into shares and rights to subscribe for shares, in proportion to their holdings, unless such issues are for non-cash consideration or preemptive rights are waived or limited by an extraordinary resolution adopted by the affirmative vote of holders of more than 50% of the Ordinary Shares (whether at an extraordinary or adjourned extraordinary meeting) and such waiver or limitation is required in the interest of the Company. There can be no assurance that the holders of ADSs may be able to exercise fully any preemptive rights pertaining to Ordinary Shares.

Preference Shares; Other Securities

Italian companies are permitted in accordance with Italian law to issue preference shares with limited voting rights, to issue other classes of equity securities with different economic and voting rights, to issue so-called participation certificates with limited voting rights, as well as so-called tracking stock, if their by-laws permit such issuances. The Company's By-laws currently do not provide for any of such issuances and would need to be amended at an extraordinary shareholders meeting to allow the Company to issue those classes of shares and/or securities.

Table of Contents

The power to issue debt securities not convertible into its shares is vested by law in the board of directors.

Segregation of Assets and Proceeds

Pursuant to the 2003 corporate law reform, effective January 1, 2004, the board of directors of an Italian company may approve the segregation of a company's assets into one or more separate pools. Such pools of assets may have an aggregate value not exceeding 10% of the shareholders' equity of the company. Each pool of assets must be used exclusively for the carrying out of a specific business and may not be attached by the general creditors of the company. Similarly, creditors with respect to such specific business may only attach those assets of the company that are included in the corresponding pool. Tort creditors, on the other hand, may always attach any assets of the Company. The board of directors may issue securities carrying economic and administrative rights relating to a pool. In addition, financing agreements relating to the funding of a specific business may provide that the proceeds of such business be used exclusively to repay the financing. Such proceeds may be attached only by the financing party and such financing party would have no recourse against other assets of the company.

The Company has no present intention to enter into any such transaction and none is currently in effect.

Liquidation Rights

Pursuant to Italian law and subject to the satisfaction of the claims of all other creditors, shareholders are entitled to a distribution in liquidation that is equal to the nominal value of their shares (to the extent available out of the net assets of the Company). Holders of preferred shares, if any such shares are issued in the future by the Company, may be entitled to a priority right to any such distribution from liquidation up to their par value. Thereafter, all shareholders would rank equally in their claims to the distribution or surplus assets, if any. Ordinary Shares rank pari passu among themselves in liquidation.

Purchase of Shares by the Company

The Company is permitted to purchase shares, subject to certain conditions and limitations provided for by Italian law. Shares may only be purchased out of profits available for dividends or out of distributable reserves, in each case as appearing on the latest shareholder-approved stand-alone financial statements. Further, the Company may only repurchase fully paid-in shares. Such purchases must be authorized by an ordinary shareholders' meeting. The number of shares to be acquired, together with any shares previously acquired by the Company or any of its subsidiaries, may not (except in limited circumstances) exceed in the aggregate 10% of the total number of shares then issued and the aggregate purchase price of such shares may not exceed the earnings reserve specifically approved by shareholders. Shares held in excess of such 10% limit must be sold within one year of the date of purchase. Similar limitations apply with respect to purchases of the Company's shares by its subsidiaries.

A corresponding reserve equal to the purchase price of such shares must be created in the balance sheet, and such reserve is not available for distribution, unless such shares are sold or cancelled. Shares purchased and held by the Company may be resold only pursuant to a resolution adopted at an ordinary shareholders' meeting. The voting rights attaching to the shares held by the Company or its subsidiaries cannot be exercised, but the shares can be counted for quorum purposes in shareholders' meetings. Dividends and other rights, including pre-emptive rights, attaching to such shares will accrue to the benefit of other shareholders.

Table of Contents

In July 2000, the shareholders of the Company approved a share repurchase program to buy-back up to 4 million shares or 51.6 million during a period of up to 18 months. The Company spent 23.2 million in 2000 and 14.6 million in 2001 to repurchase shares. The Company repurchased 1,782,700 shares in 2000 at an average cost of US$ 11.3 per share and 1,061,200 shares in 2001 at an average cost of US$ 12.3 per share. The repurchase program is no longer in effect. At an extraordinary meeting held in November 2003 the shareholders approved the cancellation of all the treasury shares. Such treasury shares were cancelled effective on February 21, 2004.

Notification of the Acquisition of Shares

In accordance with Italian antitrust laws, the Italian Antitrust Authority is required to prohibit the acquisition of control in a company which would thereby create or strengthen a dominant position in the domestic market or a significant part thereof and which would result in the elimination or substantial reduction, on a lasting basis, of competition, provided that certain turnover thresholds are exceeded. However, if the turnover of the acquiring party and the company to be acquired exceed certain other monetary thresholds, the antitrust review of the acquisition falls within the exclusive jurisdiction of the European Commission.

Minority Shareholders Rights; Withdrawal Rights

Shareholders' resolutions which are not adopted in conformity with applicable law or the Company's By-laws may be challenged (with certain limitations and exceptions) within ninety days by absent, dissenting or abstaining shareholders representing individually or in the aggregate at least 5% of Company's share capital (as well as by the board of directors or the board of statutory auditors). Shareholders not reaching this threshold or shareholders not entitled to vote at Company's meetings may only claim damages deriving from the resolution.

Dissenting or absent shareholders may require the Company to buy back their shares as a result of shareholders' resolutions approving, among others things, material modifications of the Company's corporate purpose or of the voting rights of its shares, the transformation of the Company from a stock corporation into a different legal entity, or the transfer of the Company's registered office outside Italy. According to the reform, the buy-back would occur at a price established by the board of directors, upon consultation with the board of statutory auditors and the Company's external auditor, having regard to the net assets value of the Company, its prospective earnings and the market value of its shares, if any. The Company's By-laws may set forth different criteria to determine the consideration to be paid to dissenting shareholders in such buy-backs.

Each shareholder may bring to the attention of the board of statutory auditors facts or actions which are deemed wrongful. If such shareholders represent more than 5% of the share capital of the Company, the board of statutory auditors must investigate without delay and report its findings and recommendations to the shareholders' meeting. Shareholders representing more than 10% of its share capital have the right to report to the competent court serious breaches of the duties of the directors which may be prejudicial to us or to its subsidiaries. In addition, shareholders representing at least 20% of the Company's share capital may commence derivative suits before the competent court against its directors, statutory auditors and general managers. The Company may waive or settle the suit unless shareholders holding at least 20% of the shares vote against such waiver or settlement. The Company will reimburse the legal costs of such action in the event that the claim of such shareholders is successful and the court does not award such costs against the relevant directors, statutory auditors or general managers.

Liability for Mismanagement of Subsidiaries

Pursuant to the 2003 corporate law reform, companies and other legal entities that, acting in their own interest or the interest of third parties, mismanage a company subject to their direction and coordination powers are liable to such company's shareholders and creditors for ensuing damages. Said liability is excluded if (i) the ensuing damage is fully eliminated, including through subsequent transactions, or (ii) the damage is effectively offset by the global benefits deriving in general to the company from the continuing exercise of such direction and coordination powers. Direction and coordination powers are presumed to exist, among other things, with respect to consolidated subsidiaries. The Company is subject to the direction and coordination of INVEST 2003 S.r.l.

Certain Contracts

As of December 31, 2003, the Group entrusted approximately 20% of its production needs (in particular assembly) to various subcontractors, all located within a 20-mile radius of Santeramo. See Item 4, Information on the Company Manufacturing for a brief description of these arrangements.

Exchange Controls

Currently, there are no Italian exchange controls that would affect the payment of dividends or other remittances to holders of the ADSs or Ordinary Shares who reside outside Italy. The Company is not aware of any plans by the Italian Government to institute any exchange controls that would affect the payment of dividends or other remittances to holders of ADSs or Ordinary Shares who reside outside Italy. Neither Italian law nor the Company's By-laws limits the right of non-resident or foreign owners to hold or vote the Ordinary Shares or the ADSs.

However, Italian resident and non-resident investors who transfer, directly or indirectly (through banks or other intermediaries) into or out of Italy, cash, investments or other securities in excess of € 12,500.00 must report all such transfers to the Italian Exchange Office (Ufficio Italiano Cambi or UIC). In the case of indirect transfers, banks or other intermediaries are required to maintain records of all such transfers for five years for inspection by Italian tax and judicial authorities. Non-compliance with these reporting and record-keeping requirements may result in administrative fines or, in the case of false reporting or in certain cases of incomplete reporting, criminal penalties. The UIC is required to maintain reports for a period of ten years and may use such reports, directly or through other government offices, to police money laundering, tax evasion and any other crime or violation.

Table of Contents

Individuals, non-profit entities and partnerships that are residents of Italy must disclose on their annual tax returns all investments and financial assets held outside Italy, as well as the total amount of transfers to, from, within and between countries other than Italy relating to such foreign investments or financial assets, even if at the end of the taxable period foreign investments or financial assets are no longer owned. No such tax disclosure is required if: (i) the foreign investments or financial assets are exempt from income tax; or (ii) the total value of the foreign investments or financial assets at the end of the taxable period or the total amount of the transfers effected during the fiscal year does not exceed 12,500.00. Corporate residents of Italy are exempt from these tax disclosure requirements with respect to their annual tax returns because this information is required to be discussed in their financial statements.

