Item 8.01 Other Events.

On May 10, 2005, Cincinnati Bell Inc. and the Communications Workers of America (CWA) and its Locals 4400 and 4401 reached a tentative agreement on a new three-year labor contract. The new labor contract, which is subject to ratification by union members, would replace a previous labor contract that expired on May 7, 2005.

The key terms of the new labor contract include:

Base pay increases for union employees of 1.75%, upon ratification, retroactive to May 8, 2005, 2.75% effective May 14, 2006 and 3.0% effective May 13, 2007. The previous contract provided 2.0% base pay increases every six months.

Annual company contributions to the Cash Balance Pension Plan for union employees will increase by 10% effective January 1, 2006, and the Cash Balance Interest Credit under the Plan will be reduced from 6% to 5% for the three-year term of the labor contract.

The monthly Transition Annuity Benefit under the Cash Balance Pension Plan will increase by 10% for certain eligible union employees effective January 1, 2006.

The company will establish health reimbursement accounts for future retirees with an annual account balance and a 3% annual inflation factor. To the extent the actual cost of health care premiums for a future retiree exceeds the value credited to their account, the retiree will be responsible for the difference.

The company will implement new healthcare plan designs for active union employees effective January 1, 2006, with new monthly employee contribution levels commencing January 1, 2007.

A provision dealing with evolving markets and setting forth a new bargaining framework under which the union and the company will negotiate and implement revised wages and working conditions to address new and evolving market opportunities.

The ratification vote by CWA members of Locals 4400 and 4401 will take place in June by mail ballot.

The company expects the new contract, if ratified, to result in expense trends that are favorable to the previous labor contract. The company is making no changes to its previously provided financial guidance for 2005. The company also expects to continue implementation of its previously announced restructuring plan which the company expects will reduce operating expenses by $20 million to $25 million on an annualized basis by the end of 2006.
