Mr. Armes, age 54, comes to the Company following a 31-year career at Whirlpool Corporation. Mr. Armes has experience in engineering, manufacturing, global procurement and international operations management, as well as a successful track record of developing customer relationships and consumer oriented products. During his career at Whirlpool Corporation, Mr. Armes served in positions including: Senior Vice President, Project Management Office; Corporate Vice President/General Director, Whirlpool Mexico; Corporate Vice President, Global Procurement Operations; President/Managing Director, Whirlpool Greater China; Vice President, Manufacturing & Technology, Whirlpool Asia (Singapore); and Vice President, Manufacturing & Technology, Refrigeration Products, Whirlpool Europe (Italy).

The Company has entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Armes. Under the employment agreement, Mr. Armes will be employed by the Company as President and Chief Executive Officer at an initial annual base salary of $700,000, and generally with all benefits available to executives of the Company. The initial term of the employment agreement is for three years, which is automatically extended for successive one year terms thereafter until the year in which Mr. Armes' 64 birthday occurs, unless either the Company or Mr. Armes gives prior notice by September 30 that the term will not be extended. The employment agreement contains non-competition and non-solicitation provisions that extend for two years after any termination of employment.

Mr. Armes will participate in the Company's incentive compensation programs, under which he will be eligible to receive a target award equal to 85% of his base salary and a maximum award equal to 170% of his base salary. For the 2007 fiscal year, Mr. Armes is assured an award that is no less than 85% of his base salary. Mr. Armes will also receive an initial award of restricted stock units upon commencement of employment under the Company's 2006 Incentive Compensation Plan, in an aggregate amount equal to $4,000,000, subject to a three-year cliff vesting requirement and terms and conditions as determined by the Company's Board of Directors.

Mr. Armes is entitled to certain separation benefits and payments upon an involuntary termination without Cause or a voluntary termination due to Good Reason other than within two years following a Change in Control. These payments and benefits include a lump sum payment of $75,000 plus two times the sum of his base salary and Average Annual Incentive Compensation (three times, if terminated before December 31, 2009), 24 months' continuation of life, accident and health benefits, full vesting of his initial restricted stock unit award and certain other benefits. If such termination occurs during the two-year period on or following a Change in Control, Mr. Armes would receive in addition full vesting of all then-unvested restricted stock unit and stock option awards.

In the event of Mr. Armes' death or termination of employment due to Disability, he or his beneficiaries or estate will be entitled to payment of 30 days' base salary, a full target-level bonus, a prorated long-term incentive compensation payout and 24 months' continuation of life and accident benefits (if terminated due to Mr. Armes' Disability) and health benefits followed by COBRA, as well as full vesting of Mr. Armes' initial restricted stock unit award. If Mr. Armes' Retires under the Company's pension plan, he will be entitled to a prorated annual bonus and long-term incentive compensation payout.

The employment agreement also provides for a tax gross-up for any excise tax, exceeding 110% of the safe harbor limit, due under the Internal Revenue Code for certain payments made by the Company to Mr. Armes. In addition, all post-termination payments made to an executive under the agreements are conditioned upon the execution by Mr. Armes of a release of all claims against the Company. Mr. Armes will also be reimbursed by the Company for up to $25,000 in reasonable legal fees incurred in connection with negotiating and preparing the employment agreement.