The Company cannot assure you that the present regulatory environment in or outside Italy will continue or that particular policies presently in effect will be maintained, although Italy is required to maintain certain regulations and policies by virtue of its membership of the European Union and other international organizations and its adherence to various bilateral and multilateral international agreements.

Taxation

The following is a summary of certain U.S. federal and Italian tax matters. The summary is not a comprehensive description of all of the tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to purchase or hold Ordinary Shares or ADSs. In particular, the summary deals only with beneficial owners who will hold Ordinary Shares or ADSs as capital assets and does not address the tax treatment of a beneficial owner who owns 10% or more of the voting shares of the Company. The summary does not discuss the treatment of Ordinary Shares or ADSs that are held in connection with a permanent establishment or fixed base through which a non-resident beneficial owner carries on business or performs personal services in Italy.

The summary is based upon tax laws and practice of the United States and Italy in effect on the date of this annual report, which are subject to change. Investors and prospective investors in Ordinary Shares or ADSs should consult their own advisors as to the U.S., Italian or other tax consequences of the purchase, beneficial ownership and disposition of ADSs, including, in particular, the effect of any state or local tax laws.

For purposes of the summary, beneficial owners of ADSs who are considered residents of the United States for purposes of the current income tax convention between the United States and Italy (the Income Tax Convention), and are not subject to an anti-treaty shopping provision that applies in limited circumstances, are referred to as U.S. owners. Beneficial owners who are citizens or residents of the United States, corporations organized under U.S. law, and U.S. partnerships, estates or trusts (to the extent their income is subject to U.S. tax either directly or in the hands of partners or beneficiaries) generally will be considered to be residents of the United States under the Income Tax Convention. Special rules apply to U.S. owners who are also residents of Italy. A new tax treaty to replace the current Income Tax Convention was signed on August 25, 1999, but has not yet been ratified. The new treaty would not change significantly the provisions of the Income Tax Convention that are discussed below (except that it would clarify the availability of benefits to certain tax-exempt organizations). These laws are subject to change, possibly on a retroactive basis.

For the purpose of the Income Tax Convention and the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, beneficial owners of ADRs evidencing ADSs will be treated as the beneficial owners of the Ordinary Shares represented by those ADSs.

Italian laws provide for the withholding of income tax at a 27% rate on dividends paid by Italian companies to shareholders who are not residents of Italy for tax purposes. Italian laws provide a mechanism under which non-resident shareholders can claim a refund of up to four-ninths of Italian withholding taxes on dividend income by establishing to the Italian tax authorities that the dividend income was subject to income tax in another jurisdiction in an amount at least equal to the total refund claimed. U.S. owners should consult their own tax advisers concerning the possible availability of this refund, which traditionally has been payable only after extensive delays. Alternatively, reduced rates (normally 15%) may apply to non-resident shareholders who are entitled to, and comply with procedures for claiming, benefits under an income tax convention.

Under the Income Tax Convention, dividends derived and beneficially owned by U.S. owners are subject to an Italian withholding tax at a reduced rate of 15%. However, the amount initially made available to the Depository for payment to U.S. owners will reflect withholding at the 27% rate. U.S. owners who comply with the certification procedures described below may then claim an additional payment of 12% of the dividend (representing the difference between the 27% rate and the 15% rate, and referred to herein as a treaty refund). The certification procedure will require U.S. owners (i) to obtain from the U.S. Internal Revenue Service a form of certification required by the Italian tax authorities with respect to each dividend payment (Form 6166), unless a previously filed certification will be effective on the dividend payment date (such certificates are effective until March 31 of the year following submission), (ii) to produce a statement whereby the U.S. owner represents to be a U.S. owner individual or corporation and does not maintain a permanent establishment in Italy, and (iii) to set forth other required information. The time for processing requests for certification by the Internal Revenue Service normally is six to eight weeks. Accordingly, in order to be eligible for the procedure described below, U.S. owners should begin the process of obtaining certificates as soon as possible after receiving instructions from the Depository on how to claim a treaty refund.

The Depository's instructions will specify certain deadlines for delivering to the Depository the documentation required to obtain a treaty refund, including the certification that the U.S. owners must obtain from the U.S. Internal Revenue Service. In the case of ADSs held by U.S. owners through a broker or other financial intermediary, the required documentation should be delivered to such financial intermediary for transmission to the Depository. In all other cases, the U.S. owners should deliver the required documentation directly to the Depository. The Company and the Depository have agreed that if the required documentation is received by the Depository on or within 30 days after the dividend payment date and, in the reasonable judgment of the Company, such documentation satisfies the requirements for a refund by the Company of Italian withholding tax under the Convention and applicable law, the Company will within 45 days thereafter pay the treaty refund to the Depository for the benefit of the U.S. owners entitled thereto.

If the Depository does not receive a U.S. owner's required documentation within 30 days after the dividend payment date, such U.S. owner may for a short grace period (specified in the Depository's instructions) continue to claim a treaty refund by delivering the required documentation (either through the U.S. owner's financial intermediary or directly, as the case may be) to the Depository. However, after this grace period, the treaty refund must be claimed directly from the Italian tax authorities rather than through the Depository. Expenses and extensive delays have been encountered by U.S. owners seeking refunds from the Italian tax authorities.

Distributions of profits in kind will be subject to withholding tax. In that case, prior to receiving the distribution, the holder will be required to provide the Company with the funds to pay the relevant withholding tax. Distributions of additional shares to beneficial owners with respect to their ADSs that are made as part of a pro rata distribution to all shareholders of the Company generally will not be subject to Italian tax. However, such additional shares will reduce the tax basis of each single share for the calculation of the capital gains tax.

United States Tax Considerations

The gross amount of any dividends (that is, the amount before reduction for Italian withholding tax) paid to a U.S. owner generally will be subject to U.S. federal income taxation as foreign source dividend income and will not be eligible for the dividends-received deduction allowed to domestic corporations. Dividends paid in euro will be includable in the income of such U.S. owners in a dollar amount calculated by reference to the exchange rate in effect on the day the dividends are received by the Depositary or its agent. If the euro are converted into dollars on the day the Depositary or its agent receives them, U.S. owners generally should not be required to recognize foreign currency gain or loss in respect of the dividend income. U.S. owners who receive a treaty refund may be required to recognize foreign currency gain or loss to the extent the amount of the treaty refund (in dollars) received by the U.S. owner differs from the U.S. dollar equivalent of the euro amount of the treaty refund on the date the dividends were received by the Depositary or its agent. Italian withholding tax at the 15% rate will be treated as a foreign income tax which U.S. owners may elect to deduct in computing their taxable income or, subject to the limitations on foreign tax credits generally, credit against their U.S. federal income tax liability. Dividends will generally constitute foreign-source passive income or financial services income for U.S. tax purposes.

Subject to certain exceptions for short-term and hedged positions, the U.S. dollar amount of dividends received by an individual prior to January 1, 2009 with respect to the Company's shares or ADSs will be subject to taxation at a maximum rate of 15% if the dividends are qualified dividends. Dividends paid on the ADSs will be treated as qualified dividends if the Company was not, in the year prior to the year in which the dividend was paid, and is not, in the year in which the dividend is paid, a passive foreign investment company (PFIC), foreign personal holding company (FPHC) or foreign investment company (FIC). Based on the Company's audited financial statements and relevant market and shareholder data, the Company believes that it was not treated as a PFIC, FPHC or FIC for U.S. federal income tax purposes with respect to its 2003 taxable year. In addition, based on the Company's audited financial statements and its current expectations regarding the value and nature of its assets, the sources and nature of its income, and relevant market and shareholder data, the Company does not anticipate becoming a PFIC, FPHC or FIC for its 2004 taxable year. The U.S. Treasury has announced its intention to promulgate rules pursuant to which holders of ADSs or common stock and intermediaries through whom such securities are held will be permitted to rely on certifications from issuers to treat dividends as qualified for tax reporting purposes. Because such procedures have not yet been issued, it is not clear whether the Company will be able to comply with the procedures. Holders of the Company's shares and ADSs should consult their own tax advisers regarding the availability of the reduced dividend tax rate in the light of the considerations discussed above and their own particular circumstances.

Distributions of additional shares to U.S. owners with respect to their ADSs that are made as part of a pro rata distribution to all shareholders of the Company generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax.

A beneficial owner of Ordinary Shares or ADSs who is, with respect to the United States, a foreign corporation or a nonresident alien individual generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax on dividends received on Ordinary Shares or ADSs, unless such income is effectively connected with the conduct by the beneficial owner of a trade or business in the United States.

