Dear Mr. Icahn:

I am writing to request additional and detailed information regarding the short positions that you and/or your affiliates hold in King stock. As you know, these short positions were not disclosed in your Schedule 13Ds, and the very limited information in your proxy statement is not adequate for us to assess the impact of these positions.

Accordingly, we ask that, within five business days of the date of this letter, you provide in writing:

the date or dates on which the short positions in King stock were acquired, the names of your affiliates and the nature of their affiliation with you, the number of shares covered by each short position and the price for each short position; and whether you or any of your affiliates, including the hedge fund that you have recently announced you are launching, hold any other long or short positions in King stock, and if so, all information relating to such positions. In addition, as you may be aware, by letter dated October 19, 2004, addressed to John C. Leonard of UBS Global Asset Management ( UBS ), we made an inquiry into the relationship between UBS or any of its affiliates and you. Although we have not formally received a reply from UBS given that the requested five-business day deadline does not expire until Wednesday, October 27, we likewise wanted to make a similar inquiry of you.

Accordingly, we respectfully request that you disclose to us in writing, within five business days of the date of this letter, any business relationships, transactions, dealings, agreements and/or understandings you have with UBS or any of its affiliates or their respective employees or representatives with regard to the acquisition, ownership, disposition and/or voting of Mylan stock and/or the pending King acquisition.

In particular, at a minimum, we ask that you provide us with the following information:

disclosure of the full extent of any relationships you or any of your affiliates have with UBS or any of its affiliates or their respective employees or representatives, including details with regard to any agreement, arrangement or understanding, whether or not in writing;

whether UBS or any of its affiliates or their respective employees or representatives is assisting you or any of your affiliates in any way in soliciting proxies against the current King transaction and, if so, the material feature of any arrangements, including fees; and whether UBS or any of its affiliates or their respective employees or representatives is acting as a financial advisor or in any other advisory capacity to you or any of your affiliates and, if so, the material features of any arrangements, including fees.

We would appreciate your prompt attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

/s/ Stuart A. Williams

Forward-Looking Statements:

This communication includes statements that constitute forward-looking statements, including with regard to the King transaction. These statements are made pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Because such statements inherently involve risks and uncertainties, actual future results may differ materially from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include, but are not limited to: factors relating to satisfaction of the conditions to the acquisition, including requisite shareholder and regulatory approvals; challenges and costs relating to integration of the two businesses; other uncertainties and matters beyond the control of management of both Mylan and King; and the other risks detailed in the periodic filings filed by Mylan and by King with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC). Neither Mylan nor King undertakes any obligation to update these statements for revisions or changes after the date hereof.
