Sent via e-mail to employees of Mentor Corporation on December 1, 2008:

Dear Mentor Global Team:

I am sending this message to share exciting news that has significant importance to all of us at Mentor as well as our customers and patients worldwide. We have entered into a definitive agreement to be acquired by ETHICON, Inc., a Johnson & Johnson company. While the press release attached to this message gives an overview of the agreement, I invite you to listen to a Town Hall webcast where I'll explain the timing and thought process behind the merger and give you a better understanding of the benefits of becoming part of Johnson & Johnson. During the Town Hall webcast, you'll also hear from Gary Pruden, worldwide President of ETHICON Products and incoming Company Group Chairman for Johnson & Johnson with responsibility for ETHICON, who will give you his perspective on the agreement and the critical role Mentor will play in expanding our joint leadership in the aesthetics market place. In addition to the Town Hall webcast (dial in numbers below) we will be conducting live meetings in many locations around the world hosted by senior executives from both Mentor and Johnson & Johnson. These meetings will allow us to share information on this important event and facilitate question and answer sessions not possible on the webcast. We will also be hosting conference calls for smaller, more regionally diverse teams of Mentor employees. On a personal note, I have been with Mentor for over 12 years and, together with many of you, have witnessed and participated in many changes to our company and industry. I have never been as excited about our future as I am today. We have the opportunity to become an important part of the most recognized and successful healthcare company in the world. Our vision for the future, our focus on physician and patient satisfaction and the core values we adhere to are strikingly similar to those of Johnson & Johnson. Regardless of your location, I encourage you to participate in today's communication activities to learn more about the future of our company and our business mission.

Best regards,

Josh Levine

President and Chief Executive Officer