Table of ContentsTaxation of Capital GainsItalian Tax Considerations

As of January 1, 2004, capital gains realized by non-resident shareholders on the disposal of a qualified shareholding held as a capital asset and not in connection with a permanent establishment or fixed base through which such shareholders carry on or perform business services in Italy are no longer subject to Italian capital gain tax (CGT) but to personal or corporate income tax, for an amount equal to 40% of the overall gain. Losses can be offset against taxable gains for a corresponding amount and, if in excess, can be carried forward up to four years. A qualified shareholding is constituted by ordinary shares or ADSs and/or rights representing more than 5% of a listed company's total share capital or more than 2% of its share capital voting in the ordinary shareholders meeting. A disposal of a qualified shareholding occurs if in any 12-month period immediately following the date when a shareholding meets one of the thresholds illustrated above, the shareholder engages in disposals of shares or ADSs that, individually or in aggregate, constitute a qualified shareholding. The taxable gain realized by a non-resident shareholder who is an individual would be subject to progressive personal income tax rates (currently, the marginal tax rate is equal to 45%, plus a surcharge of up to 1.4%, depending on the municipality in which the shareholder resides). The taxable gain realized by a non-resident corporate shareholder would be subject to corporate income tax, currently levied at a rate of 33%.

Generally, CGT, levied at a rate of 12.5%, is imposed on gains realized upon the transfer or sale of non-qualified shareholdings whether held within or outside Italy. A non-qualified shareholding is constituted by an interest in Natuzzi which does not reach the thresholds described above. However, under domestic law, an exemption applies to gains realized on the disposal of non-qualified shareholdings in an Italian company the shares of which are listed on a regulated market, such as the Natuzzi shares, even when such shareholdings are held in Italy.

Furthermore, pursuant to the Income Tax Convention, a U.S. owner will not be subject to Italian CGT unless such U.S. owner has a permanent establishment or fixed base in Italy to which Ordinary Shares or ADSs are effectively connected. To this end, U.S. residents selling Ordinary Shares or ADSs and claiming benefits under the Income Tax Convention may be required to produce appropriate documentation establishing that the above-mentioned conditions have been met. Other countries have executed income tax conventions with Italy providing for similar treatment of Italian CGT. No CGT will be imposed on the deposit or withdrawal of shares in return for ADSs.

United States Tax Considerations

Gain or loss realized by a U.S. owner on the sale or other disposition of Ordinary Shares or ADSs will be subject to U.S. federal income taxation as capital gain or loss in an amount equal to the difference between the U.S. owner's basis in the Ordinary Shares or the ADSs and the amount realized on the disposition (or its dollar equivalent, determined at the spot rate on the date of disposition, if the amount realized is denominated in a foreign currency). Such gain or loss will generally be long-term capital gain or loss if the U.S. owner holds the Ordinary Shares or ADSs for more than one year. The net amount of long-term capital gain recognized by a U.S. owner that is an individual holder before January 1, 2009 generally is subject to taxation at a maximum rate of 15%. Deposits and withdrawals of Ordinary Shares by U.S. owners in exchange for ADSs will not result in the realization of gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

A beneficial owner of Ordinary Shares or ADSs who is, with respect to the United States, a foreign corporation or a nonresident alien individual will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax on gain realized on the sale of Ordinary Shares or ADSs, unless (i) such gain is effectively connected with the conduct by the beneficial owner of a trade or business in the United States or (ii), in the case of gain realized by an individual beneficial owner, the beneficial owner is present in the United States for 183 days or more in the taxable year of the sale and certain other conditions are met.

Other Italian Taxes

Estate and Gift Tax. As of October 25, 2001, the Italian estate and gift tax has been abolished and consequently any transfer of shares or ADSs occurring by reason of death or gift as of that date is no longer subject to any Italian estate and gift tax.

However, should a gift of ordinary shares or ADSs for a value exceeding 180,759.91 (the Threshold) occur and the relationship between the donor and the beneficiary not qualify for the exemption regime applicable to gifts made in favor of certain family members (e.g., spouse, parents, children, grandchildren), a registration tax of 129.11 would be due insofar as the gift agreement is either executed or registered in Italy. The materiality threshold is increased to 516,456.91 in case the beneficiary is either underage (i.e., younger than 18) or a person with a handicap recognized pursuant to applicable law.

Transfer Tax. An Italian transfer tax is normally payable on the transfer of shares in an Italian company, unless (i) the contract is concluded on a regulated market, or (ii) the shares are transferred to or from a non-Italian resident, on the one hand, and banks or other investment services companies, on the other hand. As a result, the transfer tax concluded either on a regulated market or with the intervention of a bank or an investment service company will not be payable with respect to any transfers of Ordinary Shares or ADSs involving non-Italian residents.

Documents on Display

The Company is subject to the information reporting requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act) applicable to foreign private issuers. In accordance therewith, Natuzzi is required to file reports, including annual reports on Form 20-F, and other information with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. These materials, including this annual report on Form 20-F, are available for inspection and copying at the SEC's Public Reference Room at 450 Fifth Street N.W., Washington, D.C. 20549. Please call the Commission at 1-800-SEC-0330 for further information on the public reference rooms. As a foreign private issuer, we were not required to make filings with the SEC by electronic means prior to November 4, 2002. Any filings we make electronically will be available to the public over the Internet at the SEC's website at <http://www.sec.gov>. The Form 20-F and reports and other information filed by the Company with the Commission will also be available for inspection by ADS holders at the Corporate Trust Office of The Bank of New York at 101 Barclay Street, New York, New York 10286.

Item 11. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

The following discussion of the Group's risk management activities include forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. Actual results could differ materially from those projected in the forward looking statements. See Item 3, Key Information Forward Looking Information .

Market Risks

The Group is exposed to the economic transaction and conversion risk principally from fluctuations in the exchange rates between the euro and other currencies, including in particular the U.S. dollar.

Table of ContentsExchange Rate Risks

The Group's foreign exchange rate risks in 2003 arose principally in connection with U.S. dollars, British pounds, Canadian dollars, Australian dollars, Swiss francs and Japanese yen.

As at December 31, 2003 and 2002, the Group had outstanding trade receivables denominated in foreign currencies totaling 80.5 million and 87.3 million respectively, of which 61.9% and 76.0%, respectively, were denominated in U.S. dollars. On those same dates, the Group had 20.7 million and 26.1 million, respectively, of trade payables denominated in foreign currencies, principally U.S. dollars. See Notes 6 and 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report.

As at December 31, 2003, the Company was a party to a number of domestic currency swap contracts designed to hedge future sales denominated in U.S. dollars and other currencies. At such date, the contractual amounts of such domestic currency swaps aggregated 116.2 million (compared to 169.9 million at December 31, 2002), consisting of domestic currency swap contracts for U.S. $ 35.0 million, Canadian $ 30.0 million, Swiss francs 5.4 million, Australian $ 19.0 million, Japanese yen 440.0 million and U.K. pounds sterling 32.5 million. Such contracts had various maturities extending through December 2003. See Note 24 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report.

The table below summarizes in thousands of euro equivalent the contractual amounts of domestic currency swap contracts designed to hedge future cash flows from accounts receivable and sales orders at December 31, 2003 and 2002:

Sales	2003	2002
U.S. dollars	32,942	117,050
British pounds	46,267	22,650
Canadian dollars	19,044	14,937
Australian dollars	10,796	9,579
Japanese yen	3,532	2,863
Swiss francs	3,629	2,844
Total	116,210	169,923

As at December 31, 2003, these forward exchange contracts had a net unrealized gain of 6.3 million. The Company recorded this amount in other income (expense), net in its Consolidated Financial Statements.

At December 31, 2002, these forward exchange contracts had a net unrealized gain of 14.3 million, of which 9.3 million related to accounts receivable, 3.0 million related to existing sales commitments and 2.0 million related to anticipated commitments at year end. The Company recorded these amounts within other income (expense), net in its Consolidated Financial Statements, except for the 3.0 million related to existing sales commitments that were deferred.

The following table presents information regarding the contract amount in thousands of euro equivalent and the estimated fair value of all of the Group's forward exchange contracts. Contracts with unrealized gains are presented as assets and contracts with unrealized losses are presented as liabilities .

Table of Contents

	2003		2002
	Contract Amount	Fair Value	Contract Amount	Fair Value
Assets	104,206	6,544	156,983	14,880
Liabilities	12,004	(268)	12,940	(588)
Total	116,210	6,276	169,923	14,292

The Group's domestic currency swap contracts as at December 31, 2003 had maturities of maximum 12 months. The potential loss in fair value of the Group's domestic currency swap contracts at December 31, 2003 that would have resulted from a hypothetical, instantaneous and unfavorable 10% change in currency exchange rates would have been approximately -6.0 million. This sensitivity analysis assumes an instantaneous unfavorable 10% fluctuation in exchange rates affecting the foreign currencies of the Group's domestic currency swap contracts other than currencies that have been replaced by the euro.

For the accounting of transactions entered into in an effort to reduce the Group's exchange rate risks, see Notes 3, 24 and 25 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report.

Interest Rate Risks

To a significantly lesser extent, the Group is also exposed to interest rate risk. At December 31, 2003, the Group had 10.3 million (representing 1.5% of the Group's total assets as of that date) in debt outstanding (short-term borrowings and long-term debt, including the current portion of such debt). Of the Group's outstanding debt as of December 31, 2003 approximately 59.0% was due within a year. See Notes 11 and 16 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 18 of this annual report.

