The Verizon/MCI Combination Benefits Business Customers

The Benefits of the Combination Include:

Ø One-stop shopping:

Verizon and MCI have complementary capabilities. Verizon has strength as a provider of local and regional voice and data service, high-capacity circuits, and CPE and professional services. MCI is a leading provider of integrated communications solutions, including a leading IP/VPN product, web hosting, network security, and applications management. MCI also offers international and 800 services that Verizon cannot match.

The ability to contract with a single communications provider for a broader range of needs benefits customers. Avoid unnecessary duplication of business relationships, saving human and financial resources.

Ø Enhanced IP-enabled Services:

The combined entity will have a superior ability to deliver converged voice, video, and data services over a common IP infrastructure.

Ø Enhanced Voice and Data Communications:

The combined entity will be able to combine Verizon's substantial in-region network facilities with MCI's national and international facilities to offer a comprehensive voice and data network with global reach.

With one provider responsible for end-to-end integrated solutions, customers can count on improved accountability and customer service.

Combination will not affect competitiveness of market:

Edgar Filing: MCI INC - Form 425

Ø Competition between MCI and Verizon is limited.

In part for historical reasons, MCI and Verizon have different strengths as communications service providers.

Combined entity will be a more efficient provider of services but there will be relatively little loss of head-to-head competition.

Verizon will provide greater stability and financial resources to support MCI's enterprise offerings.

Ø Marketplace will remain extremely competitive:

Many companies other than Verizon and MCI respond to RFP's.

Many customers have begun to look at alternatives to traditional network operators, including system integrators.

Many customers view emerging technologies, including IP/VPN, as interchangeable with legacy voice and data products.

Many customers will continue to cultivate relationships with secondary and tertiary providers to ensure redundancy and preserve flexibility.

Many providers are capable of filling this role.
