Introductory Note

Forward-Looking Statements

This Current Report on Form 8-K (this Current Report) contains certain forward-looking statements which involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties or other factors not under Lexington Realty Trust's or The Lexington Master Limited Partnership's control which may cause actual results, performance or achievements of Lexington Realty Trust and/or The Lexington Master Limited Partnership to be materially different from the results, performance, or other expectations implied by these forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include, but are not limited to, those discussed under the headings Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and Risk Factors in each of Lexington Realty Trust's and The Lexington Master Limited Partnership's periodic reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC). Copies of the periodic reports Lexington Realty Trust and The Lexington Master Limited Partnership file with the SEC are available on Lexington Realty Trust's website at www.lxp.com and may be obtained free of charge by contacting Lexington Realty Trust on 212-692-7200. Forward-looking statements, which are based on certain assumptions and describe Lexington Realty Trust's and The Lexington Master Limited Partnership's future plans, strategies and expectations, are generally identifiable by use of the words believes, expects, intends, anticipates, estimates, projects or similar expressions. Neither Lexington Realty Trust nor The Lexington Master Limited Partnership undertakes any obligation to publicly release the results of any revisions to those forward-looking statements which may be made to reflect events or circumstances after the occurrence of unanticipated events. Accordingly, there is no assurance that Lexington Realty Trust's or The Lexington Master Limited Partnership's expectations will be realized.

Funds From Operations

Lexington Realty Trust believes that Funds from Operations (FFO) and FFOs per share are beneficial to management and investors and are important indicators of the performance of any equity REIT. Because FFO and FFO per share calculations exclude such factors as depreciation and amortization of real estate assets and gains or losses from sales or operating real estate assets (which can vary among owners of identical assets in similar conditions based on historical cost accounting and useful life estimates), they facilitate comparisons of operating performance between periods and between other REITs. Lexington Realty Trust's management believes that historical cost accounting for real estate assets in accordance with GAAP implicitly assumes that the value of real estate assets diminishes predictability over time. Since real estate values have historically risen or fallen with market conditions, many industry investors and analysts have considered the presentation of operating results for real estate companies that use historical cost accounting to be insufficient by themselves. As a result, management believes that the use of FFO and FFO per share, together with the required GAAP presentations, provide a more complete understanding of Lexington Realty Trust's performance relative to its competitors and a more informed and appropriate basis on which to make decisions involving operating, financing and investing activities.

FFO and FFO per share as disclosed by other REITs may not be comparable to Lexington Realty Trust's calculation of FFO and FFO per share as described below. FFO and FFO per share are non-GAAP financial measures and therefore do not represent net income or net income per share as defined by GAAP. Net income and net income per share as defined by GAAP are the most relevant measures in determining Lexington Realty Trust's operating performance because FFO and FFO per share include adjustments that investors may deem subjective, such as adding back expenses such as depreciation and amortization.

Furthermore, FFO per share does not depict the amount that accrues directly to the stockholders' benefit. Accordingly, FFO and FFO per share should never be considered as alternatives to net income per share as indicators of our operating performance.

The calculation of FFO as defined by the National Association of Real Estate Investment Trusts is as follows:

- Net income (loss) computed in accordance with GAAP;*
- Less dividends to holders of preferred stock and less excess of preferred stock redemption cost over carrying value;*
- Plus depreciation and amortization of assets uniquely significant to the real estate industry;*
- Less gains, or plus losses, from sales of depreciable operating properties (but excluding impairment losses) and excluding items that are classified as extraordinary items under GAAP;*
- Plus or minus adjustments for unconsolidated partnerships and joint ventures (to reflect funds from operations on the same basis); and*
- Plus or minus adjustments for depreciation and amortization and gains/ (losses) on sales and minority interest related to discontinued operations.*

In calculating FFO, Lexington Realty Trust also adds back minority interest in the income from its operating partnership, which it believes is consistent with standard industry practice for REITs that operate through an UPREIT structure. Lexington Realty Trust believes that it is important to present FFO on an as-converted basis since all of the operating partnership units are redeemable on a one-for-one basis for shares of Lexington Realty Trust's common shares.

Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.