In the normal course of business, the Group also faces risks that are either non-financial or non-quantifiable. Such risks principally include country risk, credit risk and legal risk.

Item 15. Controls and Procedures

The Company carried out an evaluation under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's management, including the Chief Executive Officer and the General Manager, who acts as the Company's principal financial officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures as of December 31, 2003. There are inherent limitations to the effectiveness of any system of disclosure controls and procedures, including the possibility of human error and the circumvention or overriding of the controls and procedures. Accordingly, even effective disclosure controls and procedures can only provide reasonable assurance of achieving their control objectives. Based upon the Company's evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and General Manager concluded that the disclosure controls and procedures as of December 31, 2003 were effective to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed in the reports the Company files and submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported as and when required. There has been no change in the Company's internal control over financial reporting during 2003 that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

Item 16. [Reserved]

Item 16.A Audit committee financial expert

The Company has determined that, because of the existence and nature of its board of statutory auditors, it will qualify for an exemption provided by Exchange Act Rule 10A-3(c)(3) from many of the Rule 10A-3(c)(3) audit committee requirements, which become applicable to foreign private issuers on July 31, 2005. The board of statutory auditors has determined that each of its members is an audit committee financial expert as defined in Item 16A of Form 20-F. For the names of the members of the board of statutory auditors, see Item 6. Directors, Senior Management and Employees - Statutory Auditors.

Item 16.B Code of Ethics

The Company is in the process of adopting a code of ethics, as defined in Item 16B of Form 20-F under the Exchange Act but has been unable to complete its formal adoption process in a timely manner. The Company expects that, when adopted, this code of ethics will be applicable, among others, to the Report of Independent Public Accounting Firm

To the Shareholders

Natuzzi S.p.A.

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Natuzzi S.p.A. and subsidiaries (the Natuzzi Group) as of December 31, 2003 and 2002 and the related consolidated statements of earnings, changes in shareholders' equity and cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2003. These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the management of Natuzzi S.p.A.. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of Italy and in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Natuzzi Group as of December 31, 2003 and 2002 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2003, in conformity with established accounting principles in the Republic of Italy.

Established accounting principles in the Republic of Italy vary in certain significant respects from generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America. Information relating to the nature and effect of such differences is presented in note 26 to the consolidated financial statements.

Natuzzi S.p.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(Expressed in thousands of euros except as otherwise indicated)

In January 2003 the Company incorporated a new subsidiary, Natuzzi Benelux S.A., which provides sales support for the Group in Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

On May 7, 2003 the Company acquired 100% of the outstanding common shares of Castlegate 170 Ltd, based in London, ultimate parent company of the Kingdom of Leather Group (KOL or KOL Group), a leading UK upholstered furniture specialist with a network of 15 stores, mainly located in England. The primary reason for this acquisition was the opportunity to increase market share in the United Kingdom. The factors that contributed to the determination of the price are the presence of stores in key geographic locations and the presence of a well-placed sales force. The acquisition was accounted for using the purchase method and it resulted in a goodwill of 9,179, which represents the excess of purchase price over fair value of net liabilities assumed. The following table summarizes the estimated fair value of the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed at date of acquisition.

Current assets	10,324

Other non current assets	3,008
Current liabilities	(17,911)

In addition, the following table summarizes the consolidated statements of earnings of the KOL Group for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002.

On October 6, 2003 the Company acquired 100% of the shares of Minuano Nordeste SA (Minuano), at a price of 4,298, of which 2,149 was paid in cash, with the balance to be paid in installments before the end of 2006. At December 31, 2003 this payable is included in other liabilities (see notes 13 and 17). The main reason of the acquisition is that the enterprise acquired signed an agreement with the Brazilian government whereby it will enjoy certain export incentives until 2015. At the time of the acquisition the subsidiary was dormant. During the first few months of 2004 the subsidiary has started to build new facilities for the production of leather upholstery furniture labelled Italsofa . The acquisition resulted in a goodwill of 4,053, which represents the excess of purchase price over fair value of acquired net assets. The fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed were as follows:

Current and non current assets	253
Goodwill	4,053
Current and non current liabilities	(8)

In an effort to maximize the efficiency of the Group s organizational structure, at an extraordinary general meeting held on July 15, 2002, the Company s shareholders approved the merger of Creazioni Ellelle S.p.A., Divani e Poltrone Italia S.r.l., Expan Italia S.r.l., Nagest S.r.l., Softaly S.r.l., Soft Cover S.r.l. and Spagnesi International S.r.l. into the Company (the Company owned 100% of the share capital of all these companies prior to the merger). The merger became effective on January 1, 2003.

During 2003 the subsidiaries Italsofa Hong-Kong Ltd, D.L.S. S.r.l., Natuzzi Argentina, Finat Ltd and Natex S.r.l. were wound up.

During 2002, the Company set up a subsidiary in Denmark, Natuzzi Nordic, which is engaged in the distribution of the Company s products in the Scandinavian countries.

During 2002, the Company acquired part of minority interest (20%) of Natuzzi Switzerland AG for a consideration of 123 in cash. Goodwill arising from that acquisition amounted to 97.

During 2001, the Company acquired all the minority interest of Divani e Poltrone Italia S.r.l. (0.02%) and Expan S.r.l. (1%) for a consideration of 33 in cash.

During 2001, the Company acquired 100% of Natuzzi Iberica S.A. and 60% of Natuzzi Switzerland AG, for cash consideration of 60. Goodwill arising from that acquisition amounted to 431.

In 2001 and 2000 the Company incorporated subsidiaries in Romania, Brazil and China. At December 31, 2003 these subsidiaries are engaged in the production of leather upholstery furniture labelled Italsofa .

2. Basis of preparation and principles of consolidation

The financial statements utilized for the consolidation are the statutory financial statements of each Group company at December 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001. The 2002 and 2001 financial statements have been approved by the respective shareholders of the relevant companies. The 2003 financial statements have been approved only by the directors of the respective companies.

The financial statements of subsidiaries are adjusted, where necessary, to conform to Natuzzi's accounting principles and policies, which are consistent with Italian legal requirements governing financial statements considered in conjunction with established accounting principles promulgated by the Italian Accounting Profession and, in their absence, by the International Financial Reporting Standards issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB). The consolidated financial statements are classified in accordance with the presentations generally used in international practice.

Established accounting principles in the Republic of Italy vary in certain significant respects from generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America. Information relating to the nature and effect of such differences is presented in note 26 to the consolidated financial statements.

The consolidated financial statements include all affiliates and companies that Natuzzi directly or indirectly controls, either through majority ownership or otherwise. Control is presumed to exist where more than one-half of a subsidiary's voting power is controlled by the Company or the Company is able to govern the financial and operating policies of a subsidiary or control the removal or appointment of a majority of a subsidiary's board of directors. Where an entity either began or ceased to be controlled during the year, the results of operations are included only from the date control commenced or up to the date control ceased.

The assets and liabilities of subsidiaries are consolidated on a line-by-line basis and the carrying value of intercompany investments held is eliminated against the related shareholder's equity accounts. The minority interests of consolidated subsidiaries are separately classified in the consolidated balance sheets and statements of earnings. All intercompany balances and transactions are eliminated in consolidation.

On January 1, 2002, the Company adopted the euro as its reporting currency and therefore the accompanying consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2003 and 2002, consolidated statement of earnings, consolidated statements of changes in shareholders' equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2003, 2002 are presented in euros. All consolidated financial statements for each period presented prior to January 1, 2002 have been restated into euros using the official lira-euro exchange rate fixed as of January 1, 1999 (euro 1 is equal to lire 1,936.27). Due to the fixed lira-euro exchange rate, Company's restated consolidated financial statements will depict the same trends as would have been presented if it had continued to present its consolidated financial statements in Italian lire. Natuzzi consolidated financial statements, however, will not be comparable to the euro consolidated financial statements of other companies that previously reported their financial statements in a currency other than lira because of currency fluctuations between the lira and other currencies.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies

The significant accounting policies followed in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are outlined below.

a) Foreign currency transactions

Foreign currency transactions are recorded at the exchange rates applicable at the transaction dates. Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are remeasured at year-end exchange rates. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the remeasurement of these assets and liabilities are included in other income (expense), net, in the consolidated statements of earnings.

Until December 31, 2002 receivables being hedged by forward exchange contracts were remeasured using the related forward exchange rate. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the remeasurement of hedged receivables were recognized in other income (expense), net, in the consolidated statements of earnings.

b) Forward exchange contracts

The Group enters into forward exchange contracts (known in Italian financial markets as domestic currency swaps) to manage its exposure to foreign currency risks. As from January 1, 2003 the Company adopted a close interpretation of methods for documenting all relationships between its hedging instruments (domestic currency swaps) and its hedged items. As a consequence of this, effective January 1, 2003 forward exchange contracts are not used to hedge any on or off-balance sheet items. Therefore, at December 31, 2003 all unrealized gains or losses on such contracts are recorded in other income (expense), net, in the consolidated statements of earnings.

