To Universal employees

The purpose of this email is to update you on our integration plans and to tell you how excited we continue to be about the proposed merger of Hanover and Universal. The merged company's global position, scale and geographic footprint will open unique opportunities we would never have had separately. And, thanks to the achievements and capabilities of both Hanover and Universal, the merged company will be in a great position to aggressively pursue these opportunities once the merger has been cleared by the Department of Justice and the transaction closes.

My new top leadership for the proposed new company will be:

Chief Operating Officer            Brian Matusek, currently SVP, Western Hemisphere, Hanover

Chief Financial Officer           Michael Anderson, currently SVP and CFO, Universal

Manufacturing                      Dan Newman, currently VP, Manufacturing & Global Services, Hanover

Corporate Development           Brad Childers, currently SVP & President, International Operations, Universal

Human Resources                  Steve Muck, currently VP, Human Resources & Health, Safety and Environment, Hanover

Legal                                  Donald Wayne, currently VP, General Counsel and Secretary, Universal

One of the first integration planning steps for our leaders will be to define how their area will be structured to achieve our proposed new company's overall vision, and to appoint their respective leadership teams. We will use a rigorous and fact-based selection process with equal opportunity for targeted candidates in both companies. We will be announcing these and other decisions; i.e. the location of our new Houston headquarters and the name of our new company in the near future. Of course, these decisions and all integration planning are contingent on regulatory and shareholder approval of the proposed transaction, and its actual closing.

Our aspiration is to become much more than the sum of our two companies. We intend to not only be a global leader in size, but also in how we conduct business and treat our customers; i.e. to be the world's leader in reliability and service in the energy sector.

There is still much work to be done to develop the details of how we plan to integrate the two companies. We are in the process of forming several Universal/Hanover integration planning teams with a kick off for team leaders to be held on June 4th and 5th. We have also engaged McKinsey & Co, an outside consulting firm, to help us with this process, including working intensely with these integration teams. We continue to make progress with the regulatory process and anticipate a successful close but, like the majority of mergers at this stage of the process, do not yet know the exact date when we will become one company. As we have repeatedly emphasized, until the proposed transaction officially closes, Universal and Hanover must continue to compete vigorously. Our customers expect that, and the antitrust laws demand it.

As we launch the integration planning process, it is critical for us to stay focused on our day-to-day business and to continue to operate as independent companies. Both Hanover and Universal have a history of success. Much of Universal's success is due to your efforts. You have been and will remain an important part of this proposed merger and our future success.

Steve Snider

Forward-Looking Statements

All statements in this announcement other than historical facts are forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements rely on a number of assumptions concerning future events and are subject to a number of uncertainties and factors, many of which are outside Universal's control, which could cause actual results to differ materially from such statements.

Forward-looking information includes, but is not limited to, statements regarding whether and when the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement will be consummated, the timing of the determination and publication of Iliad's new name and headquarters and the expected impact of the merger on Universal's employees and operating results.

Among the factors that could cause results to differ materially from those indicated by those forward-looking statements are the result of the review of the proposed merger by various regulatory agencies and any conditions imposed on the new company in connection with consummation of the merger; failure to receive the approval of the merger by the stockholders of Hanover and Universal, the satisfaction of various other conditions to the closing of the merger contemplated by the merger agreement and the failure to realize anticipated synergies from the proposed merger. These forward-looking statements are also affected by the risk factors, forward-looking statements and challenges and uncertainties described in Universal's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006 and those set forth from time to time in Universal's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, which are available through Universal's website www.universalcompression.com. Universal expressly disclaims any intention or obligation to revise or update any forward-looking statements whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise, except as required by law.
