RIGGS REPORTS 2004 SECOND QUARTER RESULTS

WASHINGTON, D.C., August 9, 2004 Riggs National Corporation (NASDAQ: RIGS) today reported results for the quarter ended June 30, 2004. The Company's net loss from continuing operations during the quarter was $31.3 million, or $1.07 per share, compared to income from continuing operations of $6.3 million, or $0.22 per diluted share, in the comparable quarter of 2003. The Company's net loss for the quarter ended June 30, 2004, which includes both continuing and discontinued operations, was $34.4 million, or $1.18 per share, compared to net income of $1.8 million, or $0.06 per diluted share, in the quarter ended June 30, 2003.

Riggs' results from continuing operations during the second quarter of 2004 were adversely affected by approximately $42.4 million in unusual expenses, including the previously disclosed $25.0 million civil monetary penalty by banking regulators for various Bank Secrecy Act (BSA) related matters, with which no tax benefit is associated; approximately $7.2 million of incremental costs primarily related to the Company's BSA compliance efforts; and approximately $10.2 million related to the implementation of the Company's previously announced efforts to exit or sell most of its international banking businesses, of which approximately $7.9 million is included in the loss from continuing operations and the remaining $2.3 million is included in the loss from discontinued operations. As previously announced, the Company is attempting to sell its London and Channel Island operations. If a buyer cannot be found, the Company may incur additional cost to wind down these businesses. The Company estimates these additional costs could amount to between $8.0 million and $11.0 million.

For the six months ended June 30, 2004, the Company reported a loss from continuing operations of $26.9 million, or $0.93 per share, and a net loss of $30.5 million, or $1.05 per share. During the comparable period of 2003, Riggs recorded income from continuing operations of $12.1 million and net income of $7.7 million or $0.42 and $0.27 per diluted share, respectively.

Net Interest Income

Net interest income for continuing operations in the second quarter of 2004 was $39.3 million compared to $44.2 million for continuing operations in the same quarter in 2003. Net interest income for continuing operations in the six months ended June 30, 2004 was $78.4 million compared to $90.8 million for continuing operations in the prior comparable period in 2003. Because of its favorable loan quality, the Company did not record a loan loss provision in the three and six months ended June 30, 2004. During the comparable periods of 2003, the Company recorded loan loss provisions of $815 thousand and $2.2 million, respectively. As a result, net interest income after the provision for loan loss was $43.4 million for the three months ended June 30, 2003, and $88.6 million for the six month period then ended.

In accordance with an accounting interpretation adopted on October 1, 2003, Riggs deconsolidated two entities that have issued its trust preferred securities and began accounting for its securities as long-term. As a result of this change, net interest income was adversely impacted by $3.5 million and $7.5 million for the three and six-month periods ended June 30, 2004, respectively, compared to the comparable periods of 2003. This change does not impact reported net income. The Company has reconsolidated one of the entities that issued its trust preferred securities as long-term debt.

As previously disclosed, in the third quarter of 2003, the United States Department of the Treasury changed the methodology by which it compensates financial agent banks. Under the prior compensation methodology, Riggs was compensated by interest earned on Department of the Treasury deposit balances, which was reflected in net interest income. In the new methodology, Riggs receives fees for its services, which is reflected in non-interest income. As a result of this change, net interest income was adversely impacted by approximately $2.0 million and $4.4 million for the three and six months ended June 30, 2004, respectively, compared to the comparable periods of 2003.

Non-interest Income

Non-interest income for continuing operations in the second quarter of 2004 totaled $25.7 million compared with $29.2 million for continuing operations in the second quarter of 2003. There were no gains or losses on sales of securities during the second quarter of 2004, while during the comparable period of 2003 pre-tax securities gains were $6.5 million. Venture capital gains during the second quarter of 2004 were $2.0 million compared to a loss of $436 thousand in the second quarter of 2003.

Non-interest income for continuing operations in the six months ended June 30, 2004 totaled $50.2 million compared to $54.6 million for continuing operations in the prior comparable period in 2003. Pre-tax securities gains during the first six months of 2004 were $226 thousand, compared with $11.1 million in the first six months of 2003. Venture capital gains during the first six months of 2004 were $1.8 million, compared to a loss of $2.7 million in the comparable period in 2003.

Non-interest Expense

Non-interest expense for continuing operations in the 2004 second quarter was $100.6 million, compared to non-interest expense of $58.5 million for continuing operations in the year-ago quarter. Riggs' second quarter 2004 expenses included a previously disclosed $25.0 million civil money penalty imposed by banking regulators for various BSA related matters, $7.2 million in incremental costs primarily related to the Company's BSA compliance efforts, and $7.9 million of charges taken to realign the Company's business strategy. The $7.9 million strategic realignment charge includes $7.1 million in an impairment charge taken on the corporate aircraft and the remainder in severance expenses.

Non-interest expense for continuing operations in the six months ended June 30, 2004 totaled $157.5 million, compared to non-interest expense of $114.8 million for continuing operations in the prior comparable period in 2003.

Capital Position

Riggs and Riggs Bank N.A. currently are classified as well-capitalized for purposes of federal banking regulations and have capital substantially above all regulatory capital requirements for such designation. The table below sets forth Riggs and Riggs Bank N.A.'s regulatory capital ratios as of June 30, 2004 and the regulatory capital requirements for well capitalized status:

	Riggs	Riggs Bank N.A.	Regulatory Capital Requirements for Well-Capitalized Status

Embassy/International Update

Riggs also reported that following the ongoing review by its Board of Directors of the Company's business strategy to focus its resources on domestic banking in the growing Washington, D.C. marketplace, Riggs will exit or sell its entire Embassy Banking business as soon as practicable. This decision is not a reflection on the risk profile or nature of its remaining embassy banking accounts; rather it ensures Riggs of the ability to concentrate its efforts on building and enhancing its competitiveness in the local marketplace. As previously reported, Riggs is already winding down its international business and those embassy banking accounts that did not meet the risk-related criteria adopted by its management and Board.

In addition, Riggs has sold a bank property in London and agreed to a Letter of Intent to sell the corporate aircraft formerly used in support of its international operations. The capital gain on the property is $2.5 million. The corporate aircraft is expected to sell for $28.3 million, with the transaction expected to be completed within the next 30 days.

Other Matters

Riggs also reported that it is subject to numerous investigations by, and inquiries from, various U.S. and foreign governmental agencies and authorities. Some of the investigations involve current or former employees of the Company. These investigations and inquiries, include, among other things, accounts maintained by Equatorial Guinea, Saudi Arabia and Augusto Pinochet and the Company's anti-money laundering and BSA compliance. In connection with investigations regarding the Company's Chief Risk Officer resulting from his formerly being the OCC examiner in charge of Riggs Bank, the Company has placed such officer on administrative leave. The Company is currently in the process of attempting to review these matters. It is not possible for the Company to predict the impact of these investigations, inquiries and matters.

Merger Agreement

As was announced on July 16, 2004, Riggs National Corporation and The PNC Financial Services Group Inc. (NYSE: PNC) signed a definitive agreement for PNC to acquire Riggs for $24.25 per common share, or approximately $774 million in stock and cash. PNC has indicated that it expects the transaction to close during the first quarter of 2005. The merger is subject to regulatory approvals and the approval of Riggs shareholders. As part of the merger agreement, Riggs has agreed to conform its dividend record and payment dates to those of PNC. Accordingly, the next dividend payment by Riggs, which is subject to regulatory approval, will be in October 2004.