Until December 31, 2002, the accounting for forward exchange contracts, depending on their use, was as follows:

§ Forward exchange contracts used to hedge accounts receivable were considered when remeasuring the related balance sheet item at the contract rate. Foreign exchange gains and losses from the remeasurement of the accounts receivable at contract rate were recorded within other income (expense), net, in the consolidated statements of earnings.

§ Forward exchange contracts were used to hedge future sales if the sales were supported by sales orders and customer's indications of future purchases as of the balance sheet date which were confirmed by sales orders received within the earlier of four months after the year-end or the issuance of the consolidated financial statements. Unrealized gains and losses on these forward contracts were deferred.

§ Unrealized gains and losses on forward exchange contracts not hedging any on-or off-balance sheet items were recorded in other income (expense), net, in the consolidated statements of earnings.

The change in the application of this accounting principle had an immaterial impact on the consolidated statement of earnings for the year ended December 31, 2003.

c) Financial statements of foreign operations

The Group's foreign subsidiaries are considered an integral part of the Company due to various factors including significant intercompany transactions, financing, and cash flow indicators. Therefore, the functional currency for these foreign subsidiaries is the functional currency of the parent, namely the euro. As a result all monetary assets and liabilities are remeasured, at the end of each reporting period, using euro and the resulting gain or loss is recognized in the consolidated statements of earnings. For all non monetary assets and liabilities, share capital and retained earnings historical exchange rates are used. The average exchange rates during the year is used for revenues and expenses, except for those revenues and expenses related to assets and liabilities translated at historical exchange rates.

d) Cash and cash equivalents

The Company classifies as cash and cash equivalents cash on hand, amounts on deposit and on account in banks and cash invested temporarily in various instruments with maturities of three months or less at time of purchase.

e) Marketable debt securities

Marketable debt securities are valued at the lower of cost or market value determined on an individual security basis. A valuation allowance is established and recorded as a charge to other income (expense), net, for unrealized losses on securities. Unrealized gains are not recorded until realized. Recoveries in the value of securities are recorded as part of other expense, net, but only to the extent of previously recognized unrealized losses.

Gains and losses realized on the sale of marketable debt securities were computed based on a weighted-average cost of the specific securities being sold.

Realized gains and losses are charged to other income (expense), net.

f) Accounts receivable and payable

Receivables are stated at nominal value net of an allowance for doubtful accounts. Payables are stated at face value.

g) Inventories

Raw materials are stated at the lower of cost (determined under the specific cost method for leather hides and under the weighted-average method for other raw materials) and replacement cost. Goods in process and finished goods are valued at the lower of production cost and net realizable value.

h) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment is stated at historical cost, except for certain buildings which were revalued in 1983, 1991 and 2000 according to Italian revaluation laws. Maintenance and repairs are expensed; significant improvements are capitalized and depreciated over the useful life of the related assets. The cost or valuation of fixed assets is depreciated on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets (refer to note 9). The related depreciation expense is allocated to cost of goods sold, selling expenses and general and administrative expenses based on the usage of the assets.

Natuzzi S.p.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(Expressed in thousands of euros except as otherwise indicated)

i) Treasury shares

Treasury shares are accounted for as a non-current assets and an amount equal to the cost of shares acquired is reclassified from retained earnings to an undistributed treasury shares reserve (see note 19). Treasury shares are stated at cost and when a permanent impairment loss exists at the balance sheet date a valuation allowance is established and recorded as a charge to other income (expense), net.

j) Other assets

Other assets in the consolidated financial statements primarily include trademarks and patents, goodwill and certain deferred costs. These assets are stated at the lower of amortized cost or recoverable amount. The carrying amount of other assets are reviewed to determine if they are in excess of their recoverable amount, based on undiscounted cash flows, at the consolidated balance sheet date. If the carrying amount exceeds the recoverable amount, the asset is written down to the recoverable amount.

Trademarks, patents and goodwill are amortized on a straight-line basis over a period of five years.

k) Impairment of long-lived assets and long-lived assets to be disposed of

The Company reviews long-lived assets, including intangible assets, for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to future net cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the fair value of the assets. Estimated fair value is generally based on either appraised value or measured by discounted estimated future cash flows. Assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of the carrying amount or fair value less costs to sell.

l) Income taxes

Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and operating loss. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance to an amount that is more likely than not to be realized. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date.

m) Government grants

Capital grants compensate the Group for the partial cost of an asset and are part of the Italian government's investment incentive program, under which the Group receives amounts generally equal to a percentage of the aggregate investment made by the Group in the construction of new manufacturing facilities, or in the improvement of existing facilities, in designated areas of the country.

Capital grants from government agencies are recorded when there is reasonable assurance that the grants will be received and that the Group will comply with the conditions applying to them.

Until December 31, 2000 capital grants were recorded, net of tax, within reserves in shareholders' equity. As from January 1, 2001 all new capital grants are recorded in the consolidated balance sheet initially as deferred income and subsequently recognized in the consolidated statement of earnings as revenue on a systematic basis over the useful life of the related asset. At December 31, 2003 and 2002 the deferred income for capital grants amounts to 13,359 and 14,229, respectively.

Cost reimbursement grants relating to training and other personnel costs are credited to income when received from government agencies.

n) Employees' leaving entitlement

Leaving entitlements represent amounts accrued for each Italian employee that are due and payable upon termination of employment determined in accordance with applicable labour laws. The Group accrues the full amount of employees' vested benefit obligation as determined by such laws for leaving entitlements.

The expense recorded for the leaving entitlement for the years ended December 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001 was 6,776, 7,091 and 6,293, respectively.

The number of workers employed by the Group totalled 6,230 and 5,742 at December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

o) Net sales

The Company recognizes revenue on sales at the time products are shipped from the manufacturing facilities, and when the following criteria are met: persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists; the price to the buyer is fixed and determinable; and collectibility of the sales price is reasonably assured.

Revenues are recorded net of returns and discounts. Sales returns are estimated and provided for in the year of sales. Such allowances are made based on historical trends. The Company has the ability to make a reasonable estimate of future returns due to large volumes of homogeneous transactions and historical experience.

p) Shipping and handling costs

Shipping and handling costs incurred to transport products to customers are included in selling expenses. Shipping and handling expenses recorded for the years ended December 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001 were 68,194, 65,338 and 66,114, respectively.

q) Advertising costs

Advertising costs are expensed in the periods incurred. Advertising expenses recorded for the years ended December 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001 were 32,114, 23,578 and 19,597, respectively.

r) Commission expense

Commissions payable to sales representatives and the related expenses are recorded at the time shipments are made by the Group to customers. Commissions are not paid until payment for the related sales invoice is remitted to the Group by the customer.

s) Contingencies

Liabilities for loss contingencies are recorded when it is probable that an asset has been impaired or a liability has been incurred and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated.

t) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with established accounting policies requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

u) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing net earnings attributable to ordinary shareholders by the weighted-average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the period after considering the effect of outstanding treasury shares. The Company does not have any dilutive instruments (such as stock options). Therefore, basic earnings per share is equal to diluted earnings per share. The following table provides the amounts used in the calculation of earnings per share:

	2003	2002	2001
Net earnings attributable to ordinary shareholders	37,300	91,438	75,657

Total trade receivables, net	154,501	158,398

Trade receivables are due primarily from major retailers who sell directly to customers.

No single customer accounted for more than 5% of the company's sales in 2003, 2002 and 2001 or accounts receivable at December 31, 2003 and 2002. The Company insures its collection risk in respect of a significant portion of accounts receivable outstanding balances and, estimates an allowance for doubtful accounts based on the insurance in place, the credit worthiness of its customers as well as general economic conditions.

The following table provides the movements in the allowance for doubtful accounts:

	2003	2002	2001

14. Taxes on income

Italian companies are subject to two income taxes at the following rates:

	2003	2002	2001
IRPEG (state tax)	34.00%	36.00%	36.00%
IRAP (regional tax)	4.25%	4.25%	4.25%

IRPEG is a state tax and is calculated on the taxable income determined on the income before taxes modified to reflect all temporary and permanent differences regulated by the tax law. In 1997 dual income tax was introduced for the purpose of encouraging companies to use equity rather than debt finance. A first portion of the taxpayer's taxable income is calculated by applying an interest rate percentage (based on the return on government and private sector bonds) to the net increase in shareholders' equity of such taxpayer, subject to certain restrictions. This portion is subject to IRPEG at the reduced rate of 19.00%. The remaining profit will be subject to tax at the ordinary IRPEG tax rate (at present 34.00%).

On December 12, 2003, the Italian Government approved the legislative decree n. 344 which enacted certain changes in the fiscal legislation for fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2004. The principal change made was the introduction of the new state income tax IRES which will replace IRPEG, with the simultaneous elimination of the dual income tax system. The enacted IRES tax rate for 2004 is 33% of taxable income.

