ITEM 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

RXi Pharmaceuticals Licenses

On January 10, 2007, RXi Pharmaceuticals Corporation ( RXi ), a majority-owned subsidiary of CytRx Corporation ( CytRx ), entered into three exclusive licenses and one non-exclusive license (collectively, the Licenses ) with the University of Massachusetts Medical School ( UMMS ), pursuant to which UMMS grants to RXi rights under certain UMMS patent applications to make, use and sell products related to applications of RNAi technologies.

Under the Licenses, RXi is granted exclusive, worldwide, sublicensable licenses to three different patent families and a non-exclusive, worldwide, non-sublicensable license to a fourth patent family. As consideration for the Licenses, RXi paid UMMS an up-front fee and reimbursed UMMS for previously incurred patent expenses and agreed to undertake to raise working capital in the coming months (the Initial Financing ), to expend a specified amount on the development of royalty-bearing products, and to meet a defined timeline relating to the clinical development of royalty-bearing products. Upon the completion of the Initial Financing, RXi will be obligated to pay UMMS an additional license fee and issue to UMMS a specified amount of RXi common stock that is to be valued for this purpose based on the valuation of RXi in the Initial Financing, and thereafter to pay UMMS annual maintenance fees, commencing on January 1, 2008, and certain additional amounts upon the attainment of certain specified product development milestones. In addition, RXi is obligated to pay specified royalties on net sales of products covered by the licensed patents, subject to a minimum annual royalty for each year beginning January 1, 2012. RXi also will be required to pay to UMMS a percentage of income received from any sublicensees under the Licenses and to pay expenses incurred by UMMS in prosecuting and maintaining the licensed patents.

The Licenses will expire upon the expiration of all patents licensed under the Licenses, are terminable by either party upon an uncured breach by the other party, and may be terminated by RXi for any reason following a specified notice period. The Licenses also are terminable by UMMS if RXi fails to complete the Initial Financing by a specified date. RXi is generally required to indemnify UMMS for losses incurred by UMMS based on the exercise of the licensed patents by RXi.

Invention Disclosure Agreement

On January 10, 2007, RXi also entered into an Invention Disclosure Agreement (the IDA ) with UMMS pursuant to which UMMS is obligated, for a period of three years from the date of the IDA, to disclose to RXi any unrestricted inventions conceived or reduced to practice by UMMS related to therapeutic applications of RNAi technologies. Under the IDA, UMMS grants to RXi an option to negotiate the terms of a license to inventions disclosed by UMMS pursuant to the IDA. If RXi exercises the option and the parties are unable to reach agreement on the terms of any such license, RXi may elect to have an arbitrator determine the terms of such a license.

The IDA will become effective upon RXi s completion of the Initial Financing. The IDA is terminable by either party upon an uncured breach by the other party, by RXi at any time for any reason, and by UMMS if RXi fails to complete the Initial Financing by a specified date.

As consideration for the rights granted to RXi under the IDA, RXi is obligated, upon completion of the Initial Financing, to issue to UMMS an additional amount of RXi common stock that is to be valued for this purpose based on the valuation of RXi in the Initial Financing, and to pay UMMS specified fees on the effective date of the IDA and on each of the first and second anniversaries of the effective date. RXi also will be obligated to pay UMMS a fee each time RXi exercises its right to negotiate a license under the IDA.

Voting Agreement

RXi's initial business activities will be dedicated solely to the development of proprietary RNAi therapeutics for the treatment of human diseases. In order to facilitate this initial business focus, and as an inducement to UMMS to enter into the Licenses and the IDA, on January 10, 2007, CytRx entered into a letter agreement with UMMS under which CytRx agrees, in effect, during the term of the Licenses to vote its shares of RXi common stock for the election of directors of RXi, and to take certain other actions, to ensure that a majority of the RXi board of directors are independent of CytRx.

The voting agreement will become effective only upon RXi's completion of the Initial Financing. If the Initial Financing is completed, and CytRx owns at any time thereafter a majority of the outstanding voting power of RXi, CytRx has agreed in the voting agreement that it will reduce its ownership to less than a majority as soon as reasonably practicable through sale, disposition or other means, subject to compliance with the rules and regulation of the Securities and Exchange Commission.
