Executive Officer Annual Incentive Criteria for 2007. On February 22, 2007, the Board of Directors of the Company approved the Compensation Committee's recommended parameters for determining the annual cash incentive for the Named Executive Officers. James C. Smith, the Company's Chief Executive Officer (CEO), William T. Bromage, the Company's Chief Operating Officer (COO), and Gerald P. Plush, the Company's Chief Financial Officer (CFO) are participants under the Company's Qualified Performance-Based Compensation Plan. The Committee set goals for the CEO, COO, and CFO primarily based on net income per share (adjusted to exclude all non-recurring items). The target incentive for the CEO, COO, and CFO are 100%, 90%, and 80% respectively, of base salary.

With respect to the Named Executive Officers, other than the CEO, COO, and CFO the goals in 2007 are primarily based on two metrics, with certain weightings attributable to achievement of each: (i) net income per share (adjusted to exclude all non-recurring items) and (ii) business unit financial objectives or line of business results. For these Named Executive Officers, the target incentives are 65% of base salary.

The actual incentive payments for any Named Executive Officer may range from zero to 200% of target incentive depending upon the financial performance of the Company. The Committee also has the discretion to award plus or minus 20% of target amount based on the performance achieved against annual strategic initiatives.

The Company will provide additional information regarding the compensation of the Named Executive Officers in its Proxy Statement for the 2007 Annual Meeting of Shareholders, which will be issued in Mid-March.