As a result of these new tax rules, the Company adjusted the effect of changes in IRPEG tax rates on net deferred tax assets during the year ended December 31, 2003, as it includes the

F-22

Table of Contents

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

enactment date. These changes in tax rates resulted in a decrease of net deferred tax assets by 55 as of December 31, 2003.

Such tax law did not modify the existing IRAP regime. IRAP is a regional tax and each Italian region has the power to increase the current rate of 4.25% by a maximum of 1.00%. In general, the taxable base of IRAP is a form of gross profit determined as the difference between gross revenues (excluding interest and dividend income) and direct production costs (excluding labour costs, interest expenses and other financial costs).

Under Italian investment incentive schemes for under-industrialized regions, certain of the Group's operating entities have been entitled to enjoy a full exemption from IRPEG and a significant part of IRAP for ten years. A very significant portion of the Group's consolidated earnings before minority interest in 2003, 2002 and 2001 is derived from companies entitled to some extent to the aforementioned exemptions, the most significant of which expired in 2003. The table below describes the effect of such exemptions on the Group's 2003, 2002 and 2001 income tax charge. The Company is currently eligible for certain tax benefits, available subject to an investment program being initiated pursuant to Law no. 388 of December 23, 2000. This regime entails tax deductions amounting, in 2003, to 29.75% of the value of the newly-made investments and will be available in connection with any such investments made prior to January 1, 2007; however, the amount of the tax credit may vary in future years. Certain foreign subsidiaries enjoy significant tax benefits, such as corporate income tax exemptions or reductions of the corporate income tax rates effectively applicable.

Approximately 57.2%, 88.8% and 88.7% respectively, of the Group's consolidated earnings before taxes were generated by these domestic Italian operations, which have benefited from the above mentioned beneficial tax regimes in 2003, 2002 and 2001.

Consolidated earnings before taxes are analyzed as follows:

	2003	2002	2001
Domestic	26,319	103,370	86,534
Foreign	19,640	12,991	11,004
Total	45,959	116,361	97,538

The effective income tax rates for the years ended December 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001 were 18.5%, 21.5% and 22.5%, respectively. The actual income tax expense differs from the expected income tax expense (computed by applying the state tax, which is 34% for 2003 and 36% for 2002 and 2001, to income before income taxes and minority interest) as follows:

A valuation allowance has been established principally for the tax loss carryforwards, allowance for doubtful accounts, impairment of fixed assets and for provision for termination indemnities of sales representatives.

The valuation allowance for deferred tax assets as of December 31, 2003 and 2002 was 8,060 and 4,562, respectively. The net change in the total valuation allowance for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002 was an increase of 3,498 and 1,542, respectively. In assessing the realizability of deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which those temporary differences become deductible. Management considers the scheduled reversal of deferred tax liabilities, projected future taxable income, and the tax planning strategies in making this assessment. Based upon the level of historical taxable income and projections for future taxable income over the periods during which the deferred tax assets are deductible, management believes it is more likely than not that the Company will realize the benefits of these deductible differences, net of the existing valuation allowances at December 31, 2003. The amount of the deferred tax asset considered realizable, however, could be reduced in the near term if estimates of future taxable income during the carryforward period are reduced.

Net deferred income tax assets are included in the consolidated balance sheets as follows:

The number of ordinary shares issued at December 31, 2003 and 2002 is 57,525,528, respectively. The par value of one ordinary share is euro 1.

In July 2000, the shareholders of the Company approved a share repurchase program to buy-back up to 4 million shares or 51,646. The Company spent 23,234 in 2000 and 14,594 in 2001 to repurchase shares. The Company repurchased 1,782,700 shares in 2000 at an average cost of US$ 11.3 per share and 1,061,200 shares in 2001 at an average cost of US$ 12.3 per share. As of December 31, 2003 the repurchase program is expired. Under Italian

GAAP, the purchase of shares is accounted for as a non-current asset and an amount equal to the cost of shares acquired was reclassified from retained earnings to an undistributed treasury shares reserve.

During an extraordinary general meeting on November 21, 2003 shareholders approved the cancellation of all treasury shares. On the basis of the Italian civil code this decision became effective on February 21, 2004.

Italian law requires that 5% of net income of the parent company and each of its consolidated Italian subsidiaries be retained as a legal reserve, until this reserve is equal to 20% of the issued share capital of each respective company. The legal reserve may be utilized to cover losses; any portion which exceeds 20% of the issued share capital is distributable as dividends. The combined legal reserves totalled 13,281 and 6,737 at December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

As of December 31, 2003, taxes that would be due on distribution of the portion of shareholders' equity equal to unremitted earnings of foreign subsidiaries is approximately 1,170 (450 at December 31, 2002). The Group has not provided for such taxes as the likelihood of distribution is remote and such earnings are deemed to be permanently reinvested.

No taxes would be payable on the distribution of the monetary revaluation reserve and government capital grants reserve.

20. Commitments and contingent liabilities

Several companies of the Group lease manufacturing facilities and stores under non-cancellable lease agreements with expiry dates through 2024. Rental expense recorded for the years ended December 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001 was 11,046, 2,384 and 2,057, respectively. As of December 31, 2003, the minimum annual rental commitments are as follows:

2004	10,165
2005	9,647
2006	10,121
2007	10,389
2008	10,566
Thereafter	37,989

Certain banks have provided guarantees at December 31, 2003 to secure payments to third parties amounting to 3,658 (4,408 at December 31, 2002). These guarantees are unsecured and have various maturities extending through December 31, 2004.

VAT reimbursed by tax authorities in prior years is secured by surety bonds for 117 (117 at December 31, 2002) from certain financial institutions. These surety bonds are unsecured and will expire after a maximum period of up to two years or when the tax authorities perform the final review of the VAT claim requests.

In December, 1996, the Company and the Contract Planning Service of the Italian Ministry of the Budget signed a Program Agreement with respect to the Natuzzi 2000 project. In connection with this project, the Natuzzi Group has prepared a multi-faceted program of industrial investments for the production of upholstered furniture. Investments are projected to total approximately 69,772. According to the revised agreement, which is currently subject to approval of the CIPE (Comitato Interministeriale Programmazione Economica) expected to occur during the summer of 2004, the Italian government will contribute approximately 35,614. Receipt of the Italian governments funds is based upon, among other things, the Group constructing facilities in accordance with certain specifications and maintaining a minimum number of employees.

During 1997 the Group received under the aforementioned project capital grants for 24,209 (included in the aforementioned total contribution of 35,614). Capital expenditures under the Natuzzi 2000 project amounted to approximately 70,755 at December 31, 2003. The capital grants are secured by surety bonds for 26,041 from a bank. These surety bonds are unsecured and will expire when the Italian Ministry of Budget releases the final approvals of all investments made.

The Group is also involved in a number of claims (including tax claims) and legal actions arising in the ordinary course of business. In the opinion of management, the ultimate disposition of these matters, after considering amounts accrued, will not have a material adverse effect on the Group's consolidated financial position or results of operations.

21. Segmental and geographical information

The Group operates in a single industry segment, that is, the design, manufacture and marketing of contemporary and traditional leather and fabric upholstered furniture. It offers a wide range of upholstered furniture for sale, manufactured in production facilities located in Italy and abroad (Romania, Brazil and China).

Net sales of upholstered furniture analyzed by coverings are as follows:

	2003	2002	2001
Leather upholstered furniture	550,029	623,755	624,411
Fabric upholstered furniture	123,921	110,997	89,628
	<hr/>	<hr/>	<hr/>
	<hr/>	<hr/>	<hr/>

Within leather and fabric upholstered furniture, the Company offers furniture in the following categories: stationary furniture (sofas, loveseats and armchairs), sectional furniture, motion furniture, sofa beds and occasional chairs, including recliners and massage chairs.

The following tables provide information upon the net sales of upholstered furniture and of long-lived assets by geographical location. Net sales are attributed to countries based on the location of customers. Long-lived assets consist of property, plant and equipment.

Impairment loss on fixed assets

The Company has evaluated the impairment of long lived assets in accordance with its accounting policy (wherever the event or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may be not recoverable). Based on such analysis the Company recorded an impairment loss of 4,292.

Pre-acquisition loss for KOL Group

The pre-acquisition loss related to the KOL acquisition has been eliminated in the consolidated statement of earnings for the year ended at December 31, 2003 (see also note 26 (g)).

Tax liabilities settlement

During 2002 the Group settled certain of the tax claims made by the authorities.

Tax refund

During 2002, the Company obtained from the tax authorities a refund of 1,314 for taxes not due on a portion of income related to 1993. As these amounts were not recorded previously due to uncertainty, the Company recorded such amounts in the consolidated statement of earnings for that year.

Employment incentive grants

In prior years Company and certain subsidiaries, on the basis of regional laws, received employment incentive from the regional agencies in the form of grants for new permanent employees and subsidies of up to 100% of the cost of training courses for permanent and temporary employees. The incentives received related to prior years. For the year ended December 31, 2001 these incentives amounted to 2,259.

