CNH Global N.V. Enters Long-Term Pact with Wallenius Wilhelmsen Logistics

LAKE FOREST, Illinois (March 31) CNH Global N.V. (NYSE:CNH) signed a three-year agreement with Wallenius Wilhelmsen Logistics for global roll-on/roll-off (RORO) shipments. This agreement extends long historical ties between the two global companies. Services provided to CNH will link Europe-North America and South America-Japan-Oceania, including nearly 100 port connections.

The agreement is designed to improve CNH's supply chain, and provide superior service to our customers, said Dror Noach, CNH vice president logistics EAA International (Europe Asia and Africa).

Given the capacity-constrained RORO market, the new agreement is expected to yield such benefits as:

Improved lead times

Better process controls

Guaranteed vessel space

The CNH and Wallenius Wilhelmsen Logistics relationship began in the 1970s with ocean shipments. It was later expanded to port operations and distribution management in North America and Australia.

Founded in July 1999 as the result of a merger between Wallenius Lines of Sweden and Wilh. Wilhelmsen Lines of Norway, Wallenius Wilhelmsen Lines changed its name in December 2005 to Wallenius Wilhelmsen Logistics. The change reflects the company's expanded service offering, following the integration of several key logistics operations into its business.
