SEC POSITION REGARDING INDEMNIFICATION

Our certificate of incorporation provides for indemnification of officers and directors, among other things, in instances in which they acted in good faith and in a manner they reasonably believed to be in, or not opposed to, our best interests and in which, with respect to criminal proceedings, they had no reasonable cause to believe their conduct was unlawful.

We have been informed that, in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission, insofar as directors, officers or other persons who control us may become entitled under the provisions of our certificate of incorporation to indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933, that indemnification is against public policy as expressed in that Act and is therefore unenforceable.