24. Financial instruments and risk management

A significant portion of the Group's net sales, but only approximately 40% of its costs, are denominated in currencies other than the euro, in particular the U.S. dollar. The remaining costs

F-33

Table of Contents

Natuzzi S.p.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

of the Group are denominated principally in euros. Consequently, a significant portion of the Group's net revenues are exposed to fluctuations in the exchange rates between the euro and such other currencies. The Group uses forward exchange contracts (known in Italy as domestic currency swaps) to reduce its exposure to the risks of short-term declines in the value of its foreign currency-denominated revenues. The Group uses such domestic currency swaps to protect the value of its foreign-currency denominated revenues, and not for speculative or trading purposes.

The Group is exposed to credit risk in the event that the counterparties to the domestic currency swaps fail to perform according to the terms of the contracts. The contract amounts of the domestic currency swaps described below do not represent amounts exchanged by the parties and, thus, are not a measure of the exposure of the Group through its use of those financial instruments. The amounts exchanged are calculated on the basis of the contract amounts and the terms of the financial instruments, which relate primarily to exchange rates. The immediate credit risk of the Group's domestic currency swaps is represented by the unrealized gains or losses on the contracts. Management of the Group enters into contracts with creditworthy counter-parties and believes that the risk of material loss from such credit risk to be remote. The table below summarizes in euro equivalent the contractual amounts of forward exchange contracts used to hedge principally future cash flows from accounts receivable and sales orders at December 31, 2003 and 2002:

The following table presents information regarding the contract amount in euro equivalent amounts and the estimated fair value of all of the Group's forward exchange contracts. Contracts with unrealized gains are presented as assets and contracts with unrealized losses are presented as liabilities.

	2003		2002
	Contract amount	Unrealized gains (losses)	Contract amount	Unrealized gains (losses)
Assets	104,206	6,544	156,983	14,880
Liabilities	12,004	(268)	12,940	(588)
	116,210	6,276	169,923	14,292

At December 31, 2003, the forward exchange contracts had a net unrealized gain of 6,276. This gain is recorded in other income (expense), net in the consolidated statements of earnings.

At December 31, 2002, the forward exchange contracts had a net unrealized gain of 14,292, of which 9,251 related to accounts receivable, 3,020 related to existing sales commitments and 2,021 related to anticipated commitments at year-end. The Company recorded all these amounts, except for 3,020 relating to existing sales commitments.

The carrying value of forward exchange contracts is determined based on the unrealized loss and gain of such contracts recorded in the consolidated financial statements. Unrealized gains (losses) on forward exchange contracts is determined by using residual maturity rate.

Refer to notes 3 (a) and (b) for the Group's accounting policy on forward exchange contracts.

25. Fair value of financial instruments

The following table summarizes the carrying value and the estimated fair value of the Group's other financial instruments:

	2003		2002
	Carrying value	Fair value	Carrying value	Fair value
Assets:
- Marketable debts securities	5	5	26	26
- Treasury shares	37,828	22,697	37,828	27,552
Liabilities:

- Long-term debt	5,509	4,400	5,011	4,100
------------------	-------	-------	-------	-------

Cash and cash equivalents, receivables, payables and short-term borrowings approximate fair value because of the short maturity of these instruments.

Market value for quoted marketable debt securities is represented by the securities exchange prices at year-end. Market value for unquoted securities is represented by the prices of comparable securities, taking into consideration interest rates, duration and credit standing of the issuer.

Fair value of the long-term debt is estimated based on cash flows discounted using current rates available to the Company for borrowings with similar maturities.

26. Application of generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America

The established accounting policies followed in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements (Italian GAAP) vary in certain significant respects from those generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAP).

Those differences which have a material effect on net earnings and/or shareholders' equity are as follows:

- (a) Certain property, plant and equipment have been revalued in accordance with Italian laws. The revalued amounts are depreciated for Italian GAAP purposes. US GAAP does not allow for such revaluations, and depreciation is based on historical costs. The revaluation primarily relates to industrial buildings.
- (b) Under US GAAP, SFAS 133 established comprehensive accounting and reporting standards for derivative instruments and hedging activities. SFAS 133 requires that an entity record all derivatives, freestanding and certain embedded derivatives, as either assets or liabilities in the statement of financial position. This statement also defines and allows companies to apply hedge accounting to its designated derivatives under certain instances, provided an entity meets the strict documentation criteria of SFAS 133. It also requires that all derivatives be marked to market on an ongoing basis. Along with the derivatives, in the case of qualifying hedges, the underlying hedges items, are also to be marked to market. These market value adjustments are to be included either in the income statement or other comprehensive income, depending on the nature of the hedged transaction.

The Company does not currently qualify for hedge criteria under SFAS 133 and has not used hedge accounting for Italian GAAP in 2003 (see note 3(a) and (b)). In particular, the Company does not formally document all relationships between its hedging instruments (forward exchange contracts known in Italian financial markets as domestic currency swaps) and its hedged items which includes linking all derivatives that are designated as foreign-currency hedges to specific accounts receivable on the balance sheet or to specific firm commitments or forecasted transactions. The Company also does not formally assess, both at the hedge's inception and on an ongoing basis, whether the derivatives that are used in hedging its transactions are highly effective in offsetting changes in fair values of its hedged items.

As a result under Italian GAAP at December 31, 2003 and US GAAP, at December 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001 the Company accounted for all its derivative financial instruments at their fair value and all its accounts receivable in foreign currency were remeasured at year end exchange rates. All mark to market adjustments were recorded in the income statement.

- (c) Until December 31, 2000 government grants related to capital expenditures were recorded, net of tax, within reserves in shareholders' equity (note 3 (m)). For US GAAP purposes, such grants would be classified either as a reduction of the cost of the related fixed asset or as a deferred credit and amortized to income over the estimated useful lives of the assets. The adjustments to net income represent the annual amortization of the capital grants based on the estimated useful life of the related fixed assets. The adjustments to shareholders equity are to reverse the amounts of capital grants credited directly to equity for Italian GAAP purposes, net of the amounts of amortization of such grants for US GAAP purposes. In 1995 and 1997, the Group received certain grants relating to fixed assets acquired between 1989 and 1997 with various useful lives. For US GAAP purposes, the Group is amortizing such grants over the remaining useful lives of the assets to which the grants relate.

- (d) As indicated in note 19, during 2001 and 2000 the Company repurchased its common shares for a cash consideration of 37,828. Under Italian GAAP, the purchase of these shares was accounted for as non-current assets; under US GAAP, the cost of the acquired shares is reflected as a reduction in shareholders' equity.
- (e) Under Italian GAAP, the Group recognizes sales revenue, and accrued costs associated with the sales revenue, at the time products are shipped from its manufacturing facilities located in Italy and abroad. A significant part of the products are shipped from factories directly to customers under terms that risks and ownership are transferred to the customer when the customer takes possession of the goods. These terms are delivered duty paid, delivered duty unpaid, delivered ex quay and delivered at customer factory. Delivery to the customer generally occurs within one to six weeks from the time of shipment.

US GAAP requires that revenue should not be recognized until it is realized or realizable and earned, which is generally at the time delivery to the customer occurs and the risks of ownership pass to the customer. Accordingly, the Italian GAAP for revenue recognition is at variance with US GAAP. The principal effects of this variance on the accompanying consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2003 and 2002 and related consolidated statement of earnings for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2003 are indicated below:

- (f) In 2001, the Company translated the financial statements of a foreign subsidiary which operates in a highly inflationary economy at (i) year-end exchange rate for assets and liabilities, (ii) historical exchange rates for share capital and retained earnings, and (iii) average exchange rates during the year for the statement of earnings. The resulting exchange differences on translation were recorded as a direct adjustment to consolidated shareholders' equity. A highly inflationary economy is one that has cumulative inflation of approximately 100 percent or more over a 3-year period. Under US GAAP the financial statements of this subsidiary should be translated at (a) year-end exchange rate for monetary assets and liabilities (b) historical exchange rates for non monetary assets and liabilities (for example fixed assets or long term debt) as well as for share capital, reserves and retained earnings (c) average exchange rates during the year for revenues and expenses recorded in the statement of earnings. The resulting exchange differences on translation should be recorded in the statement of earnings. Therefore for US GAAP purposes, in 2001 the Company recorded a net gain of 307 in earnings.

- (g) During 2003 (see note 1) the Company acquired a 100% interest in each of the following two entities: KOL Group and Minuano Nordeste SA. Both acquisitions were accounted for

F-38

Table of Contents

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(Expressed in thousands of euros except as otherwise indicated)

as business combinations under Italian GAAP. The Company believes that the KOL Group acquisition qualifies as a business combination under US GAAP in accordance with the provisions of SFAS 141. However, in accordance with EITF 98-3 the acquisition of 100% interest in Minuano Nordeste SA does not qualified as an acquisition of a business. Therefore, under the Italian GAAP the Minuano acquisition was considered to be a business acquisition, while under US GAAP the same has been accounted as an asset acquisition which does not result in goodwill. The management has determined that the difference between purchase price and the fair value of the net tangible assets acquired is due to export incentive benefit that this entity is entitled to upon completion of its manufacturing facilities and export of the furniture manufactured in Brazil. The export incentive is available until 2015. The related deferred tax liabilities is established by using simultaneous method . The allocation of the purchase price is as follows:

	US GAAP	IT GAAP	Difference
Current and non current assets	253	253
Intangible assets	6,141		6,141
Goodwill		4,053	(4,053)

Purchase price	4,298	4,298

Also under Italian GAAP the pre-acquisition results of an acquired entity can be reflected in the operating results of the acquiring entity provided the acquisition was completed within 6 months of the beginning of the acquiring entity's fiscal year. Although, the pre-acquisition results may be included in the statement of earning of the acquiring company the resulting pre-acquisition income or loss is not considered for the net earnings, but is considered for the purpose of computing goodwill. The following pre-acquisition amounts of KOL are included in the Italian GAAP consolidated statement of earning for the year ended December 31, 2003:

Net sales	11,945
Cost of sales	(5,798)

(h) Under Italian GAAP, the Company amortizes the goodwill arising from business acquisitions on straight-line basis over a period of five years. US GAAP states that goodwill acquired in a purchase business combination completed after July 1, 2001 is not amortized, but instead tested for impairment at least annually in accordance with provisions of SFAS N. 142.

In addition, under Italian GAAP, the Company has allocated certain intangible assets, having definite lives and arising from a business acquisition, under the caption goodwill. Under US GAAP the Company would have classified such as intangible assets, would have amortized these over their estimated useful lives to their residual values, and would have reviewed these for impairment in accordance with SFAF No. 144.

The changes in the carrying amount of goodwill, intangibles assets and deferred tax liabilities arising from business acquisitions completed after July 1, 2001, are as follows:

	Goodwill		Intangibles		Deferred taxes		Difference

Management has evaluated the carrying value of goodwill for impairment purposes in accordance with the provisions of SFAS 142. Based on that evaluation, on a reporting unit basis, goodwill to the extent of 528 is impaired.

Reported net earnings and basic and diluted earnings per share excluding the impact of the amortization of goodwill, for all periods presented would have been as follows:

- (j) Under Italian GAAP certain costs paid to resellers are reflected as part of selling expenses. Under US GAAP, in accordance with EITF 01-09, these cost should be recorded as a reduction of net sales. Such expenses include advertising contributions paid to resellers which amounted at December 31, 2003, 2002 to 2001 at 3,284, 2,432 and 2,330, respectively.

Comprehensive Income

The Company has adopted SFAS No. 130, Reporting Comprehensive Income, which established standards for the reporting and presentation of comprehensive income and its components in a full set of financial statements. Comprehensive income/(loss) generally encompasses all changes in shareholders equity (except those arising from transactions with owners). The Company's comprehensive income does not differ from net income.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets

Goodwill represents the excess of costs over fair value of assets of businesses acquired. The Company adopted the provisions of SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, as of January 1, 2002. Goodwill and intangible assets acquired in a purchase business combination and determined to have an indefinite useful life are not amortized, but instead tested for impairment at least annually in accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 142. SFAS No. 142 also requires that intangible assets with estimable useful lives be amortized over their respective estimated useful lives to their estimated residual values, and reviewed for impairment in accordance with SFAS No. 144, Accounting for Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets.

In connection with SFAS No. 142's transitional goodwill impairment evaluation, the Statement required the Company to perform an assessment of whether there was an indication that goodwill is impaired as of the date of adoption. To accomplish this, the Company was required to identify its reporting units and determine the carrying value of each reporting unit by assigning the assets and liabilities, including the existing goodwill and intangible assets, to those reporting units as of January 1, 2002. The Company was required to determine the fair value of each reporting unit and compare it to the carrying amount of the reporting unit within six months of January 1, 2002. To the extent the carrying amount of a reporting unit exceeded the fair value of the reporting unit, the Company would be required to perform the second step of the transitional impairment test, as this is an indication that the reporting unit goodwill may be impaired. The second step was required for one reporting unit. In this step, the Company compared the implied fair value of the reporting unit goodwill with the carrying amount of the reporting unit goodwill, both of which were measured as of the date of adoption. The implied fair value of goodwill was determined by allocating the fair value of the reporting unit to all of the assets (recognized and unrecognized) and liabilities of the reporting unit in a manner similar

Table of Contents

Natuzzi S.p.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

to a purchase price allocation, in accordance with SFAS No. 141, Business Combinations. The residual fair value after this allocation was the implied fair value of the reporting unit goodwill. The implied fair value of this reporting unit goodwill exceeded its carrying amount and the Company was not required to recognize an impairment loss.

Prior to the adoption of SFAS No. 142, goodwill was amortized on a straight-line basis over the expected periods to be benefited, generally 5 years, and assessed for recoverability by determining whether the goodwill balance could be recovered through undiscounted future operating cash flows of the acquired operation. All other intangible assets were amortized on a straight-line basis over a period of 5 years. The amount of goodwill and other intangible asset impairment, if any, was measured based on projected discounted future operating cash flows using a discount rate reflecting the Company's average cost of funds.

SFAS No. 143:

In June 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 143, Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations (SFAS No. 143). SFAS No. 143 requires the Company to record the fair value of an asset retirement obligation as a liability in the period in which it incurs a legal obligation associated with the retirement of tangible long-lived assets that result from the acquisition, construction, development and/or normal use of the assets. The Company also records a corresponding asset which is depreciated over the life of the asset. Subsequent to the initial measurement of the asset retirement obligation, the obligation will be adjusted at the end of each period to reflect the passage of time and changes in the estimated future cash flows underlying the obligation. The Company adopted SFAS No. 143 on January 1, 2003. Application of this statement did not have an impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Company.

SFAS No. 145:

In April 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 145, Rescission of FASB Statements No. 4, 44 and 64, Amendment of FASB Statement No. 13, and Technical Corrections. SFAS No. 145 amends existing guidance on reporting gains and losses on the extinguishment of debt to prohibit the classification of the gain or loss as extraordinary, as the use of such extinguishments have become part of the risk management strategy of many companies. SFAS No. 145 also amends SFAS No. 13 to require sale-leaseback accounting for certain lease modifications that have economic effects similar to sale-leaseback transactions. The provisions of the Statement related to the rescission of Statement No. 4 is applied in fiscal years beginning after May 15, 2002. Earlier application of these provisions is encouraged. The provisions of the Statement related to Statement No. 13 were effective for transactions occurring after May 15, 2002, with early application encouraged. The adoption of SFAS No. 145 did not have an effect on the consolidated financial statements of the Company.

SFAS No. 146:

In June 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 146, Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities. SFAS No. 146 addresses financial accounting and reporting for costs associated with exit or disposal activities and nullifies Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue 94-3, Liability Recognition for Certain Employee Termination Benefits and Other Costs to Exit an Activity. The provisions of this Statement are effective for exit or disposal activities that are initiated after December 31, 2002, with early application encouraged. The adoption of SFAS No. 146 did not have effect on the consolidated financial statements of the Company.

SFAS No. 149:

In April 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 149, Amendment of Statement No. 133 on Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities. SFAS No. 149 amends and clarifies financial accounting and reporting for derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts and for hedging activities under SFAS No. 133. SFAS No. 149 is effective for contracts entered into or modified after June 30, 2003 and for hedging relationships designated after June 30, 2003. Adoption of SFAS No. 149 did not have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Company.

SFAS No. 150:

FASB Statements No. 150, Accounting for Certain Financial Instruments with Characteristics of both Liabilities and Equity, was issued in May 2003. This statement established standards for the classification and measurement of certain financial instruments with characteristics of both liabilities and equity. The statement also includes required disclosures for financial instruments within its scope. For the Company, the statement was effective for instruments entered into or modified after May 31, 2003 and otherwise will be effective as of January 1, 2004, except for mandatorily redeemable financial instruments. For certain mandatorily redeemable financial statements, the statement will be effective for the Company on January 1, 2005. The effective date has been deferred indefinitely for certain other types of mandatorily redeemable financial statements. The Company currently does not have any financial instruments that are within the scope of this statement.

FASB interpretation No. 46:

In December 2003, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 46 (revised December 2003), Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, which addresses how a business enterprise should evaluate whether it has a controlling financial interest in an entity through means other than voting rights and accordingly should consolidate the entity. FIN 46R replaces FASB Interpretation No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, which was issued in January 2003. The Company will be required to apply FIN 46R to variable interests in VIEs created after December 31, 2003. For variable interests in VIEs created before January 1, 2004, the Interpretation will be applied beginning on January 1, 2005. For any VIEs that must be consolidated under FIN 46R that were created before January 1, 2004, the assets, liabilities and noncontrolling interests of the VIE initially would be measured at their carrying amounts with any difference between the net amount added to the balance sheet and any previously recognized interest being recognized as the cumulative effect of an accounting change. If determining the carrying amounts is not practicable, fair value at the date FIN 46R first applies may be used to measure the assets, liabilities and noncontrolling interest of the VIE. The Company does not believe that it has any VIE for consolidation.
